MARINA DE PISA, Italy, May 20.—Beneath the burning Italian sun here beside the blue waters of the Gulf of Leghorn a dozen men of five different nationalities and languages are making the final arrangements for the greatest adventure of their lives, and one which if successful will open the newest and shortest route for commercial transportation between Europe and America.

These men in their three huge, all metal flying boats propose to fly over the top of the world—over the north pole, over arctic bases, and then southward across 1,500 miles of Alaska.

To Spitzbergen First.

Between the sunny shores of Italy and the icy expanses of the Arctic ocean are some 3,000 miles of land and water flying, which is the first hazard of the explorers before they reach the icebound coast of Spitzbergen—their final taking-off place. Supplies and equipment necessary for the construction of this advance base now is en route to Spitzbergen under charge of Capt. Roald Amundsen, who has been at the south pole, and is the brains and restless moving spirit of the present transpolar flight.

Hakon Hammer, right hand man of the Norwegian arctic explorer, arrived in Pisa today to speed up the final work on the flying boats, witness the last trial flights of the machines and the precise work of the three pilots, and organize the personnel of the expedition.

Dawn on June 4 is the hour and day he has set for the departure of the three flying boats from Pisa on their flight across Europe to the arctic circle.

Makeup of Staff.

The principal American representative on the expedition will be Lieut. Ralph Davison, U. S. N., who will pilot the leading plane, from which Capt. Amundsen will make his observations. Two other Americans will chronicle the exploration with pen and camera. Capt. Edward N. Jackson of the New York Daily News will be in charge of the photography, and through an arrangement with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE an opportunity to prepare and transmit the first newspaper dispatches from the north pole has been reserved to the writer.

Lieut. Hjalmer Rileser Larsen, Detrichsen, and Oscar Ombal of the Royal Norwegian navy will alternate at the controls of the second plane, and Sig. Locatelli, pilot and companion of Gabrielle d'Annunzio on the poet's great air adventure over Vienna, has been assigned by Premier Mussolini to command the third machine contributed by the Italian government. Sig. Locatelli is a member of the Italian parliament.

English Official Language.

Including the German, Danish, Norwegian, and Italian mechanics and engineers, the total personnel of the expedition will number about fifteen when it leaves Pisa. By general consent English is accepted as the language commonly employed, although the expedition will fly the Norwegian flag.

The flying boats are of a type called Dornier Wale and are of German exploitation, although their designer is a Frenchman. Their construction in Italy was negotiated by the interallied air control, the regulations of which prevented their manufacture in Germany. The machines have a single wing spread of seventy-five feet, from which is suspended a metal flying bow, housing the crew and fuel tank. A 360 horsepower Rolls Royce engine comprises the power plant, located centrally, operating two propellers. The machines have a fuel capacity for sixteen hours' flying, and are equipped with skiis for ice or snow lands, but have no wheels or landing gear.

Begins in July.

The real polar flight north from Spitzbergen will not commence before the middle of July because Capt. Amundsen believes that period is most favorable, due to the least ice and maximum amount of open water in the polar regions, thereby providing the planes with greater opportunity for the much preferred water landings.

At the pole one plane will transfer fuel to the other two, which will go [illegible] miles southward in the direction of Alaska, where another landing will be made and fuel again transferred to the single plane, which will continue on to its ultimate goal, at a point below Alaska. The two planes left behind will relay communications and then return to Spitzbergen on their reserve fuel.

MAYOR PICKS MEN FOR SCHOOL BOARD SEATS

Four of the five nominations to fill existing vacancies on the school board have been decided upon by Mayor Dever and may be submitted to the council for ratification this afternoon, it was said yesterday. The appointment offered a fifth man may be accepted in time for presentation of his name to the council at the same time, it was indicated.

C. M. Moderwell, wholesale coal merchant and now president of the board; William K. Fellows, architect, and Julius F. Smietanka, banker, are assured of reappointment. Not until late yesterday did Mr. Smietanka finally signify his willingness to accept the post for another term.

Charles T. Byrne, 5021 Drexel boulevard, has been selected for the fourth appointment. Mr. Byrne, now on a world tour, is a former plumbing contractor, now president of the Kokomo Brass company.

Coolidge Tries Chlorine Gas to Dispel Cold

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—President Coolidge, still suffering with a cold symptomatic of "rose fever," today adopted a suggestion made to him by Secretary Weeks by taking the chlorine gas treatment with which army surgeons have been experimenting successfully for some months.

The President sat in an air-tight room at the army dispensary for forty-five minutes while the treatment was being administered and read reports and studied the immigration limitation bill which is before him for consideration.

While he sat in this room Lieut. Col. Mathew A. De Laney of the medical corps, attending surgeon in the District of Columbia, watched the flow of gas. He saw that the President got the full treatment and said afterward that he believed the President's cold would yield to the gas, which had cured stubborn colds of many officials, including Secretary Weeks.

After the President returned to the executive offices he told his secretary, Bascom Slemp, that he was much better and felt greatly exhilarated. All of the depression and lack of energy which accompanies a cold, he said, had disappeared, and he fully expected to be able to attend to all of his duties by tomorrow.

Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, the White House physician, who is of the homeopathic school, accompanied the President to the army dispensary, but did not breathe any of the chlorine gas.

Experimentation on the use of chlorine gas as a cure for respiratory diseases was undertaken by the army medical corps in a serious manner as a result of an important discovery at the Edgewood arsenal in Edgewood, Md., at the time of the influenza epidemic in 1918. It was found that employés of the chlorine plant were practically free from the disease, which was rampant among employés of other divisions of the arsenal.

Beer Load Too Heavy; Horses Rest; Cop Nabs 'Em

Joe Raskey, alleged beer runner, yesterday loaded his wagon so heavily with barrels of the good amber that it took two teams of horses to move it. Even then the chargers got tired and had to rest. They did rest in front of 6238 Cottage Grove avenue, where Policeman John Tracy of the Woodlawn station grew inquisitive and arrested Raskey and confiscated the heavy load, wagon, and double team.

4 SAILORS LOSE LIVES WHEN SHIP SINKS; 14 SAVED

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 20.—[Special.]—The steamer Orinoco, with eighteen men on board, sank in Lake Superior near Montreal island during the big storm Sunday, with a loss of four men of the crew, according to a wireless message received today from the tug Gargantua, which rescued fourteen members of those on the Orinoco.

The Gargantua's radio said that the tug had two bodies on board.

Details of the wrecking of the Orinoco, which was a 225 foot steamer, are not known. The Orinoco was towing the barge Chieftain when the storm came up. Because of the severity of the blow the Orinoco was forced to cast off her tow barge, and the Chieftain drifted to leeward of Montreal island, where it was found today.

The Gargantua first passed through the wreckage of the Orinoco off Pointe aux Mines this morning and made its way toward shore, where fires were seen. The fires proved to be those of the members of the crew who had made their way in lifeboats and rafts from the sinking ship.

OKLAHOMA BANK ROBBERS SEIZED IN CHICAGO FLATS

Earl Webb, wanted for four bank robberies in Oklahoma, was arrested in a flat at 4025 Drexel boulevard early this morning, where he was living with Mrs. Ruby Barger, wife of J. D. Barger, an Oklahoma business man. L. Johnson and Thomas White of the Burns Detective agency had trailed Mrs. Barger to the Drexel avenue address and to the man they sought for the bank robberies.

After Webb's arrest the police surrounded a flat at 3722 Ellis avenue, where they arrested Ralph Deubeaux and his wife, Twyla, as accomplices in the robberies. A large quantity of silver in rolls that was taken from a messenger, recently was found in the possession of Webb.

Webb confessed the robbery of the Collinsville, Okla., State bank, the Tulsa State bank, and the Merchants and Farmers' bank, all of Tulsa. The loot was about $25,000.

LEADERS FIND REDUCTION CAN BE EFFECTED

Agreement Near; No Veto Expected.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Speedy enactment of the pending tax reduction bill into law with the approval of President Coolidge is foreshadowed by unexpected developments today.

With the soldier bonus bill out of the way and the air cleared of propaganda connected therewith, Republican leaders were found united in proclaiming that the demand of the people for tax reduction must be complied with without delay.

Predictions that the tax reduction bill will reach the White House in such shape that President Coolidge will sign it were made by Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee, and by Representative Green [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the house ways and means committee.

Reported Changes in Bill.

It was indicated that the conferees on the tax bill expect to reach a complete agreement, probably tomorrow. While secrecy was maintained as to the details of the agreement it is understood that the Jones tax on undistributed earnings of corporations and the Norris amendment for full publicity of tax returns, both incorporated in the senate bill, will be stricken out.

The inheritance tax provision of the senate bill is to be eliminated, it is understood, in favor of the estate tax provision of the house bill. It is expected that the lower brackets of the Simmons surtax schedule of the senate bill will be accepted with possibly a maximum rate of about the level of the house maximum, which was 37½ per cent.

Say President Will Not Veto.

That the enactment of soldiers' bonus legislation and the prospect of a deficit will not cause the President to veto the bill was the opinion of both Senator Smoot and Representative Green who are in charge of the tax bill in the two houses.

Both Senator Smoot and Representative Green expressed confidence as to what the President's final position will be, notwithstanding a declaration at the White House today that President Coolidge feels that the bonus law will affect tax reduction and reduce the amount of tax saving which will be possible during coming years.

The White House spokesman did not state that the President will veto the pending tax bill.

Forecasting Bonus Effect.

On the contrary, his position as made known was construed in some quarters as not inconsistent with the theory that he would sign the bill with the expectation that within a year or two it might be necessary to impose additional taxes in order to make up the deficit caused by the bonus.

President Coolidge was represented at the White House as being fearful of the economic effect of bonus legislation. As he pointed out in his veto it was his belief that the expenditures contemplated would of course affect tax reduction somewhat this year and much more in the years to come. It would also, according to the President's viewpoint, interfere with the orderly retirement of the public debt.

Smoot Makes Change of Base.

The extra taxes required to finance the bonus, the President holds, will mean that much more productive effort by the taxpayers.

While neither Senator Smoot nor Representative Green disclosed what they believe the final form of the tax bill will be it was apparent that they are of the opinion that the most radical features of the senate bill will be eliminated and that there will not be grounds for a veto because of imposing any additional hardships on taxpayers.

That Senator Smoot should predict the signing of the bill, notwithstanding a prospective deficit of large proportions, caused somewhat of a surprise, as he has been pessimistic about the bill and its effect on revenues. Senator Smoot has been a Mellon plan supporter and his wishes were overridden time and again in the senate.

Year's Delay if Vetoed.

Senator Smoot said that if the bill goes to the President in the form he thinks it will be approved by the conferees he will advise the President

Uncle Sam to Work Fast on Bonus Plans

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Plans to get actual payment of the soldier bonus under way were swinging into high speed tonight, although a temporary setback was experienced when printing of application blanks was held up because at present no funds for the work are available.

Secretary of War Weeks, however, immediately prepared an estimate of administration of the bonus, figuring the cost at about $4,500,000. This was turned over to the budget bureau and it is expected that congress will make the appropriation as soon as a bill calling for it is submitted. This, it is estimated, will be within a week.

To Print 15,000,000 Blanks.

The order for application blanks calls for delivery of 30,000,000 items—15,000,000 blanks and an equal number of instruction books to go with them. Some 500,000 pounds of paper will be used and the printing will take about thirty days.

In the meantime, the war department is urging every one to impress this precaution on the mind of every veteran:

If you don't understand all the details on the blank, don't send in letters of any kind. Get as much accurate information as possible on the blank and let it go at that. Clerks will check up with the war department records—if you send letters they'll just have to check twice.

2,800 New Clerks Necessary.

The estimate of expenses prepared by Secretary Weeks provides for employment of 2,800 new clerks at an average of $1,300 a year to handle paper work alone. In addition there will be thousands of present army and navy clerks assigned to the work.

Something of the task before these clerks may be seen in army records which show that there were 50,300 Smiths wearing the uniform, about 40,000 Johnsons, and as many Joneses and Browns.

Preliminary estimates place nine months as the time required to administer the bonus. This calls for an average of 30,000 applications checked and delivered every day to the Veterans' bureau. The bureau will distribute the bonus.

Legion Explains Exceptions.

In an explanation of exceptions which must be deducted from bonus computations the American Legion tonight issued the following:

"There are certain ranks, grades or commissions held, and duties performed or not performed, during which period a veteran, otherwise eligible, will receive no credit. Days of service in the credit period under the conditions should therefore be deducted in computing the adjusted service credit. These include:

"Any commissioned officer above the grade of captain in the army or marine corps, lieutenant in the navy, first lieutenant or first lieutenant of engineers in the coast guard, or passed assistant surgeon in the public health service or having pay and allowances, if not the rank, of any officer superior in rank to any of such grades—in each case for the period of service as such.

"Any individual entering the military or naval forces after Nov. 11, 1918—for any period after such entrance.

"Any commissioned or warrant officer performing home service not with troops and receiving commutation of quarters or of subsistence—for the period of such service.

"Any member of the public health

Shattering of an alias yesterday revealed Daniel O'Connor, former secretary to William L. O'Connell and a lieutenant of the McAdoo forces in Illinois, as one of the thirty prisoners taken in the raid on the Sieben brewery.

When the McAdoo leaders from midwestern states gathered here last month to put their O. K. on his candidacy and clear him of any oil stains, O'Connor was publicity man at the McAdoo headquarters, passing out the word to the "drys" that McAdoo was their candidate.

On Monday last he was a beer runner, ready to get his load out of the brewery when the police surprised the whole O'Bannion-Torrio beer syndicate.

His Alias Is Casey.

It was O'Connor, regarded as a local factotum among the dry Democrats, who gave the name of James Casey, Tremont hotel, when herded into the cell room of the detective bureau. Government officials established this yesterday. His identity was discerned through a hint given in the "little black book" that contained so many names of the high and the low among the beer and booze gentry, the hi-jackers and the high [illegible] of the low-brews.

A suspicion that the identity of "Casey" might be worth investigating came through the extraordinary efforts made to get the prisoner out on bonds. At 5 o'clock Monday morning he was captured in the yard of the Sieben brewery along with nine trucks and 180 barrels of beer ready for the retail markets.

Out on Bonds Early.

Before noon he was out on bonds, the first of the thirty to be thus released, though Torrio and O'Bannion rank as at least knights of the bootleg era. Attorneys Thomas D. Nash and Michael J. Ahearn, representing all the prisoners, were on the job early with $5,000 cash as security for "Casey's" release.

Nash was once elected alderman through the influence of William L. O'Connell, then county treasurer, at which time "Danny" O'Connor hired and fired the employés of the treasurer's office.

When O'Connell's term as treasurer was over he and the then Senator James Hamilton Lewis still controlled federal patronage in Illinois in the early days of the Volstead law. Through them O'Connor wielded powerful influence.

Stays in Background.

Though known to be a political leader of importance, O'Connor remained in the background, content to rank as O'Connell's lieutenant in chief, and it was not until the McAdoo fight for Illinois delegates began that O'Connor reappeared in the political arena.

The O'Connell-O'Connor forces lost the delegate contest, but both have since been the recognized McAdoo leaders here, and in the event of McAdoo's nomination they have been regarded as the ones who would direct the presidential campaign in Illinois. O'Connor's name heretofore has never been connected with the traffic in 4 per cent beer, and just how he "fitted into" the beer program that was wrecked by police vigilance is one of the several matters the federal authorities are investigating.

Trace Brewery Ownership.

The name of the actual owner or owners of the brewery had not been definitely established, but Capt. William F. Waugh, assistant United States district attorney in charge of the case, said this might soon be determined.

While Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grossman was taking steps to seize the brewery and obtain an injunction to close it for a year, and destroy the machinery, Capt. Waugh was proceeding carefully in pressing the prosecution.

Quiz Police Sergeants.

Meanwhile Deputy Superintendent of Police Matthew Zimmer and government officials were questioning Police Sergeants Robert Foster, Walter Healy, Edwin Walters, William Doran, Joseph Hobbs, and Francis Walsh. All had been assigned to the Stockyards station, in which district is situated the Manhattan brewery at 39th and Emerald avenues, and the six names appeared in the notebook opposite amounts of money.

The authorship of the book was also learned to the satisfaction of Capt. Waugh. An old draft registration card in the name of George Riley Jacobs led to the rearrest of the beer runner who gave his name as George Riley. No sooner had he been brought to the federal building than $10,000 cash bail was sent over for him by Attorneys Nash and Ahearn. This convinced Capt. Waugh he was right in his surmise.

Wants to Consult Lawyers.

"I'll have to talk to my lawyers first and then I'll answer any questions they say I may," was Jacobs' only reply to queries as to whether it was his book. It was assumed that he was the "payoff man" for O'Bannion and Torrio.

Besides the names of the six sergeants and the amounts of money, the memo book contained among others, the following names and numbers:

Al Buhr (a well known runner).

Skinny, Diversey 4068, said to be a former prohibition agent named Wickman.

Dean, Lake View 8850, said to be Dean O'Bannion's Surf street home telephone number.

Joseph Stenson, Central 3843 (Stenson is said to be the financial backer of several breweries).

Torrio, 7011 Clyde avenue, and his New York address, 1413 Shore road, Sheepshead bay.

A number after the name "Army," which was found to be the automobile license number of Brice Armstrong's car.

The names of several retail dealers in beer and booze.

A pay roll account.

Seek George Frank.

Search for George Frank, brewmaster and ostensible owner of the Sieben plant, was unavailing. A warrant was issued for his arrest when records showed that on May 2 he had been denied a renewal of a permit to manufacture near beer.

The six policemen from the Manhattan brewery district all denied receiving money or permitting beer to be removed. The three policemen detailed to prevent trucks from entering the Sieben brewery were arraigned and pleaded not guilty to a charge of conspiracy to allow the beer to be removed.

Bomb Drives Families from Flat Negroes Rented

Nineteen families were driven to the street last night by the explosion of a bomb touched off in a passageway of a double apartment building at 1453-55 Taylor street. Resentment against the invasion of Negroes in the district is believed by the police to have been responsible for the bombing. Twelve colored families recently moved into three of the rear flats in the building. A dozen windows were broken, but no one was hurt.

Bomb Shatters Front of South Side Masonic Temple

A dynamite bomb exploded at 12:10 last night in the doorway of the Grand Crossing Masonic temple, 7443 Ingleside avenue, demolished the facade, and shattered the windows in the building and the vicinity. The damage was said to amount to several thousand dollars. Police of the Englewood station could learn no motive for the bombing.

WATER OXEN END FRENCH AIRMAN'S FLIGHT TO TOKIO

Cause Wreck of Doisy's Plane in Shanghai.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, May 20.—A pair of water buffalo drawing a heavy roller and led by a blue clad coolie caused Capt. Pelletier Doisy, the French flyer, to veer sharply into rough ground when landing at the Shanghai Country club links today, according to a dispatch received by the air ministry.

His airplane was so badly wrecked that the aviator announced he would abandon his flight. Neither the pilot nor the mechanic were hurt. The French government is already trying to get a new plane to the airmen.

The huge, lumbering buffaloes were unable to drag the roller off the green in time to permit the French ace to land. The frightened coolie ran away, abandoning the beasts, when the airplane buzzed overhead.

Doisy Gives Up Flight.

SHANGHAI, May 20.—[By the Associated Press.] — Capt. Pelletier Doisy, who arrived yesterday from Canton on his flight from Paris to Japan, has announced the definite abandonment of his attempt, owing to the damage which his airplane sustained in landing.

Capt. Doisy said: "The war department instructed me on leaving Paris to proceed as far as Hanoi, Indo-China, then to go as far as I might desire with this airplane. Since the airplane is demolished beyond repair, I have decided to terminate the undertaking."

U. S. Flyers Still at Yetorofu.

TOKIO, May 20.—[By Associated Press.]—Garbled messages received yesterday by the Associated Press from Minato, 350 miles north of Tokio, indicated that the American army around the world fliers had arrived there from Yetorofu island, their second landing place in the Kurile islands. Official dispatches to the Japanese navy department today, however, stated that the aviators were still at Yetorofu, where they were detained by stormy weather. The navy department was informed that an attempt would be made to hop off from Yetorofu early this morning if the weather showed signs of becoming favorable.

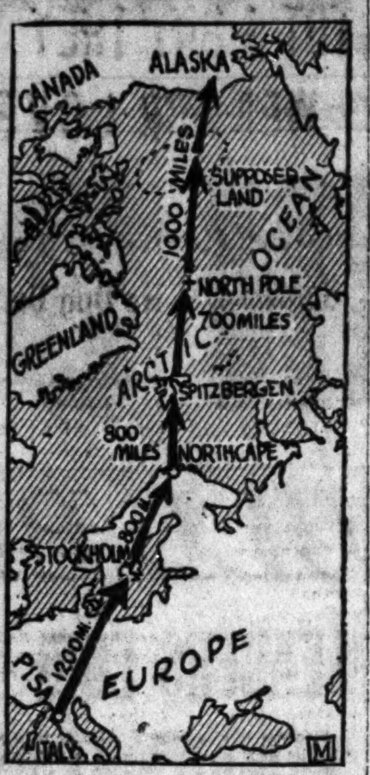
POLAR VENTURE



This map shows the route which Capt. Raold Amundsen will take in his flight over the north pole. The Italian government is aiding him. He hopes to reach Alaska and to discover the supposed land north of there.

MAJ. MARTIN TO VISIT HERE.

Maj. Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States army around the world flyers and who was lost for ten days when his plane was wrecked in Alaska, is expected to arrive here next Wednesday. At the request of Maj. George L. Lee, president of the Adventurers' club, Maj. Martin has been given permission by Secretary of War Weeks to remain here for twenty-four hours while he is honored by the Adventurers' and Army and Navy clubs.

Ex-Official Charges Graft Was Plentiful.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—"We were all stealing," said J. Q. Jett, formerly of the investigation department at the imperial palace of the Ku Klux Klan, to United States senators today in his description of alleged financial high jinks at Atlanta.

Jett is a cheery soul who appears to relish proclaiming himself a villain and who makes the proclamation under oath. He is of a type with which United States senators serving on the Teapot Dome and the Daugherty and Wheeler investigations have lately become familiar, and if familiarity has led to the inevitable sequence of contempt the type none the less continues prevalent and loquacious around the capitol and the senate office building.

Jett a Gabby Witness.

Jett was this day's gabbiest witness before the subcommittee of the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is investigating the Mayfield-Peddy contested election case, in which the Peddyites contend that the Ku Klux Klan spent enormous sums to put Senator Earle B. Mayfield [Dem., Tex.] in the seat which he now occupies.

According to Jett, the klan set a high value on having a klansman in the senate, for the witness swore he heard Dr. Evans, imperial klaliff of Ku Klux Klan, tell Jett's mother-in-law, Mrs. Tyler, "it would be worth $100,000 to bring about the election of a klan senator." Dr. Evans, so the witness said, thought that Texas was the only state from which the klan could send a klansman to Washington.

Jett hails from White Path, Ga. The path his feet have trod has been, he buoyantly acknowledged, devious. He is young, slender, smooth shaven, and the hair of his head is roached. With animation he told about himself things that most men would sooner bite their tongues out than uter about themselves.

Admits Shady Deal.

For example: "I went," said Jett, "to Tampa, Fla., to get an affidavit from a girl whose evidence would, if she was to give a newspaper story out to a reporter—and by the time he would fix it up—look bad on an official. Suppose this. Suppose I went down there and was able to accomplish it for $500 of the $1,800 expense money. Don't you see?"

Senator Neely [Dem., W. Va.] saw. He saw and was extremely withering, as his way is, in his assertion that his vision was clear. For he said, "You mean you grafted $1,300 from somebody?"

Says Stealing Was Common.

"It was well known," he said, "to every official in the Ku Klux Klan, from Col. Simmons down. We were all stealing, in other words, if you want to put it that way."

Whole commonwealths were, according to Jett, turned over to klan rulers for them to batten on. After Col. Simmons was "shipped out," as Jett put it, Evans' turn came.

"Mr. Evans," said the witness, "had been turned over so many states for him to graft on. That was his little graft, eleven states. All the money that came out of eleven states went to Mr. Evans for his participation in different things. The propagation department, under Mr. Clarke and Mrs. Tyler, got the rest of the money, outside of what went to the national organization."

Coming to the Texas issue in the investigation Jett said that Evans in 1922 gave N. N. Furney, klan cashier, "a memorandum for $25,000," to be turned over to a Texas delegation.

Purpose of Donation.

The witness described the purpose of the donation thus:

"To be used to educate the klansmen to write Senator Mayfield's name on the ballots, and to send men to the different little klans—you know there are a lot of little klans in Texas—and tell them you could stamp Senator Mayfield's name in with a rubber stamp. Afterwards we found out they could not do it, and then we had to get some money and send it to Dallas to do what Evans termed to educate klansmen to write the names on the ballots."

At the afternoon sitting of the committee Cashier Furney came on the stand and testified in much detail about klan expenditures.

3D PARTY WRECK OF G. O. P. HINGES UPON DEMOCRATS

La Follette Electoral Limit Put at 34.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—Senator La Follette is still in Atlantic City, recuperating from his illness. Those close to him say that while he is progressing finely, he will not be back in Washington for two or three weeks, and he is still undecided on his candidacy for the presidency.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—If Senator La Follette heads a third party in an effort to deadlock the electoral college his campaign will be aimed to weaken the Republicans and strengthen the Democrats in the midwest.

That's the general political view of the "lowdown" experts from Fargo to Fond du Lac and from Omaha to Oshkosh.

The pure mechanics of the situation make it a wrecking expedition against the G. O. P. from the kickoff. Republican leaders realize it, and Democratic leaders appreciate it.

Third party boosters are working on the assumption that the Republican ticket will have a considerable margin of advantage over the Democratic. At least, such is the prospect as they now view it, the preferential primary series having indicated that Coolidge is stronger than his party in the midwest and that he has not been weakened by the Teapot Dome and other scandals.

Much Depends on Platform.

Much depends on the ticket and platform the Democrats put up, and also on the status of prosperity this summer, and until the national conventions are over the strategy of the Republican-Democrat campaign cannot be worked out.

But the third party groups hold to the theory that out in the west the Republicans will be naturally stronger than the Democrats, and the first aim of a third party movement would be to trim down, so far as possible, the Republican margin. This in order that a few electoral votes might constitute a balance of power.

If La Follette runs he wil have Wisconsin, a strong Republican state in presidential elections which has gone Democratic only twice since the Republican party was founded.

Politicians in all camps concede "Fighting Bob" his own state. This would give him thirteen electoral votes. North Dakota, where La Follette has a strong personal following, is also put in his string. Five more electoral votes, making eighteen. Montana likewise might fall in the La Follette column, with four electoral votes.

Minnesota is doubtful. Republican old timers in the Twin Cities say it will take a terrific battle to overcome La Follette in that state, which has twelve electoral votes.

He May Get 18 to 34 Votes.

These four states, in the opinion of practical politicians, would represent the maximum cut La Follette could get in the electoral college. From eighteen to thirty-four votes are taken as his probable strength in the electoral college, which has a total of 531 votes.

For this to be an actual balance of power that might deadlock the college and toss the election into congress, the race between the two major parties, obviously, would have to be fairly close. In 1916 Wilson had twenty-three more electoral votes than Hughes, which was the closest margin since the Tilden-Hayes contest in 1876. And in 1884 Cleveland beat Blaine by thirty-seven electoral votes. Wilson, in 1916, had only eleven votes more than the required majority of the electoral college, while Cleveland, in 1884, had only eighteen more than was necessary.

If a third party had taken twelve electoral votes from Wilson in 1916 or nineteen votes from Cleveland in 1884 the college would have been deadlocked.

And the aim of the third party boosters is, of course, to make the race between Republicans and Democrats as close as possible, to make the few electoral votes La Follette might get padlock the college.

In Nebraska, which a third party could hardly win, it could easily get votes enough to give the Democrats the state, which is now normally Republican by only about 15,000.

When one talks with La Follette men in Wisconsin they generally ask what effect a third party would have in Illinois. As some of them seem to view it, La Follette as a third candidate would cut into the Republican ticket much more than the Democratic.

Urged in Missouri.

St. Louis, Mo., May 20.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin was advocated for President of the United States by Sheridan Carlisle, president of the National Progressive league, in addressing the Missouri Progressive convention here today.

Carlisle said Senator La Follette was a man "who has a record of thirty years of service for the people, who has fought special privileges, and never compromised nor retreated."

SAVE STREET ITS NAME

Mrs. Joshua Smith (seen with her husband) was born in Chicago eighty-five years ago, so that she considers she has a right to be interested in city affairs. When she and her husband learned that municipal authorities were talking about changing the name of Wood street they were deeply stirred. For the street was named after Mrs. Smith's father, Alonzo Wood, one of Chicago's first settlers. The couple got in touch with city hall leaders, made their protest, and now they have been assured that the street's name will not be changed. Mr. and Mrs. Smith live at 1122 East 90th street. VETERANS: HERE'S HOW TO FIGURE AMOUNT OF BONUS DUE YOU

Washington, D. C., May 20.—A veteran of the world war may determine the amount of his bonus this way:

Figure up the number of days of service. For each day of home service above the first sixty days $1 will be allowed in adjusted service credit and for each day of overseas service above sixty days $1.25 will be given.

If this adjusted service credit doesn't amount to more than $50 it will be paid in cash. Otherwise an insurance policy will be given. The approximate value of this policy may be determined by adding 25 per cent to the amount of credit due and multiplying the total by about 2½.

Thus, if a veteran served 400 days at home after the first sixty days he would be entitled to a policy valued at $400, plus $100 (25 per cent of the amount) multiplied by 2½, or $1,250.

Attention, World War Veterans!

THE TRIBUNE is prepared to give its customary assistance to all world war veterans when applying for their Federal Bonus.

The insurance certificate forms, it is expected, will be ready for distribution about June 1 and will be available at THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service Bureau, 11 South Dearborn street.

Watch THE TRIBUNE for further definite information about what papers or data will be needed to file claims.

HENRY NORTH'S WIFE AGAIN IS ASKING DIVORCE

Desertion Is Charge Against Him.

Henry A. North, millionaire vice president of the Union Special Machine company, yesterday was named, for the second time within a year, as defendant in a suit for divorce filed by his wife, Mrs. Ellen Mathews North, well known in Chicago society circles.

The bill presents charges of desertion. North, it alleges, left his home at 1347 North State street, on May 5, 1922, which indicates that the two year desertion period required by law has but recently elapsed.

The decision no longer to live with his wife occurred in December, 1922, according to Mrs. North's charges, North having returned at that time from a long stay in Europe.

Mrs. North's first divorce bill alleged that her husband had threatened to reduce her allowance from $700 monthly to $500, which she stated was insufficient.

A settlement of this difficulty was arranged out of court, and Mrs. North instructed her attorney, Edward R. Litsinger, to dismiss her bill.

They were married July 16, 1913. Mrs. North has two daughters by a previous marriage, who are Natalie and Helen Smith. They now live with her in the State street residence.

North, a graduate of Yale, is a brother of Francis North of Winnetka, president of the Union Special Machine company.

Among the speakers for the anniversary sessions, which include the mayor, president of the board and superintendent of schools, will be Genevieve Forbes of THE TRIBUNE, Fritz Lieber, the actor, and others who were graduated in the years past.

UNIONS DEMAND JUNIOR HIGH PLAN HEARING

School Committee Grants It and Fixes Time.

Officials of organized labor appeared before the school administration committee of the board of education yesterday and insisted on the board hearing its views of the new junior high schools. Victor Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor, was the spokesman for the labor group.

He poltiely but firmly told the committee that organized labor must be heard. He charged that the junior high system came out of the school plan commission when no one knew what the commission was doing or contemplated. When informed that the board had already adopted the system, he still insisted that an opportunity for his group to present their views should be granted.

Time Set for Hearing.

The committee then set June 3 for a hearing and at the same time they will hear a committee from the teachers' councils, who also requested to be heard.

In the junior high system Mr. Olander sees a class distinction in classifying children into occupations at that age, and likened it to the old German system which took school children at the age of 12 and shunted them into vocational avenues.

"I am not prepared to debate the merits of demerits of the junior high," said Mr. Olander, "but I would think it unwise to bring into our school system any plan that might mean a revival of the German system."

Mr. McAndrew Differs.

Supt. William McAndrew took exception to Mr. Olander's viewpoint, and declared he certainly did not favor any such direction of children.

"The plan is not to place children into grooves from which they cannot emerge later on," explained Mr. McAndrew. "The glory of America is in its democracy, and I would oppose such a system as well as Mr. Olander."

Another defect of the system, Mr. Olander contended, was that the school life of children who intended to start working at he age of 16 would be shortened. Under the junior high plan most children would complete the course at the age of 15, and as they cannot accept employment until they are 16, a year would be spent in idleness, whereas now these children usually take the two year high school course, he pointed out.

FENCING SCHOOL CAN'T OPEN YET—TEACHER PINCHED

Ach! Just as Helmuth Kischel—Baron Kischel von Alcortt, graduate of the universities of Bonn, Heidelberg, Cologne and Jena and a lieutenant in the Prussian guards—was about to open a school to teach Chicago's society fencing, along came the police yesterday and arrested him while he was keeping a date at the public library.

For a year the police have wanted to ask the baron what he did with the funds he collected for the starving German orphans, but he took Fred Pabst's automobile by mistake in Milwaukee and landed in jail there for eighteen months.

He escaped from the prison hospital and came back to Chicago to see Miss Clara Litz, an employé of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, at 4809 North Ravenswood avenue.

The police don't know whether to send him back to Milwaukee, Germany, or New York. Women claim him as their husband in both the latter places.

ALDERMEN VOTE TO KEEP COPS', FIREMEN'S BANDS

"White Wings" Also Triumph.

Ordinances abolishing Chicago's policemen's, firemen's and "white wing's" bands, sponsored by Ald. Oscar Nelson [46th], were disapproved yesterday by the council judiciary committee.

Petitions urging the retention of the musicians were signed by more than 13,000 persons, and many letters came from civic organizations and business men. These protests were presented to the committee by its chairman, Ald. John H. Lyle [17th].

Nelson, a vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, contended that the three bands in their performances forced union musicians out of employment. His ordinance would have prohibited city employés from membership in any orchestra or band, purporting to be an official band of a city department.

Asked Sweeping Control.

No city employé might attend rehearsal of a band or orchestra during regular hours of duty, unless proper deduction from his or her compensation was made, no band of city employés would be permitted to use any insignia, uniform or advertising matter representing itself to be an official band, and no department might permit its band or orchestra to compete or interfere with civilian musicians in their vocation under the terms of Nelson's ordinance.

"To discourage or destroy city bands would be regrettable," William Weil, director of the Chicago band, wrote to the committee. "The postoffice employes have a band and there is no protest from the unions."

Chairman Lyle's attempt to read the numerous protests against the ordinances provoked angry words from Ald. Nelson who declared that Lyle was attempting to smother the measure. Nelson moved to "file" the protests without reading.

Lyle Resents Nelson Move.

"If this committee refuses to hear these letters, I will send them to the mayor and further, I will write every one of these persons and firms who have written us, telling them of your action and enclosing a copy of the roll-call by which you deny them the respect an alderman owes a citizen," Ald. Lyle threatened.

"Your bull-dozing tactics are not going to get any place with me," Ald. Nelson shouted.

Other members of the committee demanded an opportunity to vote on the ordinances and a roll-call revealed only Nelson and Ald. George Seif [35th] in favor of abolishing the bands.

Nerve of Some Children's Stepmothers Seen in Court

When John Cichanski died two months ago he left his two flat building at 2041 Custer street to his wife, Anna. Mrs. Cichanski occupies one flat and her husband's five children by a former marriage the other. On May 1 Mrs. Cichanski raised her stepchildren's rent from $15 to $35 a month. When they refused to pay she started eviction proceedings. Judge Trude yesterday continued the case to May 26.

J. D. Jr. and Some One Else Give 2 Million to School

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Announcement was made tonight of a gift of $1,083,334 by John D. Rockefeller Jr. to the Union Theological seminary of this city. An anonymous contribution of $1,250,000 was also announced.

AT LEAST IN TUT'S DAY THEY WED FOR LOVE

Howard Carter Gives Some Facts He Dug Up.

There was connubial felicity, marital happiness, and genuine affection between husband and wife in those long gone days when Tut-Ankh-Amen was a pharaoh king and Egypt was a land of splendor. Honest, there was. Love of her sovereign was the first duty of a queen, and the monarch was ever true, tender, and solicitous to his betrothed.

So prominent were thoughts of matrimonial bliss in Tut-Ankh-Amen's day of glory that our present marriage ceremony has survived 3,000 years and yet is based upon the keynote of the pharaoh ritual, "with these my worldly goods I thee endow." That phrase was the keynote of Egyptian weddings.

Mr. Carter Brings News.

These and many other heretofore unpublished bits of gossip about King Tut were brought to Chicago yesterday for the first time by Howard Carter, the Egyptologist and co-discoverer with Lord Carnarvon of the tomb and the treasure chambers. Mr. Carer will remain in Chicago the remainder of the week. Tonight and tomorrow night he speaks of his research work fro mthe platform at Orchestra hall.

Egypt in Tut's day was a nation in which women had their importance. To be a king it was necessary to be the husband of the eldest daughter. That's the way Tut got his throne, and, according to Mr. Carter, the monarch was not so important as the powers behind the throne. Tut was a young man when he succumbed, perhaps not more than 25 years old, and, as kings went in those days, he wasn't any Alexander the Great.

The reason Tut's name is placed on the high places is because his tomb was found almost intact, while the biers of other famous pharaohs had fallen to pieces when the Egyptologists made their searches. That and the glories of art found in the tomb.

Brushed His Clothes, Too.

"Throughout the search of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb we find the story of matrimonial happiness," said Mr. Carter. "Almost every picture tells a tale of domestic tranquility. Here the queen is flecking specks of dirt from her husband's garments. Here he is caressing her hand. It's all through the tomb.

"In those days the man, upon approaching marriage, would seal his worldly goods. At the marriage ceremony he would give the key to the seal to his wife and 'with all his worldly goods her endow.' The key was sometimes carried on a ring or made into a ring, and so comes about our wedding ring and our ritual, 'With all my worldly goods I thee endow,' as the bridegroom says when he puts the ring on the finger of his beloved. Also the hole in the end of our modern keys is an echo of the ring that carried the keys to the man's worldly goods in Tut-Ankh-Amen's day. That is one of the most important of our discoveries.

"It is a charming story, a sweet story, that is told in Tut's tomb. Those were days when men and women married for love, when they lived in love and died together and happily."

Mr. Carter was entertained at luncheon yesterday by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

TRACTION TALK NOW IN TENTH 'CRUCIAL STAGE'

Mayor Dever's negotiations with street car officials and banker security holders to municipalize the traction lines have reached another "crucial stage," it was indicated yesterday, after a tenth parley between representatives of the city and companies adjourned to meet again next Saturday morning.

"I expect we will finally agree or disagree at the next meeting," was the mayor's only comment as the conferees left his office.

CULLERTON WINS POINT IN FIGHT AGAINST FOES

Fireman Denies He Got Fund.

Witnesses before the special council committee investigating fire department affairs yesterday were unable to link Fire Commissioner John F. Cullerton with slush fund collections or the sale of high efficiency ratings to firemen seeking promotion in civil service tests.

Cullerton scored early in the hearing when, after heated debate the committee ordered its attorney, R. E. Blackwood, to ignore a transcript of testimony given before the recent special grand jury as well as minute books of the department lieutenants' club in his interrogation of witnesses.

Want Official Opinion.

Corporation Council F. X. Busch's opinion of the admissibility of the grand jury findings in the present quiz or the legality of its use will be sought. The minute books were discarded when Lieut. Adelbert F. White attacked their authenticity, and claimed that a number of entries were fraudulent.

The lieutenant denied that he had presided at a meeting of the lieutenants as recorded in the minute books, where he is alleged to have reported "excellent results" in conference held with aldermen at a Fox Lake summer resort on the pending ordinances to equalize captains' and lieutenants' salaries. His signature on the report is a forgery, White declared. It was to insure passage of these measures that other witnesses have testified they collected or contributed to a $30,000 slush fund, inspired some of them declared by Thomas D. Garry, former chief clerk of the board of election commissioners.

Says He Gave $200.

Lieut. George L. Frank, president of the firemen's association, admitted that he had contributed $200 to the fund, but he was not solicited by Cullerton, nor did he pay Cullerton any money, he insisted. He could not recall who asked him for the money nor to whom he paid it.

"Why did you only give $200 when all the rest gave $250?" asked Attorney Blackwood.

"That was all I had and they took it all," responded Frank.

"Now, isn't it a fact that you paid that $200 directly to Cullerton?" Queried Egan.

"No, it is not," Frank retorted.

Frank was asked by Ald. Charles Eaton to confirm rumors that firemen were forced to bribe city officials or superior officers in order to secure promotions.

ROBEY STREET WIDENING PLAN GIVEN SETBACK

Council Sub Group Votes to Discard It.

Plans sponsored by the Chicago Plan commission contemplating the opening and widening of Robey street into a thoroughfare eighty-six feet wide and sixteen miles long, were discarded by a council local industries, streets and alleys committee sub-group yesterday.

Instead, improvement ordinances providing merely for the cutting through or bridging of existing gaps and maintaining the present sixty-six foot width will be recommended to the full committee, it was decided.

Property Owners Protest.

The major project was vigorously attacked by delegations of property owners, who protested that a widened Robey street is unnecessary because of the recent widening of Western and Ashland avenues, but half a mile away on either side.

To make Robey street eighty-six feet wide between Montrose avenue and Fifty-ninth street would cost approximately $34,233,585, it has been estimated. For this purpose a $9,000,000 bond issue was voted by the people several years ago. Opening the street and building bridges or viaducts where necessary to connect existing stub ends can be accomplished for less than $9,000,000, the subcommittee was told, and an opinion from the city law department holding that the $8,538,560 which remains of the bond issue can be used for the modified plan was given them.

What Plans Provide.

The plans contemplate the cutting through or bridging of Robey street between Diversey parkway and Fullerton avenue, Twenty-ninth and Thirty-first streets, Thirty-ninth and Forty-seventh streets, and Seventy-fourth and Seventy-fifth streets.

"We should take a long-distance view of this situation," declared John R. Noel, president of the Noel State bank, who indicated that he will carry his fight for the plan commission's scheme to the full committee and the council, if necessary.

"We are grateful to our forefathers for laying out wonderful park systems. We should leave a similar heritage by making Robey street wide."

N. D. Students Pledge to Leave Klansmen Alone

South Bend, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—Notre Dame students today pledged themselves to refrain from further rioting with the Ku Klux Klan in South Bend. The declaration of the students followed addresses by Knute K. Rockne, director of athletics, the Rev. Matthew J. Walsh, C. S. C., president of the university, and other officials.

CALM SEAS SEEN AHEAD FOR TAX REDUCTION BILL

Agreement Near; No Veto Expected.

to sign it. He said he would take this position because of a belief that the country is demanding tax reduction, and to veto the bill will prove discouraging to business.

He indicated that the proposed 25 per cent cut in individual income taxes will not satisfy the country, inasmuch as it will not take care of excise taxes which are repealed or reduced in the pending bill and it will leave corporations in a state of uncertainty as to what congress may do next year.

He pointed out that if the bill is vetoed at this time it will be impossible for congress to enact comprehensive tax legislation at the short session next winter and nothing would be done until after March 4, 1925. It would mean a year's delay.

Compensating Features.

That the treasury will not care to sacrifice administrative amendments to the present law which are incorporated in the pending bill also was the opinion of Senator Smoot. Many of these amendments are designed to prevent evasion of taxes and plug up holes in the present law.

While Senator Smoot said that the tax bill is likely to cause a deficit of upwards of $100,000,000 in the fiscal year 1925, not including the bonus expenditures, which are estimated to amount to more than $150,000,000, he seemed of the opinion that the beneficial results from the $500,000,000 tax reduction under the pending bill might outweigh the disadvantages of incurring a deficit. He thought the enactment of the tax bill would so stimulate business as possibly to bring in more than the amount of the deficit in new revenues after it is in operation for a year or two.

House Leader's Estimate.

Representative Green did not concede that there will be any actual deficit under the pending bill, even with bonus legislation. He said that while there might be a paper deficit in the fiscal year 1925, a surplus which will be carried forward from the fiscal year 1924 will wipe it out. This surplus, he said, is likely to be considerably in excess of the amount estimated by the treasury.

He figured a surplus of nearly $200,000,000 even if the 25 per cent retroactive tax cut amounting to $226,000,000 is deducted from the 1924 surplus. The treasury has estimated that the surplus for the fiscal year 1924 will amoun tto $329,000,000, but Mr. Green thinks it will actually exceed $400,000,000 and that there will be nearly $200,000,000 left after the retroactive tax cut is provided.

With respect to the fiscal year 1925 Mr. Green believes that revenues will be greater than estimated by the treasury and that there will be a marked increase in the fiscal year 1926. He expressed the opinion that no actual deficit will develop during the next two years and that congress then can provide new financing methods if necessary.

I. W. A. C. GETS BIG BOOM IN NEW HOME PLAN

2,000 Pack Meeting to Hear of Success.

What started out to be a get-together meeting of the members of the newly organized Illinois Women's Athletic club developed into a huge massmeeting at the Belden hotel last night when more than 2,000 women packed the room to listen to Mrs. Jacob Baur.

The large attendance almost assures the success of the drive launched on Monday to bring the membership of the club to 2,000 before ground is broken for the new clubhouse on June 15.

Outlines Its Purpose.

In a talk illustrated by lantern slides showing interior views of the proposed clubhouse, Mrs. Baur outlined the purposes of the organization, as well as the various features of the $3,000,000 building, which will be the largest and finest ever erected by a woman's organization in this country.

The nine story structure will be erected at Pearson street and Tower court, just west of the old water tower. Besides a swimming pool, one of the largest ballrooms in the city, an open air gymnasium on the top floor, and three floors for resident members, the building will contain shops for women on the first floor. Every convenience will be offered as an inducement to out of town professional and club women to make the club their home while in Chicago.

Seek to Double Membership.

The membership of the club now numbers close to 1,000 ,and an effort is being made by Mrs. Edward R. Fifield, chairman of the campaign committee, and 350 women workers to double this before ground is broken next month. Mrs. M. J. Seifert is president of the club. A buffet supper was served after the meeting last night.

WOMAN SHOOTS AT NEIGHBOR.

Back fence quarreling ended in an alleged attempt to kill yesterday when Mrs. Anna Menna, 737 South Robey street, fired a bullet from a .45 caliber revolver into the home of her neighbor, Mrs. Laura Tait, who, she said, called her names.

NEW ZEALAND SIMPLY TELLS JAPS "KEEP OUT"

American Tourists Point Example to U.S.

In its consideration of the present immigration problem, the United States would do well to take courage from New Zealand and Australia in their policy of resisting alien inroads, advises Dr. Franklin H. Martin, director-general of the American College of Surgeons, 54 East Erie street. Dr. Martin, with Dr. Will Mayo of Rochester, Minn., returned recently from a three months' tour of these islands.

These two countries, isolated enough to make it possible to cultivate a spirit of independence that America might well emulate, have always barred the Japanese from their shores, the doctor pointed out yesterday.

"With them the problem of the exclusion of the yellow races is much more acute than it is with the United States. But they have done it, and we can.

"For if it ever becomes a militant consideration with us, it is an assured fact that Australia, and New Zealand, as well of course as Canada, will be our immediate and active allies"

In addition to this rigid ban on yellow race immigration, the islands, from their beginning, "have refused to mongrelize themselves by unwise intermixture of races."

The eugenically satisfactory outcome of this national insistence of pure stock may be seen in the men, who are physical and mental giants; and in the women, whom Dr. Martin characterizes as "strong, self-reliant, intelligent, and with the wholesomeness of those who live much in the open"

BORAH DEFENDS WHEELER, SCORES G. O. P. SENATORS

"Showdown" Vote to Be Forced on Floor.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Senator Burton K. Wheeler's moral, if not legal, right to hold his seat in "the greatest deliberative body in the world" was made the subject of debate on the floor of the senate today.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, chairman of the committee which investigated the facts in the Wheeler indictment case, made a great plea for his Democratic colleague, with whom he is in geographical, if not political, sympathy.

Senator Thomas Sterling, old guard Republican from South Dakota, who maintains that Senator Wheeler's innocence is a matter that should be determined by a jury, dissented briefly today but will go thoroughly into the subject tomorrow.

"Showdown" Vote Likely.

The issue promises to be a major one in the senate, extending into an attack on the tactics of the Daugherty group of Republicans responsible for the Wheeler indictment. A "showdown" vote probably will be forced by Senator Borah, who announced that as soon as the committee report was disposed of and he was a free and independent senator again he would feel at liberty to speak on "a subject on which he feels very deeply."

The galleries were crowded and Senator Wheeler was in his seat, surrounded by friends, when Senator Borah opened his plea, which was really that of an advocate analyzing evidence. The Democratic side of the chamber was well filled, but the Republicans, who have shown little disposition to back this attack on the "prosecutor" of the Daugherty committee, were conspicuously absent. Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] called attention to this.

Refers to Absent Senators.

"I feel impelled to call attention to the fact that this is a matter gravely affecting the integrity of one of the great executive departments of this government," Senator Borah said in reply to Glass. "Not only does it involve the integrity of a great executive department of this government, but it involves the question, as some of us think, of attempted blackmail of that department through the forms of law.

"Yet, when the chairman of the committee investigating the facts of this matter appears here to present the facts and to argue them, we have on the other side of the chamber not exceeding four members, including that member of the committee who acted as prosecutor of the senator from Montana."

Question to Be Solved.

Returning to the Wheeler testimony, he said:

"The important feature of the investigation appeared from the beginning to be whether Mr. Wheeler had made an agreement with any one one after his election to the senate to perform any service before any of the departments at Washington; secondly, whether regardless of any previous agreement he had received any compensation for the performance of such service.

"Every witness, interested or disinterested who was in a position to know the facts, who helped to make the contract, states emphatically that Wheeler was careful to confine his services to the state courts of Montana.

"I do not know how legal evidence could more thoroughly establish the fact that this was a contract beyond the inhibition of the statute and that Mr. Wheeler observed in good faith the terms of the contract as he understood it.

"There is not a scintilla of testimony here which shows that he ever entered into a contract for or received compensation for any services which he performed before the land office."

MRS. AMBER ALLIS.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—Mrs. Amber Allis, plaintiff in a suit against her brother-in-law, Louis Allis, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margery Norris, for $250,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of Gilbert Allis, her former husband, late today won her case when the jury brought in a verdict for $55,000 in her favor.

The jury award was divided $50,000 compensatory damages and $5,000 punitive damages. The jury answered all six questions of the special verdict in favor of Mrs. Allis, and they apply as against both of the defendants.

In her action Mrs. Allis, former English stage actress, alleged ten members of her former husband's family, by conspiring together, brought about a separation between herself and husband.

CROWE PUSHES FIGHT ON GUN TOTERS' PERMITS

Calls on J. P.'s for Their Full List of O. K.'s.

State's Attorney Crowe threw his strength to Chief Justice John R. Caverly yesterday against "gun toting" by underworld characters who have obtained permits from justices of the peace.

Mr. Crowe directed his assistants, Robert E. McMillan, Bert A. Cronson, and Milton D. Smith, to notify every justice of the peace in the county to appear at the state's attorney's office with a complete list of persons to whom gun permits have been issued.

Several months ago Mr. Crowe started a campaign to check up by letter the issuance of permits. Hundreds of names were submitted for investigation. A large number of permits were revoked.

Justices' Memories Slip.

Many justices, however, failed to forward complete lists. Some forgot names of persons whose character was well known to the police.

Several weeks ago Capt. William Shoemaker arrested "Gimp" Rosenbaum, an ex-convict, and discovered he was carrying a pistol under a permit from Emil Fischer. When notified, Chief Justice Caverly called Fischer and demanded he retract the privilege. Two days ago the judge ordered the revocation of fourteen permits. He also confiscated two weapons from men in his courtroom.

Crowe Orders Assistance.

"I have ordered my men to cooperate with Judge Caverly in every way in cleaning up this terrible situation," Mr. Crowe said.

"We will demand the lists of names of every licensed gun toter in the county and check up on his reputation. If any justice of the peace holds out on my men, then I will get search warrants and go and get the lists."

Judge Caverly pointed out that the Sadler anti-gun toting statute grants justices the right to issue permits to persons of good character. The only action he or Mr. Crowe can take to remedy matters is to demand the revocation of permits carried by persons of bad repute and known gunmen.

NORTHWESTERN CO-ED BOOSTS TRAINING CAMPS

Miss Harriet Gorby, 1211 Main street, Evanston, a freshman at Northwestern university, this afternoon at 3 o'clock will be awarded a wrist watch, first prize in the essay contest on "Why a young man I know should attend a citizens' military training camp." The contest was sponsored by the war department and the Women's Overseas Service league.

The presentation will be made in the office of Charles B. Pike, president of the Military Training Camps association, in the Tower building. Miss Louise Wells, president of the women's service league, will present the watch.

Miss Gorby is one of three winners in the United States. She will go with a special chaperon to Washington to receive another prize from Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

'REAL PACIFISTS ARE YANKS WHO DEFEND NATION'

Vets Swell Ranks of the Legion.

One hundred and five veterans of the world war stood at attention, raised their right hands, and swore to uphold the American Legion and the constitution of the United States last night in North Side Turner hall, as they became legionnaries. The men were initiated into the legion under the auspices of the posts of the sixth district of Cook county.

"This is a fitting answer to a group of women in Chicago who are preaching the cause of pacificism," said Claude L. Foubare, chairman of the meeting and past commander of Harold Taylor post. "This is only a semimonthly meeting of this district of the legion. There are 105 men here, joining the organization that has for its first purpose the upholding of our constitution.

Know Horrors of War.

"Believe me, these men are real pacificists. They know the horrors of war, but they will be the first to answer a call to arms if our nation is threatened, because they love their country."

During the meeting the 500 ex-service men present passed a resolution giving thanks to the Chicago newspapers for their support of the bonus.

"Chicago's newspapers have been most loyal to our cause and we owe a vote of gratitude," the resolution stated. "Without their help and the help of every other patriotic newspaper in America we could not have won the struggle."

Backbone of Nation.

Judge Edgar A. Jonas, a guest at the initiation, made a short address.

"It is a thrilling sight to see men join the legion," he said. "They are soldiers of peace as well as soldiers of war. They are the backbone of our nation. Without them and the things they stand for America would not long survive."

Many prominent ex-service men attended. Among them were Judge Joseph Burke, Frank Kee, head of the "Forty and Eight," Paul M. Kenny, president of the Cook County Association of the Legion, and the commanders of the eight posts in the sixth district.

SECRET SERVICE CHIEF WORKS ON 78TH BIRTHDAY

Capt. Thomas I. Porter, veteran head of the secret service in Chicago, a post he has held for thirty-eight years, celebrated his 78th birthday yesterday by working in his office in the federal building as usual. He received many congratulations during the day—and perhaps there were some in some of the big federal prisons who did not wish him so well, for he has been a terror to counterfeiters, and it is estimated has sent 1,600 to 1,800 men to the penitentiary in his time.

THE BONUS.

Congress has passed the bonus over the President's veto, and this long conflict between legislature and executive is at end for the time. The soldiers are not given what they really wanted. The nation did not give as graciously as it might. Many opponents of the bonus have shown miserable taste and sentiments. We were interested in the moral effect of the bonus and the opposition undoubtedly has helped to depreciate that.

We thought the country could afford to display itself as generous minded towards men to whom it gave the post of honor in time of need. It may have other needs such as the one of 1917 and may need other men. Certainly the equities and the finer sentiments were pro bonus. There is something particularly mean in telling a man he is a hero when he goes to war and then telling him he is an impudent mendicant when he comes back.

We have sympathized with opponents who feared that the effect of the bonus on the financial condition of the country would be injurious even to the men who received the money. We do not believe it will, but an objection based on a sincere desire for general welfare is at least respectable. We have not had that fear. We believe the country can accommodate itself to the necessary payments without any serious disturbance, and even if the country incurred some liabilities in recognizing soldier service it gains assets which are worth while.

The insurance will not satisfy the soldiers as the cash would, but prudent men will know that the policies have increased their financial stability. The man whose wish was for an automobile or for cash to pay his bills has not what he wanted, but the man whose ambition is for a protected family has been helped.

It is not the readjustment THE TRIBUNE favored, but it does help to even up between the men who went into the army and men who went into higher wages and higher profits.

OUR MEXICAN PROBLEM.

We think the case of Mrs. Evans, the American woman whose ranch in Mexico is again in danger of confiscation by local "agrarians" who wish to reap where she and her husband had sown, offers us another hint upon our Mexican relations. Mrs. Evans and her husband went to Mexico seventeen or eighteen years ago and under the laws of Mexico acquired a tract of wild land. Working hard and intelligently and lawfully they made this wild tract a productive and valuable property. Since the revolutionary period began Mrs. Evans, now a widow, has had her property overrun and in danger of confiscation repeatedly, and now we hear that under the government of Gen. Obregon recognized by our government she and her property are again in jeopardy.

We trust Ambassador Warren will act promptly and conclusively for her protection. Her case is typical of the issues that persist in our relations with Mexico. It raises in the simplest but most morally compelling form the question whether Mexico under the present government is able to fulfill its responsibilities as a sovereign, civilized state. If it cannot, our recognition should be withdrawn and practical measures should be taken without delay to bring about a responsible control of Mexican affairs.

We are confident a sound and firm American policy would bring about peace, justice and progress in Mexico without serious, and very likely without any, resort to military pressure. We are confident that Mexican conditions make it impossible for Mexico to achieve continued peace and the fulfillment of international obligations without external aid, and obviously that aid must be ours, for we cannot tolerate European intervention even for that purpose. We are inclined to believe that our intervention eventually must take some such form as the Cuban arrangement. But in the meantime, since this may be politically impracticable in view of academic, sentimental, or uninformed objection in this country, it is to be hoped our state department will act with vigor to the full extent of its opportunities through ordinary or if necessary through special diplomatic channels to enforce American rights and also to bring about the establishment of a government willing and able to respect them.

The recent decision to sell arms to Obregon broke the Huertista revolt, and in spite of the justification or the possibilities of that movement, we believe the decision on the whole was wise. But it was wise only upon the condition that the aid thus given to the Obregon régime is understood by the latter to involve the protection of American rights and interests and the fulfillment of a government's responsibilities. If we have not obtained this assurance our aid has been misplaced and should be withdrawn.

We trust that by giving aid to the forces making for peace and the fulfillment of Mexican responsibilities we may put Mexico on the way to progress and establish relations on a tolerable footing. Mexico needs our capital and our enterprise. The nation cannot escape from chaos or feudal backwardness without them. Our relations cannot be pacified and stabilized unless Mexico does escape from chaos and feudalism. That has been demonstrated during a century of so called independence and pseudo-republicanism. What progress has been achieved in that country has been produced by foreign aid or by foreign pressure. We only prolong an otherwise hopeless case by refusing to adopt a clearly defined, consistent and unyielding policy of control, in some effective form.

ENFORCE THE SPEED LAWS.

Is the speed worth the price? If it were necessary to city existence that automobiles be driven at thirty or thirty-five miles an hour in city streets, we'd have to approach the problem of the death rate in another fashion. We'd have to try inventiveness in protecting the pedestrian from conditions which had to be. This is not the case. It is not required that citizens travel at thirty miles an hour in the streets. Not one in a hundred who do so travel has any important object to gain by doing so, and even if he had such an object it would not weigh against the life of another citizen.

The important object for all the citizens is to keep their lives and physical well-being. The greatest number of deaths from any one preventable cause are automobile deaths, and they are sacrificed to the most trivial of reasons—to the desire of people to go fast when they do not need to.

The city and park authorities could stop most of this by enforcing the law. They are responsible for consequences if they do not.

NORTH AMERICAN RECIPROCITY.

Eventual free trade will be the continental policy of North America. Canada's cut in tariff is a lead towards a limited reciprocity that in time will be complete. Neither Canada nor the United States can afford to build up trade barriers against the other.

An economic entente from Panama to Hudson bay will be the natural outcome of North American development. Economic flexibility, the free shifting of industry, the unrestricted ebb and flow of trade within the United States that has made this country the most prosperous in the world, will become continental in scope. The great pools of natural power in Canada will be industrialized normally. Capital will flow out of the United States northward and southward more freely. Raw materials will flow in. Prices and the cost of living will be more stabilized.

North American reciprocity is the best eventual policy for all countries concerned. Canada's drastic tariff cut at the hands of her progressives is a hopeful sign.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS.

New schools are sure to come from time to time as the world changes; and the rather scattering criticism by some teachers need not deter the execution of Chicago's junior high school plan. Their doubt will die down as the plan is developed, for the so-called 6-3-3 plan is a readjustment to a set of social, economic, and psychological conditions not thought of in older days.

The plan accommodates itself to two factors new in modern life. One is economic, the other psychological. The nature of adolescence and its educational problems have been expertly known only in recent years. That strange renascence of the boy or girl of 12, and the changes for a dozen years or so, are a problem in themselves; and a school for childhood up to puberty is a different matter from a school for adolescents. The junior high school plan adapts itself to this. There are six years for childhood between the age of 6 and 12. There are three years of junior high school for younger adolescents between the age of 12 and 15. Then there are three years of senior high school for those who wish it between the years of 15 and 18.

The grand divisions of human immaturity are recognized in this system. A more accurate specialization either in child psychology or in adolescence can be demanded of the teachers. The curriculum can be better planned to suit the child's mental age.

But the economic factor is hardly less important. Boys leave school too often at 14 or 15. In poorer families they must enter factories as soon as the law allows. In wealthier families they grow restless. They seek a degree of economic independence. They want to go to work. For these boys, along with many girls, the junior high school offers a complete course. They can leave at 15, with some elements of vocational training and with a general education at least rounded to a whole. They come out with an education adjusted in a greater measure to the world in which they will live. For these children who leave as well as for those who stay on in the senior high school and in college the 6-3-3 plan has every advantage.

Junior high schools in Chicago are an overdue adjustment to modern educational needs. In flexibility of management and in service to the people they more than justify themselves. Their extension cannot be too rapid.

Editorial of the Day

[Davenport Daily Times.]

Apologists for Gov. Len Small explain that the "bitter campaign" waged against him by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE caused a reaction on the part of the voter which did more than anything else to renominate him. Since THE TRIBUNE was the leader in the fight against Smallism, its vindication at the polls had been twisted into a rebuff of the great Chicago daily by those seeking to bring discredit upon the paper because it opposed their choice.

In choosing to expose the governor's official acts the Chicago paper did so with a full realization of its consequences. It labored under no delusions that such a campaign would be popular, nor that it would prove profitable. It recognized a public responsibility and met it. It expended a large amount of money to ascertain the facts pertaining to the manner in which the governor used or rather misused public funds. Competent reporters were assigned to investigate the pardons and paroles signed by the executive and to set forth the history of these cases.

All of this afforded information which should have been of value to the electorate. That THE TRIBUNE did not indulge in misrepresentations or untruths would seem to be substantiated by the failure of Mr. Small to bring suit for libel. He failed utterly to explain away the charges set forth by the newspaper, and we suspect that he has no desire to attempt a refutation of them in the courts.

For this service to the state of Illinois THE TRIBUNE is bitterly assailed by the friends of the governor. Without question it suffered a loss in circulation and in other revenues because of its attitude. The failure of its crusade carried to defeat Senator McCormick, a member of THE TRIBUNE family. Those who preside over the destinies of the W. G. N. weighed these consequences, but accepted them rather than countenance an administration it knew to be corrupt.

Those who appreciate courage and high purpose will applaud THE TRIBUNE. It preferred to take the unpopular side, with all that it entailed, rather than to condone gangster rule of the state. It refused to compromise its principles, preferring to go down to defeat. Yet what that paper has done is not unusual in newspaperdom, though it may be contrary to a not uncommon opinion.

THE LAUGH ON HIM.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

DISEASES OF KINGS.

In a series of essays which he calls "Post Mortems," Dr. C. McLaurin gives his diagnosis of the physical and mental diseases of a considerable number of kings, potentates, and other important personages. What is of more interest in this book of intimate gossip, he suggests some ways in which these maladies influenced the history of the world.

Henry VIII. died at 55. In spite of his long list of wives, he left very few children, because he was syphilitic and infected his wives and their children. By Catherine of Aragon he had three syphilitic children who died before birth, one who died shortly after birth, and, finally, a fifth child, Mary, whose head showed her to be a congenital syphilitic. This fifth and last child, eventually queen, died at 42. Henry VIII. had artesio sclerosis, and Mary probably died from kidney or heart disease.

Jeanne d'Arc was mentally disturbed. She died at 19 (or 21).

Charles V. was the son of an insane mother. The Hapsburg chin of Spanish royalty is inherited from Charles. It has characterized the stock for more than four hundred years. Charles was an enormous eater and given to all kinds of excesses. At 30 he developed gout. At 50 he was losing his teeth from pyorrhoea. At 54 he had high blood pressure and intermitten claudication. At 56 he resigned his throne on account of his poor health. McLaren says: "He deliberately ate himself to death. Vast quantities of beef, mutton, venison, ham, and highly flavored sausages went past those toothless jaws, washed down by the richest wines and the heaviest beers. He died of arterio sclerosis, or high blood pressure, with kidney involvement."

Don Juan of Austria, illegitimate son of Charles V., died of typhoid fever with intestinal perforation.

Philip II., son of Charles V., died of diabetic gangrene. He also had gout and arterio sclerosis.

In the entire list written of by McLaurin, Philip, who died at 72, is the only ruler who lived to reach the biblical limitation.

Of Philip he wrote: "What justice could The Netherlands have received from a man tortured and rendered petulant with gout and gloomy with diabetes?"

Of Charles V. he says: "If he had not had arterio sclerosis he would not have abdicated at 56. Had his judgment not been warped by illness he would not have appointed Philip to rule The Netherlands."

When one considers how the lives of Charles and his sons might have been altered had his arteries been carrying a lower blood tension it rather tends to alter the philosophy of history to the medical man. Again, when we consider that the destinies of nations are commonly held in the hands of elderly gentlemen whose blood pressures tend to be too high, owing to their fierce political activities, it is not too much to say that arterio sclerosis is one of the greatest tragedies that affect the human race. Every politician should have his blood pressure tested and his urine examined about once a quarter.

Maybe we should have a laboratory and examining room in the capitol at Washington and also in every state capitol. Perhaps some day we may rate legislation up or down according to the determined mental twists and the diagnosed physical ills of legislators.

ONE AID TO COLD FEET.

Mrs. J. M. writes: I had my feet severely frosted when I was attending the sixth grade of school and suffered agony every winter for the next ten years. My feet would be all right until the first cold spell in winter, and from then until the last thaw of spring was over it was terrible. No one who has not endured it has any idea of the torture.

Then one night I stood in the snow and sleet on a downtown corner for an hour, waiting for a street car, and when it did come it was as cold as ice. After an hour's ride home I could scarcely remove my shoes; they were frozen to my feet. From then on it was agony to walk, even in the office, where I had to put on old shoes unfit for the street, as anything else was torture.

One day our old colored porter, knowing my trouble, told me to have my father get a beef gall and drain the contents into a bottle and use it the same as a liniment on my feet. Well, I had tried everything else and was willing to try once more. (At that, it was not much worse than the kerosene you advise.) So I did as he said, and have not suffered with my feet for twelve years now.

IT IS NOT SERIOUS.

L. C. C. writes: Quite recently my left eye has taken to watering to such an extent that it is both annoying and apparent to all observers. What does this portend and is there a cure?

REPLY.

It is not serious.

The tear canal on that side is too small to drain away the tears. It may need to be enlarged.

NO LEPROSY BY FOOD.

M. P. writes: To settle an argument, will you please let me know if there is any chance of contracting leprosy through eating Chinese food or food cooked by a Chinese?

REPLY.

No.

PEDDLER'S LICENSE.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Under an act of the general assembly of the state of Illinois former soldiers and sailors are allowed to vend or peddle goods or wares free of taxes commonly placed against peddlers. Does a permit issued by the city of Chicago allow any one holding such permit to vend or peddle throughout the entire state of Illinois? If not, can a permit be secured so that an ex-service man who is going from one town to another will not have difficulty with securing permits in different towns? Is peddling from a wagon or vehicle allowed from these permits as long as the vehicle does not stop over a day at a time?

H. A. K.

Section 673 of the cities and villages act in the Smith-Hurd 1923 revised statutes, as amended June 28, 1921, specifies that veterans of the world war may peddle without a license.

Section 674, as amended June 25, 1917, provides that upon presenting a certificate of discharge the city clerk shall issue to any veteran a "license," but such license shall be free.

It is somewhat difficult to determine whether the two sections are intended to stand together, or whether section 673 supersedes section 674.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NO GUNS ALLOWED.

Chicago, May 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Three young men are going on a camping trip and we should like to know if it is against the law for each to carry a gun? Would we need a permit or what is the proper thing to do?

N. L.

If we interpret your questions literally the answer to both is no. If by "gun" we assume you mean a revolver which would be carried as a concealed weapon, such carrying would be a violation of the laws of many states.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 21, 1864.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Grant reports that on the 19th Ewell's corps attempted to turn the Union right but was repulsed by Burney's division and some of Warren's corps. Three hundred rebels were captured and many killed and wounded. The Union loss is 150 killed and missing and 600 wounded.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Sherman reported from Kingston, Ga., that he has pushed a column in pursuit of Johnston as far as Cassville. A desperate battle is expected before Atlanta.

BALTIMORE.—The Evening Transcript, a disloyal paper, was suspended by Gen. Wallace for publishing a statement that the loss of Grant in recent battles was not less than 70,000 and crediting the statement to the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Methodist general conference reappointed the Rev. Dr. T. M. Eddy as editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate at Chicago.

CHICAGO.—The Republican Union county convention named delegates to the state convention and instructed them to vote for the man for governor who "would unite the votes of the loyal people of the state." Gen. Oglesby and Adjt. Gen. Fuller were mentioned as candidates. Perkins Bass, county chairman, called the convention to order, and A. H. Burley presided.

CHICAGO.—Gen. E. W. Gantt of Arkansas, formerly a brigadier general in the rebel army, but who "renounced the accursed cause" and became a Union man, is at the Tremont.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 21, 1899.

FALMOUTH, Eng.—The American line steamer Paris from Southampton via Cherbourg for New York is ashore on the Manacles off the south coast of Cornwall, Eng.

MANILA.—Admiral Dewey sailed for Hongkong on his way to the United States. He believes the war in the Philippines is nearly ended.

PARIS.—Social and artistic celebrities largely composed the brilliant audience that saw Sarah Bernhardt's production of "Hamlet" in her theater in the Place du Chatelet.

MUNICH.—The Post announces that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will be publicly betrothed in Vienna today to "Princess Matilda." There is much speculation about her identity as there are numerous "Princess Matildas."

NEW YORK.—Ferdinand W. Peck, commissioner general of the United States to the Paris exposition of 1900, returned from France. He reports that much has been done in arranging for American exhibits at the fair.

CHICAGO.—Thomas Conant Roney, dean of the faculty and professor of English literature in Armour institute, died of brain fever caused by overwork. He was 43.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 21, 1914.

S. S. VATERLAND.—[By Wireless.]—The Vaterland on its maiden voyage is making a speed record. For twenty-four hours ending at noon yesterday it made 594 miles. It expects to dock in New York at 10 o'clock today.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—Under the peace plan submitted by the A. B. C. arbitrators of the dispute between the United States and Mexico, Huerta, Carranza, and Zapata all must be eliminated from Mexico's affairs.

NEW ORLEANS.—Medill McCormick, newspaper correspondent, sent out of Mexico by Huerta's edict, is among refugees arriving here on the steamer Mexico.

OYSTER BAY.—George W. Perkins and Col. Theodore Roosevelt conferred on the fate of the Progressive party in the next campaign.

SANDWICH, Eng.—Francis Ouimet and Fred Herreshoff were eliminated and now "Chick" Evans and Harold Weber are the only surviving players from the United States in the British amateur golf championship contest.

CHICAGO.—Miss Ruth Carpenter, 1314 Hinman avenue, Evanston, became the bride of James C. Woodley of New York.

CHICAGO.—A new and erratic comet has appeared in the northeastern sky and astronomers throughout the country are closely watching it.

CHICAGO.—Miss Helen Morton, daughter of Mark Morton, started on a mysterious trip to Philadelphia to "visit a sick friend." An automobile party arrived at the station too late to intercept her. "She'll marry that man," her mother commented.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE HERALD OF THE DAY.

When dawn breaks o'er the shad'wy hills
A wildbird of the woodland trills
A joyous melody that fills
The flower-scented vale.
The liquid notes come floating through
Where morning-glories wet with dew
Lift petals of celestial blue
Beside the garden trail.

Aurora makes her morning bow,
And rosy skies are banded now
With orange banners bright.
The pungent peppers down the lane
Intone a sibilant refrain
As when their fronds are swept with rain
From yonder cedared height.

Sweet herald of the radiant day,
Pipe evermore thy roundelay
When flower-starred meads are veiled in gray
And purple canyons sleep.
They never know the magic sky,
Thrilled with thy dulcet rhapsody,
Who, while God's pageant passes by,
Are sunk in slumber deep.

San Fernando Valley, Cal. C. W. A.

HOWARD CARTER, the discoverer of Tut's tomb, arrived in Chicago yesterday and is going to lecture on how he dug Tut out. We will cheerfully send Mayor Dever a ticket. We'd like to have him go to anything that has something about digging in it.

YUMA AND THE OTHER PLACE.

Dear Teacher: Loa says in Saturday's Line, speaking of Arizona, "there isn't even one place hotter." Hist, Loa, hast heard of the man from Yuma? One fine summer day he died and went to Hell (being from Yuma he wanted to go to some nice, warm place), and, why say, he had to come back for his overcoat! E. C. B.

AND while he was running around Yuma, shaking the mothballs off his overcoat, his friends asked him if it wasn't awful hot down where he had gone and he said, "Yes, but you don't mind it; there's no humidity."

Oh Dear, Dear!

R. H. L.: One of your contribs wants to know what becomes of the dirt that the chickens dig up in Oak Park. Why! the newspapers print it.

LILLIAN P. W.

SNOWSHOE AL TALKS ON FISHIN'.

R. H. L.: In reply to my crickets will say I didn't learn fishin' frum no book. I started fishin' at the age uv 3 on the Vermillion river at Streator, Illernoy. There aint nuthin' but carp in the Vermillion, an' they is so big they can't swim an' so heavy yuh coodn't pull wun out if yuh cot it. The favorit method is ter go in after wun an' kick him ter deth an' then bring him out in a small wagon. Later on I tried Pistakee Bay. The only thing I don't like about Pistakee Bay is everything. Afterwerds, I hung around Soggertuk, Mish, where the orchestras still play "after the ball is over." An' I know a swell spot up neer Iron River, Mish, where yuh kin cast fer trout if yuh kin find enuff room amung the half-pint bottles floatin' by. Sum day I'm goin' down ter Burlington, Ioway, an' fish fer Misisipi catfish with Will Reilly. But my favorit plase is way up on the Vermillion, where yuh kin sit alongside a little fire at nite wen its so still yuh kin heer yer eyes blink, an' lissen ter the sad, far away call uv the timber wolf, an' watch the fire lite dance back an' forth on the big gloomy objects wich bekum trees egen at day-break.

SNOWSHOE AL.

Hope On, Hope Ever.

R. H. L.: I feel much better after seeing that Gen. Charles King was just cited for bravery against the Apaches in 1874. Maybe I will yet make the Line. C. O. G.

FLAME OF LOVE.

Oh! tend your flame of love with care,
And feed it many a kiss,
And loving little words and smiles,
And dreams of coming bliss.
For love, like any other fire,
Will burn itself away,
Unless you feed it well with fuel,
And kindle it each day.

MARJORIE F. W.

CAL says the bonus is immoral. Oh, Calvin, how can you! Why, even Wall street wouldn't say it was any more than murder in the second degree.

REGARDING MR. MENCKEN.

R. H. L.: Say, I'm horrified that any red-blooded, two-fisted American doesn't know the Sage of Baltimore. He's the fellow who wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner," "The Man Without a Country," and "The Stars and Stripes Forever." He was the first man to enlist in the American army that helped chase Willie to Doorn, he started the "get Bergdoll" fund, under an alias (Betsy Ross) he created the American flag, he fired the well known shot at Concord bridge, led Paul Revere's horse, is national commander of the American Legion, and the author of that famous pleasantry, "My country, right or wrong. . . ." What's this land of the free coming to when there breathes a man with soul so dead he doesn't know the Sage of Baltimore?

SCARRON.

'TWAS WHEN HE SAID GOOD-BY.

R. H. L.: No, no, they're all wrong. I was riding on the camel at the time and what the farmer said was: "Well, don't take any wooden nickels."

NEMO.

HORACE WADE, the boy reporter, said in his story of "Fathers and Sons" night at the Credit Men's association dinner at the La Salle Monday night that we made a short address in which we "emphasized the father's duty to the boy." Horace is getting to be a regular reporter; he beat it a half hour before the speeches began. You wrote a bully story, Horace, but the sad truth is that we are an old bachelor and so we do not tell parents how to rear their young. We fear to do anything like that, Horace; we fear what is commonly known as the good old raspberry.

What! Would You Have Paris Torn Down?

R. H. L.: In view of recent French action toward our Rugby team in France, would suggest we send Eckersall's All-American football team to play the whole man power of France. G. A. R.

A MAN who committed suicide in Los Angeles left a note saying that his reason was that he had lost his sense of humor. He probably caught himself saying, "Isn't our climate wonderful!"

Great! We'll Take Our Vacation There.

R. H. L.: I'm crazy about you and the Line, Richard! But when it comes to the question of pacifism, I think you're cuckoo. If you are so very eager to fight all the time, why don't you go to Mexico?

SASEGO.

"THE NEWSPAPERS here expect a riot," said Jane Addams of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. "There will be none. We are not that sort."

AH, JANE, you and the girls go ahead and riot, pretty please!

HANKE IS WILLING TO PAY HIS SHARE.

Chicago, May 17.—Ex-Gov. Stokes of New Jersey wrote April 28, 1924, to the Wall Street Journal, "Men who indulge in these practices [selling stocks short] are no better ethically than men who set fire to your property. Both are destroyers and both are enemies to the country at large. . . . It is such tactics as these that make Socialists and radicals, against whom Wall street inveighs."

Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the New York stock exchange, says May 13, 1924. "Short selling is justified ethically, legally, and practically. Every attempt to artificially restrict short selling by legislation has resulted in repeal or practical disregard of the laws by which it was sought to be accomplished."

Now comes Calvin Coolidge, May 15, vetoing soldiers' bonus bill, saying it is "economically unsound and morally unjust," and much more "bunk" about "patriotism," "physically well," "and financially able," "our country cannot afford it," and "American principles."

I am not one of America's rich men, but I can afford to pay a bonus, and do not feel it any more economically unsound or morally unjust to pay it than selling 100 shares of U. S. Steel short right now at 97.

RICHARD HANKE,

WELL, WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH FRANCE?

Chicago, May 15.—Isn't it enough to make an American's blood boil to think of some French official at this late hour questioning our record breaker's style of jumping?

What is the matter with France, anyway? Can she produce an equal to Osborne?

If we should disqualify Paddock Osborne, and a few others, would honor go where honor is due in the big event?

When we have as good as the world can furnish, let's give them a chance to help carry the bacon home.

E. WILSON.

THREE SINS OF THE S. P. C.

Chicago, May 9.—The south park commissioners are guilty of three sins of omission [at the very least] in the handling of their W. C. E. heritage: the Columbus caravels, which they allowed to go to wreck and finally restored one; the monumental and useful German building, which is now, I believe, a candidate for the wrecking crew; and the surpassingly beautiful but unsubstantial art palace, built upon the sand, which they foolishly propose to "restore" as a convention hall.

I'd like to tell the boss, if permitted, that his editorial of Friday on "The Future America" was pretty blamed good [though he does hog the space], and RHL on Mothers' day wasn't as bad as usual. Thank you.

JOHN T. BRAMHALL.

M. Y. O. B.

Chicago, May 16.—Why the disrespect? If Martin Taylor has a wife, mother, or sister over 40, would he like to have them spoken of as "old hens"?

Why the increasing disrespect of man toward woman?

I hardly believe the women of the U. S. A. over 40 years of age have asked Mr. Taylor for advice on the style of their hair dressing.

M. Y. O. B. is a very good policy.

OVER FORTY.

IT SEEMS L. C. HAD A PATENT ON PEACE.

Chicago, May 16.—I wish to heartily congratulate you to the John McCutcheon cartoon regarding pacifists and war, appearing on the first page of today's paper. It is not only an inspiration but absolutely an exact illustrated reproduction of one of the chief points of my peace plan, "How America can easily and quickly prevent wars forever without the necessity of a league of nations of a world court, of treaties of alliance, of entanglements of any sort on the part of the United States itself with the nations of Europe and with the nations of other parts of the world; without the necessity of insisting on the Monroe Doctrine; and even without the necessity of eliminating the causes of wars, based upon my conception only the abolition of neutrality can quickly and forever prevent wars."

I am so very glad that you recognize in such a conspicuous way the potential efficacy of my peace plan, which is the very opposite of all other peace plans; but at the same time I am surprised that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, instead of publishing and indorsing my original peace plan, prefers to reproduce it in part under a disguised form.

With thanks, and my best regards, I am.

LUIGI CARNOVALE.

NASAHL WANTS THEIR TONGUES CUT OUT.

Chicago, May 16.—I wish to congratulate you on your editorial, "Churches in Government," which I read in this morning's edition and with which I was inexpressibly pleased.

It is indeed a blessing to the country and every fair, sound minded, peace loving American that we are so fortunate in having our opinions so logically voiced through our newspapers against these despicable, notoriety seeking pastors and pacifists, who, for the sake of politics, would place the national defense of the country in utter destruction and send us to complete ruin and damnation through their foolhardiness. These people, in my mind, are the most despicable hypocrites the world has ever known, and I firmly believe they should have their tongues cut out and be horsewhipped.

C. E. NASAHL, Ex-Service Man.

BOSTON, A GOOD PLACE TO DIE.

Chicago, May 14.—In answer to an article in the W. G. N. on this date [I refer to Secretary Davis in where he quotes the President as being a friend of labor], would say right now that it is all bunk. I happen to be a native of the city of Boston and was there at the time of the police strike. I knew the detail concerning this strike and I would say they got a pretty raw deal. While I in no way favor the police because I hated their guts for they were a bulldozing lot and made the city a good place to die.

It must be remembered that the President is a Yankee and a farmer and it is a well known fact that they are naturally opposed to organized labor. The members of the union which cheered Secretary Davis for this bunk which he flung back at them should be severely penalized.

MANUFACTURERS · IMPORTERS · WHOLESALERS · RETAILERS

Retail Store · State, Washington, Randolph and Wabash

SEEKING always the best in merchandise it is the constant practice of our great buying organization to seek to know beyond all doubt what really constitutes the best.

What manufacturer, anywhere in the world, is supreme in his line? What materials are best? What processes are the best? Wherein might the best be improved? Who is the highest authority in the world on this or that subject? What do all such authorities know? How do they know it? How can we gain that knowledge? How can we embody it in the merchandise? This policy gives to the merchandise of Marshall Field & Company a character that may be readily recognized as distinctly superior.

EXCELLENT special purchases and very close marking of many of our favorite makes have enabled us to offer beautiful brocades and fancy satins at far lower prices than are usual even in special sellings.

Second is pictured a Corsette, fastening at the side, for the average figure. Of pink silk broche with four mercerized machine-woven elastic gores. Its brassiere-top of handsome lace is net-lined. $7.

THIRD, a 16-inch pink silk broche Girdle combined with four sections of fancy imported hand-woven elastic, giving a very flat back effect. $10. With this Girdle is a diaphragm Brassiere of blocked satin with pink silk tricot at the bust line. $2.75.

Fourth, a Corsette with side fastening for the woman of larger proportions. Of attractive broche, boned to flatten the back and diaphragm. $3.75.

Of Firm Lace with Satin Band, $3.50

N. U.'s Queen of May Also Must Have Brains

Northwestern university's committee of the Woman's Self-Government association this year seeks "brains" in determining who shall be the Queen of May. Beauty alone has won the honor in other years, but this year intellect, loyalty to the school, democracy of spirit and other requisites are demanded. Four girls—the Misses Mary Ralston, Rockford, Ill.; Harriett B. Nerbovig, Mankato, Minn., and Emily Watt and Helen Nash of Evanston—are being considered.

OBITUARY.

John H. Rich, Agent of 9th Federal Reserve Bank, Dies

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—John H. Rich, chariman of the board of directors and agent of the Ninth Federal Reserve bank here, died at his home today after an illness of nearly four months.

CHARLES GLENNON, 3900 Dakin street, Democratic presidential elector, ex-county commissioner and president of the Master Steamfitters' association, died of heart disease late yesterday afternoon in St. Anne's hospital. Funeral services Friday at 9:30 a. m. from St. Viator's church. Interment will be at St. Joseph's cemetery. Mr. Glennon was 52. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Adelaine Glennon, and five children, Kathleen, James, Raymond, Jeanne, and John.

Talk Piques Elmer When Organ Plays

After Which Everything Is Solos.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

An organ, a large, broad toned organ in a large hall, evidently—here and there piping notes in the upper register—voices, human voices laughing (why this desecration during an organ recital?—what in the dickens is this, anyhow?)—it's only 6:15, and the dials at WMAQ—"Arthur Gutaw playing the organ direct from the Chicago theater."

With that mystery cleared up, went over to WLS—an orchestral medley of old time airs. Real stuff! We don't hear those old time airs in Chicago as often as we might. They make a fellow a little homesick, perhaps, but they have a patriotic effect all their own.

Expected to get a good kick out of University of Chicago's Black Friars at WLS, but didn't. They didn't tell us how the boys dress up to look like girls, or anything. Black Friars shows are all right, but there are no real girls there, only painted up imitations.

Hilda Butler Farr's group of songs by G. Rossetter Cole were appreciated for three reasons—well sung, good songs, and an American composer. Station KYW.

While waiting for Ramon Blondi to tune up his violin at W-G-N at 8:50, "Sen" should have turned the microphone loose on those "300 young sorority folks" in the Edgewater Beach hotel dining room for a song. "We Have no Blues Tonight," or something.

Mr. Bondi is a fine violinist, and Bess Ferguson a fine soprano, but I wanted some real big volume stuff after Monday night's deafening roar.

Over to WLS—at 11:15—solos.
WDAP—Solos.
KYW—Silent.
Silence.

HAMMER SLAYER STILL MYSTERY IN BURKS CASE

Six suspects were being held last night by the police in connection with the murder of James R. Burks, drug addict, who was found slain with a hammer late Monday in the rooming house he owned at 1921 Sedgwick street. The latest theory advanced by the police is that Burks was killed in an argument with a "dope" peddler. The slayer is also believed to have robbed him.

Of the suspects held the police attach most importance to James R. Marks, a chauffeur, and his wife, Margaret, who have told several conflicting stories.

Adolf Kraus Denies Truth of Schultz Narrative

A cablegram from Sigrid Schultz, THE TRIBUNE's Berlin correspondent, published on Monday, has brought a response from Adolf Kraus, president of the B'nai B'rith.

"Miss Schultz cables that the former kaiser has joined the Fascisti and that he presents his guests with copies of the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion,' and that Gen. Ludendorff states that the Jews lost the war for Germany," said Mr. Kraus. "The London Times, after extensive investigation, proved in an article published as far back as 1921 that the so-called 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion' were a forgery. Ludendorff's alleged statement and the circulation of the 'Protocols of the Elders of Zion' can only be used in an appeal to the narrow minded and ignorant.

"Any one familiar with the Jew knows that he lacks nothing in patriotism, that he has achieved fame and success in science, in art, in letters and commerce, and that he is loyal to the country under whose protecting flag he lives."

PACIFISTS TURN TO SOCIALISTS FOR THEIR GUIDES

Want Russia Admitted to Nations' League.

BY MAURINE WATKINS.

The peace school of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom shifted into "high" yesterday.

They deserted the realms of Plato and Goethe for present day facts, and their phraseology, at least, became a trifle more—colorful—as they talked of "socialism," "communism," and "the third internationale."

"Freedom" and "opportunity for the individual" were the watchwords of the morning lectures. And the afternoon was devoted to the international aspects of labor and conditions in the Ruhr.

Look Toward Socialism.

"The Women's International League has greater hope along socialistic lines than along communistic," said Madame Corr Ramondt, the forceful representative from Holland. She is one of the original members of the 1915 committee of the league.

"For organized labor is peace loving and the third internationale believes in force," she said. She favors: Revision of the Versailles treaty, evacuation of the Ruhr, "true reparation," recognition of the soviet government, admission of Germany and Russia into the league of nations.

"Those are," she said, "the foreign policy of the Socialist party in Europe, and almost the program of the Women's International league."

Discusses Ruhr Occupation.

Fraulein H. Wimmer, with a precise German accent, gave a vivid description of "the cruel war in the Ruhr."

"I call it 'war,' though it is more cruel than what we generally understand, as it means the slow starvation of millions. And those not responsible have suffered the most—the workers."

She gave a brief history of the Krupp works at Essen, where were employed over 171,000 men and women until the armistice. The force is now reduced to 40,000. Instead of guns the Krupps make everything from thrashing machines to cream separators. The Workers' council had obtained an eight hour day for the men, but with the French occupation that was increased to a fifty-four hour week for heavy labor, and fifty-nine hours for other. Continuous industries have two shifts of twelve hours each.

When Resistance Is Moral.

Mme. Beskow of Sweden, a smiling blonde with brilliant blue eyes, commented on the beautifully moral pacifistic resistance of the laborers.

"We pacifists know the moral courage it takes to be a pacifist in Germany," she said, "and there is great danger of increasing the hatred if this occupation is prolonged."

About 200 women—delegates, local members of the league and students—are in regular attendance at the lectures. The principal applause yesterday greeted Fraulein Wimmer when she said:

"The crime of 1914 must not be repeated. We have learned and will not be fooled in the future."

BROADCAST SONG OF NIGHTINGALE ON LONDON RADIO

LONDON, May 20.—A nightingale sang in a moonlit Surrey thicket last night and all England heard the song. More than a million radio fans in all parts of the country "listened in" as the clear notes of the feathered songster, entirely unaware of its share in the most remarkable radio concert ever held, were caught in a microphone and carried by land line to London, whence they were broadcast.

It is planned to repeat the concert next week, if the nightingale will sing, and it is hoped that radio fans of the United States may hear.

The scene at Oxted, near which the experiment took place, was remarkable. Several nightingales had been coaxed to a thicket, where they were accustomed to nest. A microphone had been concealed in a bush.

Tiptoeing softly about the garden, near where the little songsters were nesting, Miss Beatrice Harrison played several soft notes on a cello.

Suddenly the nightingale's clear song burst on the moonlit air. The cello accompanied it for a few minutes, then ceased, and the nightingale sang on alone.

Jazz bands were stilled throughout the country and all other broadcasting stations ceased operations while every one tuned in to catch the song.

Do You Want to Get By Big?

The first published manuscript of ELISABETH COBB
Daughter of Irvin S. Cobb, America's Famous Humorist

Do you know what it means to "crash a party"? Do you know what a "little wambi" is? A "necker"? A "prom trotter"? Choosing the American flapper's slang as her subject, Miss Cobb reflects the fine quality of humor of her celebrated father, and gives a vivid interpretation of the snappy "tea party" lingo as chattered in Broadway's smart cafes. Don't miss it!

SAFETY SPEED LAW ON BOOKS, NOT ON ROADS

"Law of Step On It" Is Better Observed.

If you are talking about the statutory speed limit of 20 miles an hour, of course, nine out of ten motorists were breaking it every time there was a clear stretch ahead on the west park boulevards and the west and southwest sides yesterday.

If, however, it is the speed limit of common consent—somewhere between 25 and 30 miles an hour—then, perhaps it was the balmy weather and the sunshine which kept 99 out of 100 drivers within the maximum.

Besides, Life Is Too Short.

To record the ones who traveled between 20 and 25 miles an hour, as the observers started west on Washington boulevard, would take columns.

No. 718-723, a coupe, possessed a driver who believed in going a few miles faster. Between Racine avenue and Union park he touched 30 miles an hour and a bit over.

All went well until Kedzie avenue was reached. There a driver in a hurry nosed his car—

No. 444-121, a sedan—over the curb line into the boulevard, and succeeded in giving a scare to several westbound travelers. He seemed somewhat insulted at the result.

The observers' route led to Garfield park, then north along North Central Park avenue. On the turn west into Grand avenue a two ton speed truck—

No. 40-228—breezed by and struck a gait of twenty-nine miles an hour as far as Crawford avenue.

North avenue came next, then Austin avenue as far as Washington, then Garfield park and a turn south to Douglas park. It was in Douglas park that

No. 239-096, a light touring car with a lone driver, was picked up. He did around twenty-seven miles an hour through the park and on south along South Western boulevard.

Spins Along Archer Avenue.

Archer avenue had hardly been reached when a man in a sedan came bowling along and did twenty-nine miles an hour southwest on Archer as far as Francisco avenue. His license read

No. 81-302. At Kedzie avenue the observers turned south, in behind a street car. As they got under way in the wake of the car a laundry truck—

No. 86-559—shot past on the left hand side of the street and passed the street car on the wrong side. Kedzie avenue to 47th street was productive only of slow driving.

Forty-seventh street west to South Western boulevard proved no better hunting ground. Twenty-five miles an hour was the fastest on 31st boulevard, west again, and on California avenue north to Ogden avenue. Then

No. 63-031 came into sight. A woman was at the wheel of the light sedan, another woman beside her, and a man and woman were on the back seat. They struck a smart pace and hit thirty miles an hour several times between California avenue and Western avenue.

It was not until Ashland and Jackson boulevards that a taxicab—

No. 302-369—came into view. The driver was hurrying two passengers toward the loop and struck off at twenty-eight and twenty-nine miles an hour as far as Racine avenue.

A light delivery truck came north on Dearborn street last night at about 5:05 o'clock. It ran twenty-five or a little better. At Randolph street the squeal of its brakes and a muffled scream sounded almost together as the truck missed a young woman by a few inches.

G. Melville Smith, 672 Rush street, spoke to the driver. Thereupon traffic cop 4069 called out:

"Mind your own business; whose fault was it, anyway?"

As the frightened woman approached the tall, handsome cop he soothed her with this:

"Say, there, wake up and keep awake."

The driver of the truck had sped on without official rebuke, and the woman slipped away.

MRS. HELEN BROWN.
[Walinger Photo]

The Rev. Hans P. Bergh, 78, a retired clergyman, died in St. Elizabeth's hospital. He was struck on May 8 while at Irving Park boulevard and Hamlin avenue by a speeding "vampire" automobile. Police since have made a vain search for its driver. Mr. Bergh's home was at 3922 North Kedzie avenue.

Killed on Michigan Avenue.

The second fatality on Michigan boulevard since the installation of the new traffic towers occurred yesterday. Mrs. Helen Brown, 23, 1824 Belle Plaine avenue, was struck while at Monroe street and almost instantly killed. She died a few minutes after being taken to St. Luke's hospital. The driver, Alexander Hoyer, 2659 Ballou street, who declared traffic had been congested, was held at the central police station. Many loop workers witnessed the accident.

Another victim of a "vampire" automobile, the fourth in three days, was George Robinson, 55, 3559 Lexington street, who died at the county hospital of injuries received Monday while in front of 1251 West Roosevelt road. Witnesses told the police the automobile, a blue touring car, contained two men and was driven away at high speed.

Samuel Newmark, 60, of 335 South Central Park avenue, died last night at the Columbus hospital from injuries received when struck by an automobile while at Washington boulevard and North Central Park avenue, May 14. The auto was driven by Ernest Goodell, 1824 West Monroe street, who was released by the Fillmore police at the time of the accident.

Mob Beats Auto Driver.

A mob of angry men and women yesterday set upon Jerry Pratt, colored, 28, who tried to escape in his automobile after it had severely injured two men. Police rescued the driver after he had been knocked down and severely pummelled.

The two injured men, I. Gustafson, 2710 North Artesian avenue, and E. Coakley, 4902 Gladys avenue, were climbing from a manhole at Canalport avenue and 21st street, in which they had been working, when they were knocked down by Pratt's car.

Finally the police arrived and dispersed the crowd with their clubs. Pratt, his face bruised and bleeding, was arrested and charged with a deadly assault and with attempting an escape.

Rollin Hansen, 6537 Lakewood avenue, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Frank T. Sullivan in Speeders' court on a charge of driving while intoxicated. His automobile on Monday crashed into a parked automobile.

COOLIDGE BACKS WORLD COURT, HE TELLS SENATORS

Washington, D. C., May 20.—Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee were told by President Coolidge at the White House conference tonight that his position with reference to the world court question was the same as indicated in his message on the subject and in various statements since made.

The conference was described as primarily for the purpose of ascertaining ways and means of giving effect to the President's recommendation for American adherence to the permanent court of international justice.

It was attended by Chairman Lodge and Senators Brandegee [Conn.], Moses [N. H.], Wadsworth [N. Y.], Pepper [Pa.], and Lenroot [Wis.]. Senators McCormick [Ill.] and Willis [O.], also members of the committee, were absent from the capital, and Senator Borah [Idaho], although in Washington, did not attend. The absence of Senator Borah was declared by the other senators not to be significant, as he had been consulted and his views ascertained by those who met with the President.

The meeting between the President and the Republican members was preliminary to a session of the full foreign relations committee tomorrow, at which the question of action on American world court membership will be discussed for the first time during the present session of congress.

NAVY IS TO ASK $150,000,000 TO GET UP TO 5-5-3

Washington, D. C., May 20.—At least $150,000,000 must be expended if the American navy is to equal Great Britain's in strength, the house was told today by Chairman Butler of the naval committee.

Before the close of the present session, he said, action will be sought on a bill designed to establish, so far as the United States is concerned, the 5-5-3 arms conference ratio.

Mr. Butler declared the present actual comparative strength of the navies of Great Britain, the United States, and Japan is 5, a fraction over 4, and 3.

Construction of eight fast cruisers, to be completed by 1930 at an estimated cost of $15,000,000 each, and of six gunboats for use in Chinese waters, conversion of six battleships from coal to oil burners and their reconditioning in other respects, and increased elevation of guns on thirteen battleships will be proposed to strengthen the navy.

RADICAL CLUB AT HARVARD WHEN FOES ORGANIZE

Cambridge, Mass., May 20.—[Special.]—Incensed at news that sixty national organizations, headed by the American Legion, are banding to suppress radical thought, Harvard undergraduates, at a meeting today, decided to form a Harvard radical club to be known as "The Left Wing."

Original thought on national and world problems will be the keynote of the new organization. Its sponsors say politics will not form any part of its activity. Communists and all other radicals will be asked to join, provided they are sincere in their belief.

AIR CONCESSIONS IN LATIN LANDS MENACE CANAL

U. S. Urged to Forestall Foreign Powers.

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—This country is likely to wake up some morning soon and find that what might become its greatest assurance of peace and insurance against war has been snatched away during a night of pacifist and no defense chatter.

Industries of four nations—Japan, France, Italy, and Germany—now are seeking aviation concessions in Central America, which, army and navy chiefs declare, would leave the Panama canal defenseless in time of war against the nation controlling the air to the south of it.

Safety Rests in Aviation Aid.

Thus, though it sounds grotesque at first to say our national safety hinges in part on development of Central America's aviation, that is what military men who have studied the question maintain. They are convinced that if this country will extend its air mail to Central America and help the nations there develop air possibilities these three birds would be killed with one stone:

1. It would be impossible for any nation successfully to attack the canal from the air because our peace time aviation development would give us air bases and an air industry quickly convertible to war needs.

2. It might even prevent war with any Asiatic nation, for our air position would make attack futile.

3. It would create great peace time advantages for Central, South, and North America, linking the three by air, creating closer business friendship and stimulating trade.

Some Ask Uncle Sam's Help.

The United States, it is believed, would have the chance to develop Central American aviation for the asking. Guatemala already has asked us to step in, Nicaragua has indicated unofficially a similar desire. Other nations are reported officially to be holding off from offers of foreign concerns in the hope that America will act—but they cannot hold off forever.

The Tribune, which editorially advocated extension of air mail service to our Latin-American neighbors, asked opinions from officials of the three divisions interested—air mail service, army air service, and navy air service. This statement came from Rear Admiral William A. Moffett:

"Air strategy is today a fundamental consideration in defense of the canal, and the islands of the Caribbean are in most cases potential air bases which must enter into any problem of defense and national security. Development of aviation in Central America by our interests would assure us safety for the canal."

Maj. Gen. Mason Patrick, chief of the army air service, put it this way in a statement authorized at his office:

"With an Asiatic or an European nation having a single ally in Central America, the Panama canal would be defenseless from attack by that nation. With America peacefully developing aviation for those countries we would be sure that no other nation would be laying plans for attack from that direction.

"Air mail extension, or development by private American concerns aided by the government, would give us a great aviation manufacturing industry which could quickly turn its output to war use. It would keep us friendly with our southern neighbors, who would know that this very security for us was security for them."

Agree Aviation Holds Key.

Army and navy officials, differing at times on defense, agree that at the canal the balance between victory and defeat lies entirely with air service.

A bill, already passed by the senate and now pigeon holed, it seems, in the house, would give navy and marine officers permission to go to Central America to train its flyers.

Under present conditions, explained Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, it would be impossible to extend the mail service. Treaties would have to be made with Mexico and in some instances with other countries but there is nothing to indicate they could not be easily arranged.

Falling Derrick Boom Kills One Man, Injures Another

John Cahill, 38, Downers Grove, was killed, and John Weidner, 35 years old, 1311 West Adams street, probably fatally injured late yesterday when a derrick boom being used in the construction of the new riding hall of the 122d Field Artillery armory at Lake Shore drive and Fairbanks court crashed two floors into the street. Police and construction authorities have started an investigation.

G. O. P. SWINGS INTO ACTION IN BENCH CONTEST

JUDGE F. R. DE YOUNG.

Republican leaders plan to get into action this week in the interest of Superior Judge Frederic R. De Young, their harmony candidate for the Supreme court. The first meeting is scheduled for Thursday by the Barrett-Crowe forces to discuss their judicial election truce with Thompson & Co. and map out the procedure for the remaining ten days before the June 2 election.

The Democrats are starting ward meetings immediately in behalf of their candidate, Angus R. Shannon.

The intent of the legislature to separate judicial elections from the common variety of politics probably will be the determining factor in County Clerk Sweitzer's decision today on the question of placing the names of Frank D. Comerford and John J. Kelly on the June 2 judicial election ballot.

May Go on Ticket.

It was predicted last night that Mr. Sweitzer and County Judge Jarecki will allow the names of these two Democratic candidates for the Superior and Circuit court benches to go on the ballot despite Gov. Small's refusal to call a special election to fill the McDonald and Prindiville vacancies.

Democratic leaders, who are anxious to fill these vacancies at the time of the Supreme court elections, contend that the governor has deliberately attempted to throw the courts back into politics by holding off the special election to fill these vacancies until the general election next November. He has failed to justify his refusal by any sort of explanation.

Test Is Sought.

Another purpose which may impel the county officials to place the names on the ballot is to test the question in the courts after the election of the two judges. It is contended in some quarters that the question was settled by a recent Supreme court decision nullifying the claims of W. G. Anderson, Negro attorney, who tried to get a seat in the state senate by having his name written on a few judicial ballots last year following the resignation of Senator Samuel A. Ettelson before the expiration of his term.

When it is all said and done, however, Gov. Small will nave the final word even if Comerford and Kelly are elected, some lawyers contend. He presides over the state canvassing board and as chief executive has the issuance of judicial commissions. None doubt that he would arbitrarily refuse to issue commissions to judges elect if he took the notion. And the governor cannot be mandamused, courts have held. Abraham Lincoln tried it once and failed. So the attempt to elect the two judges, except what value there may be in a court opinion for the guidance of future public officials, may be fultile.

URGES NEED OF BETTER HEALTH FOR INDUSTRIES

Sickness Said to Cost $750,000,000 Yearly.

Preventive measures as a means of lessening illness among industrial workers in the United States, which at present means a monetary loss of $750,000,000 annually, were urged yesterday by John B. Andrews, secretary of the American Association for Labor Legislation, speaking at the eleventh annual convention at the Congress hotel of the Association of Government Officials.

A broadening of the workmen's compensation laws was urged by Mr. Andrews as one way in which this loss in money, as well as "waste of human well being and efficiency," could be brought about. Occupational disease compensation laws would stimulate industrial hygiene as accident compensation legislation has stimulated accident prevention, he said.

The convention, which lasts through Friday, is being attended by labor officials from all over the United States and Canada.

T. J. Duffy, chairman of the industrial commission of Ohio, was another speaker at the afternoon session.

All occupational diseases should be covered by accident compensation laws at an added cost of not more than 2 to 3 per cent over present compensation costs, Mr. Andrews argued. Among familiar occupational diseases mentioned by Mr. Andrews were "bends" of compressed air workers, the "shakes" of hatters, the "lead colic" and wrist drop of painters, and miners' asthma.

H. M. Mowery, secretary of the National Safe Walkway Surface Code committee, speaking before the free employment service men, declared that more than half of the 15,000 killed by falls each year lose their lives through inconspicuous, though defective, stair treads or slippery spots on door saddles or building entrances.

R. D. Cahn, chief statistician of the Illinois free employment offices, pointed out that organized efforts to curb unemployment have usually had their genesis in industrial crises.

Men's Field Arch Preserver Shoes

"Make All the Difference in the World"

THAT'S the verdict of Men—and Young Men, too—who've been trying to get along with ordinary Shoes when the condition of their feet really demanded Shoes of special design. They've tried Field Arch Preserver Shoes and have been relieved and gratified by the resultant sense of freedom from foot-worry.

Another reason is the fact that Field Arch Preserver Shoes don't look like "special" Shoes at all. To the average observer they are simply smart-looking Shoes of the regular type. The secret, of course, lies in the hidden construction of the patented arch, which sustains the weakened foot efficiently without the clumsy effect so often charged for comfort. SECOND FLOOR

Why These 5 Points Excel a Thousand Others

And Are Guaranteed for 25 Years' Wear!

The Classic Duofold with Black-tipped Lacquer-red Barrel—Now Made in Flashing Plain Black, Too

BEFORE the last O. K., this happens: We pay $2340 a pound for the Tip alone—three times more than ordinary; for this is select Iridium—hardest metal known.

We fuse it by hand into a point of gold—extra strong, because extra thick. Then we polish it to Jewel-like smoothness.

Five times every point—magnified many diameters—must pass the skilled inspection of Parker experts.

The Final Inspector fills each Duofold with Ink and tries it on Paper. All this happens to the point alone, before the last O. K. that guarantees the Duofold point for 25 years' wear if not abused. And other parts are made with equal skill and care.

You may try a thousand points of other makes and not find any that stimulates your hand as one of the five perfect Duofold points is sure to do. These five—extra fine—fine—medium—broad—and stub—embrace the whole range of standard writing dimensions. It is easy—you are sure—to pick from among them the ONE that your hand responds to most skilfully.

No pen but Parker has the Duofold point—none but Parker has the Duofold's symmetrically balanced barrel. It fits the hand with gently extended fingers and gives the brain complete freedom to focus on your subject.

So look, and look carefully, for this stamp on the barrel—"Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD—Lucky Curve." Then imitations can't deceive you.

Any good pen counter will sell you the Parker Duofold on 30 days' approval. Step in and get it.

Read What This Famous Scientist Says about Coffee

Professor SAMUEL C. PRESCOTT, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, after three years' scientific research, says Coffee gives comfort and inspiration and is the servant of civilization

"IT MAY be stated that after weighing the evidence, a dispassionate evaluation of the data so comprehensively surveyed has led to no alarming conclusions that Coffee is an injurious beverage for the great majority of adults, but, on the contrary, that the history of human experience, as well as the results of scientific experimentation, point to the fact that Coffee is a beverage which, properly prepared and rightly used, gives comfort and inspiration, augments mental and physical activity, and may be regarded as the servant rather than the destroyer of civilization."

This statement, coming from such an unquestioned scientific authority, will be a source of satisfaction and relief to every true lover of Coffee and establishes the fact that Coffee is a wholesome drink for the overwhelming majority of adults.

For Better Coffee Every Day, Follow These Rules

1—See that the Coffee is not ground too coarse.
2—Allow at least a tablespoonful of ground Coffee to a cup of water.
3—Be sure the water boils. Then pour it over the freshly ground Coffee.
4—Serve at once.
5—Never use ground Coffee a second time.
6—Scour the Coffee pot.

Ask your dealer or write direct to us for a copy of the NEW booklet, "For Better Coffee," which explains these rules in detail. Joint Coffee Trade Publicity Committee, 64 Water Street, New York.

The planters of Sao Paulo, Brazil, who produce more than half of all the Coffee used in the United States, are conducting this educational work in co-operation with the leading Coffee merchants of the United States.

Courage

"I HAVE BEEN asked many times to write this story," Harold Bell Wright begins. "It is not easy. Yet so many silly tales have been told about this experience of mine that I have resolved to put down exactly what happened to me—and why I did not die."

Mr. Wright is the most popular novelist in America. Most novels sell only a few thousand copies; his latest nine novels have sold 11,000,000 copies.

What strange experience is he talking about? What can we learn from him?

THE answer, as he gives it for the first time in The American Magazine this month, is thrilling. He tells about the long battle he has been successfully waging against tuberculosis.

Once he almost reached health and safety. Then a recklessly driven automobile crashed into him, and hurled him into a barbed wire fence. He was bruised and torn and crushed. The disease he had fought came back.

With a death sentence hanging over him, he fought again for life—and won again.

Read in The American Magazine how Wright's unswerving courage has carried him through. Eight years ago he was dying. Today he can hunt, swim, tramp for miles and work ten hours a day. Instead of finishing a single book, as he had hoped, he has planned thirteen others—and expects to live to finish them all.

This is the wonderful thing about Courage. Those who possess it get far more out of life than they dared hope for.

Month after month in The American Magazine real people lift the curtain and show how they have worked and played—loved, laughed, sorrowed and rejoiced—what they have learned and how they have achieved.

If this magazine were merely "literature," its circulation of more than 2,100,000 copies at 25 cents a copy would be incredible. But what can limit the possible circulation of a magazine that is life?

CLAIM HERRIOT WILL SPURN CALL TO RULE FRANCE

May Demand President Millerand Quit.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, May 20.—Close political and personal friends of Edouard Herriot, who is due in Paris from Lyons tonight, inform THE TRIBUNE that the radical Socialist leader will refuse the task of forming a cabinet from the hands of President Millerand. If invited to the Elysees palace, M. Herriot will either refuse to call on M. Millerand, or will go to the presidential mansion for the purpose of stating that he cannot accept the mandate of forming a government from the present chief executive.

Socialists make M. Herriot's refusal to form a ministry for M. Millerand their first condition of any possible participation in the new cabinet. The Socialists' bitterness towards M. Millerand is due to the fact that he was a member of the party when he joined the Waldeck-Rousseau cabinet in 1899.

The left parties' dislike for M. Millerand was increased when he openly espoused the cause of Premier Poincare's national bloc in the recent election. Despite the bitter campaign against him there is no indication that M. Millerand will resign from the presidency.

Will Meet Party Leaders.

M. Herriot will meet the officers of the radical Socialist party tomorrow night. This conference will be followed by a full meeting of the party's executive committee. The radical Socialists will probably declare against any extension of military occupation in Germany beyond that which is provided in the Versailles treaty and against any veiled or open annexation or fostering of separatism in the Rhineland. However, they will reassert France's right to reasonable reparation for the war's devastations.

Friendly feelings for the United States and the allies will be proclaimed and the party will express itself against armaments and militarism and in favor of the reduction of military service from eighteen to twelve months.

The league of nations will be championed and the immediate and complete adoption of the Dawes experts' plan will be urged.

Germany May Rush Action.

BERLIN, May 20.—According to the Hamburg correspondent of the Deutsche Zeitung, the Association of Ship Owners learns that the government intends to approve the Dawes committee report on reparation immediately, without awaiting the decision of the reichstag.

Ruhr Strike Breakers Disappear.

BOCHUM, Germany, May 20.—[United Press.]— Many emergency workers in Ruhr mines, where a general strike is in effect, have disappeared and the authorities fear they may have been murdered as part of a campaign of sabotage which daily is growing more desperate.

The police today arrested a number of leaders of the "union"—the Ruhr communist miners' organization—and afterwards searched their headquarters. Reports from all districts declare the situation is most serious.

The missing men were employed as pumpers, to keep the mines from flooding, and in several instances they are known to have been attacked by strikers, the latter being urged on and sometimes led by their wives.

In some parts of the Ruhr free bread is being given to miners' families.

GLADYS COULD JUMP FROM AN AIRPLANE, BUT NOT FROM A HORSE

Los Angeles, Cal., May 20.—[Special.]—Gladys Roy, who had made thirty parachute descents here and is famous as a stunt aviatrix, descended from the upper ether to ride a horse and sustained a three foot fall which broke one hip.

The plight of the aviatrix, who will be in a San Diego hospital four months, occurred at Pine Hills, in the Mojave desert, where she was one of a group filming a western picture.

Miss Roy had never ridden a horse, but her film rôle called for an equestrienne appearance before the airplane climax. She was jogging over the sand some distance from camp when her horse did a Prince of Wales.

It was necessary to transport her ninety miles to the hospital.

DEERING TRIED MANY DEATHS, A NURSE TESTIFIES

San Francisco, Cal., May 20.—[Special.] — Suicide thoughts had long lurked in the mind of Charles William Case Deering, it was brought out today at the inquest into the death of the wealthy scion of the harvester Deerings.

Once, about two weeks before his death, he seized a knife from the hand of a woman nurse and plunged it into his body. Although the wound was not serious, the nurse was so terrified she quit her place, according to the testimony of F. W. Collett, a male nurse who was one of Deering's attendants.

"Several times," Collet said, "Deering threatened to commit suicide. He said no matter how many weapons or drugs we took away from him, he could kill himself any time he wanted to, and some day he would show us."

The Deering apartment, in which he died Sunday morning, May 11, was a veritable drug store, Dr. S. H. Hurwitz, one of his physicians, said.

"For twenty-five years Deering had been in the habit of taking sedatives and narcotics to relieve his intense emotionalism and depression," the doctor said. "During the last week of his life he became so depressed and unmanageable that we removed from ready access all instruments and drugs."

Mrs. Deering, the last wife of the deceased, was present under subpoena, but was excused from taking the stand when she said she did not wish to testify. Others who testified were Charles Cushing, the dead man's attorney, and two male nurses.

Posse Kills Daylight Bank Bandit in Running Battle

Winnipeg, Man., May 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—After a running battle a posse of detectives killed Frank Martin of Winnipeg a few minutes after he had staged a noon hour holdup of the Goulding and Portage Avenue branch of the Bank of Montreal. The entire booty of approximately $2,000 was recovered.

Lift Out Your Corns

ICE-MINT
THE NEW DISCOVERY ENDS ALL
Foot Troubles

This new discovery, made from a Japanese product, is certainly a wonder the way it draws out inflammation from a pair of swollen burning, aching feet. It takes the soreness right out, then the corn or callous shrivels and lifts off.

Hard corn, soft corns or corns between the toes, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful. Just think! Not one bit of pain while applying Icemint or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

You will never have to cut a corn again and run the risk of blood poison. Say good-by to your old corn salve, plasters and bundling tape for that pet corn of yours is sure to be a "goner" if it ever feels the magic touch of Icemint.

It imparts such a delightful, soothing, cooling feeling to the feet that you will sigh with relief.

Ice-mint is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet. It prevents foot odors and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes.

Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, swollen feet the treat of their lives. It costs little and there is nothing better.

She Couldn't Live on $600 a Year

A woman we know was feeling sorry for a friend who had lost her husband. This friend had been obliged to sell her car and was now placing her house on the market.

"Too bad he didn't carry some insurance," remarked the woman.

"But he did," was the reply—"$10,000 worth. Trouble is, at 6 per cent $10,000 yields only $600 a year. And how in the world is Edith going to support and raise two children on $600 a year?"

"Gracious," exclaimed the woman; "that's all my husband carries—and I thought we were well protected!"

What about your wife and children?

In the space above write your name, age and address, tear out this advertisement, and place it in the mail. It will bring you full particulars of our monthly-income plan—the kind of protection that protects the home.

CHARGES STEEL TRUST THREAT TO 'GET' M. E. BISHOP

Blamed for 12 Hour Day Agitation.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Springfield, Mass., May 20.—[Special.]—The United States Steel trust is trying to "get" Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Pittsburgh area, the Rev. W. F. Conner of Pittsburgh told the Methodist general conference, in a hot debate today.

Dr. Conner is district superintendent of the Pittsburgh district and is chairman of the important book committee of the denomination. He was pleading to retain Pittsburgh as an Episcopal area and declared that in case the general conference did do away with Pittsburgh "the steel trust would rejoice and consider it an evidence that the church had gone back on Bishop McConnell."

Bishop McConnell was chairman of the committee of the interchurch world movement which investigated the steel strike and labor conditions in the steel mills and published labor conditions in steel mills and published a report which resulted in a concerted attack on the twelve hour day and seven days a week schedule by the churches of all denominations.

Says Steel Trust Threatened.

"Ever since that time," Dr. Conner exclaimed, "the trust has been after Bishop McConnell. The secretary of the steel trust has publicly boasted 'We will get him.' The trust would be glad to eliminate Bishop McConnell or any other eMthodist bishop. If you honor the work Bishop McConnell did, are you going to say to the steel trust 'we are with you, steel trust, we are with you, capital.'"

Protesting "noes" came from the floor of the conference and Dr Conner sought to placate the delegates by saying, "I did not mean to say that you are intending to eliminate the Pittsburgh area because of any such motive, but your action will be so regarded."

The convention spent most of today in determining the Episcopal areas and reversed the decisions which would eliminate two areas besides the one previously eliminated. All the present areas stand except the Wichita and St. Louis areas, which are merged to form a new area with Kansas City as the center. Five bishops will be elected.

Hold First Vote for Bishop.

The first ballot for five bishops was taken and the order passed that the ballots should be counted, but the result not given out until tomorrow morning.

The makeup of the new committee decided upon yesterday to consider the war resolutions, about which the conference has received so many protests, was announced today by Bishop L. B. Wilson. The bishops named are Thomas Nicholson, Chicago; E. G. Richardson, Atlanta; L. B. Wilson, New York.

The position of Bishop Nicholson and Bishop Wilson is well known as being opposed to the extreme pacifist stand.

Southern Methodists to Discuss Merger July 2

Nashville, Tenn., May 20.—After an all day session the college of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, decided tonight to call a special session of the general conference on July 2, the place to be determined, to act on the proposed unification of the northern and southern churches. The formal call was issued tonight by Bishop Warren A. Candler, senior bishop.

BOLO REGIMENT MUTINIES, KILLS SIBERIA CHIEFS

Workers Resist Red Delusion.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, May 20.—The mutiny of a soviet regiment at Baikal, near Chita, formerly Far Eastern republic is reported. The regiment was ordered to entrain for the Amur district, where railroad workers and others had established an anti-soviet government following a series of strikes. The regiment, after mutinying and killing the civilian commissars, robbed the Baikal arsenal and took to the woods, becoming outlaws.

Lenin's Widow Powerful.

The increasing activity of the Russian political affairs of Mme. Krupskaya, widow of Nicolai Lenin, is seen in her participation in the last session of the central committee of the Communist party, when M. Lenin's widow joined M. Zinoviev, M. Stalin, and M. Unschlicht in a resolution overthrowing one of the greatest policies M. Lenin himself proclaimed. The central committee voted to declare war upon the new economic policy and eventually to abolish all private trade in Russia.

The committee did not, however, demand that the soviets take immediate action, but proposed a program of government competition with private industry and a greater government effort in manufacturing, trading, and retail selling, forcing most of the private trade into bankruptcy, at which time the committee favored a proclamation abolishing M. Lenin's new economic policy.

Defeat Trades Unions.

M. Zinoviev and M. Stalin, joined by Mme. Krupskaya, won a victory on this policy over the trades union element, which opposed it. The trades union organ, named Work, now is fighting the official organ, Pravda, on this subject.

Mme. Krupskaya also came into public notice in the publication here of a project for financing proletarian students in Russian universities. Mme. Krupskaya, who is commissar of education, proposes that every Russian going abroad to study pay from $20 to $40 into a fund which would be devoted to sending communist men and women to universities.

BOGUS CHECK ARTIST HELD.

Jack Wiotti, 30 years old, of 900 Airdrie place, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of passing twenty-three worthless checks on north side merchants. The checks ranged from $3 to $10. Bond was fixed at $6,000.

LEWIS MASTERS HIS MINER FOES, JUST BY TALKING!

BY THOMAS WREN.

Peoria, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—Secure in the same shrewd generalship that marked his rapid rise from stoker boy in a coal mine to head of the United Mine Workers of America, John L. Lewis nonchalantly walked into the stronghold of his opponents this morning and addressed the state convention of Illinois coal diggers.

For several years the chief opposition to Lewis' leadership has existed in this state. It was created through the split between the president and Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois miners.

"I'm not here to answer charges against me," President Lewis said. "I try to relegate things of yesterday to history unless I can use some of the experience in a beneficial manner on the morrow. I came here as a counselor, qualified to speak optimistically of the future of the miners' organization.

"I've heard things were corrupt here and I've also heard things against international officers of our union, especially myself. But the persons circulating the hearsays never take the opportunity to trace the rumors to their source.

"I would like to see the return of the day when loyalty and confidence among union men were of paramount importance.

At this point the insurgent faction began to get restive. Its members had hoped the address would be of short duration so that they could ask him some questions. Included in these were to be demands for explanation of correspondence between Lewis and Farrington after the Herrin massacre.

Finishing a survey, Lewis glanced down at an open watch on the table. There was still some time left before noon adjournment, so he started to recount conditions among English miners. This consumed the remaining time up until a few minutes before adjournment.

As he concluded his address Lewis lit a cigar and began to puff away. Farrington announced, "If any of the workers have questions to ask, President Lewis will gladly answer them."

HELD ON CHECK CHARGE.

Charles Borts, a theatrical booking agent, living at the Tremont hotel, who is alleged to have forged the name of Mrs. Jennie Fisher, mother of a former partner of his, to two check totaling $1,362, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game.

She Was Weak, Thin and Nervous

How She Took On 15 Pounds—Regained Her Strength and Lost All Nervousness

The greatest strength-giver and producer of good healthy flesh is Cod Liver Oil. It's full of vitamines. But it's nasty stuff—ill-smelling and hard to take, and usually upsets the stomach.

Thank goodness! we don't have to take it from the bottle any more, for now Owl Drug Co., Buck & Rayner, Public Drug Co., Walgreen Co., MacLean Drug Co., the Boston Store, and all druggists are selling McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, sugar-coated and as easy to take as candy, so that you can get the real Cod Liver Oil in condensed form and get just the same results as with the horrible smelling liquid.

Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks, and that's going fast enough for anyone.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on any thin person in thirty days—why, money back and no quibbling about it, either.

SCOTTISH POMP FINDS A DIAMOND IN MINER BROWN

BY JOHN MATHIESON.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 20.—From the massive castle rock which looms over this gray metropolis of the north a royal salute of twenty-one guns belched forth today, telling the wide world that James Brown, once a pit boy, now miners' member of parliament, had declared open in the name of King George the annual assembly of the Presbyterian church of Scotland.

The little Scotchman, tough and sturdy and bearing in his features an extraordinary resemblance to America's iron king, Andrew Carnegie, has upset all the prophecies of failure by triumphantly filling the bill, and the age long ceremonials lost nothing in pomp with the panoply of dazzling display of color and a brave show of chivalry.

Opens with Levee.

This day of outstanding pageantry was opened with a levee in the throne room at the Holyrood palace. It is customary for the lord high commissioner to be accompanied to the throne by the dame, but Mrs. Brown, who has toiled to bring up her family, was unable to bear the strain of standing on the dais while the great dignitaries of the church, state, navy, army, and civic life passed to pay their homage and respect to the king's representative.

So James walked alone along the royal gallery as his state trumpeters heralded him, marched confidently into the waiting court, and stepped upon the dais.

There the lone little figure, looking directly across at the massive portrait of ruling monarchs, and dressed in the uniform of the high chief, he stood for hours, while a long line bowed low and passed.

Into Palace Yard.

After the ceremonial was over he came out into the palace yard, a state trumpeter again sounding his arrival and the military command running a sharp staccata "Royal Salute." The troops presented arms to James, who for ten days will be known as his grace. He replied in military fashion and then, accompanied by generals and admirals, amongst them Admiral Tyrwhitt, the hero of Zeebrugge, he inspected the guard.

Duchess Atholl and Marchioness Ailsa preceded Mrs. Brown, who, like her husband, is of a fine Scottish type. The state coach of brilliant coated attendants proceeded through the streets. The Marquis Clydesdale, in his highland clansman's dress, was sitting beside his grace. With a clatter the hussars brushed on ahead of the lord commissioners' coach and cavalry followed at the rear.

No king ever swept through Edinburgh in more crowded streets. They were densely packed and people cheered as they never cheered before at the illustrious nobles who preceded him. James Brown, in swell cut crimson tunic of blue military breeches and cocked hat, filled the bill.

No Vacation for Coolidge; Will Stay Right on Job

Washington, D. C., May 20.—Adjournment of congress, expected early next month, will not change the intention of President Coolidge to remain in Washington during the summer. He has vetoed a suggestion that he should leave the capital for a short rest after congress quits.

DAUGHERTY FILM STORY INDICTS RICKARD AND SIX

Newark, N. J., May 20.—Indictments against Tex Rickard, six other men, and an unknown corporation for the transportation of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films, are reported to have been returned by the federal grand grand jury today.

The grand jury has heard scores of witnesses during an investigation which has proceeded for several weeks. Assistant Attorney General Segar came here from Washington to conduct the case.

It is understood that warrants will be issued in Trenton, possibly tomorrow.

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight, promoted by Rickard, was held at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, in 1921. Motion pictures were made of the fight, and according to testimony given in Washington, they were shown in many states.

PLAN INQUIRY RECESS

Washington, D. C., May 20.—Plans for a temporary recess in the senate Daugherty investigation have virtually been agreed upon, and the committee in charge has ordered preparation of a partial report for presentation before the end of the month.

Hearings will be continued without intermission during the next few days in the endeavor to clear up several lines of inquiry.

Attorney General Stone will be consulted tomorrow by Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor, regarding the advisability of continuing the effort to obtain the financial records of George Remus, the convicted Ohio bootleg king, who testified that he paid $250,000 or more to Jess W. Smith for protection.

Today's open session of the committee was devoted exclusively to the testimony of witnesses, who said that Smith, though not on the official pay roll of the department of justice, had a large part in the conduct of the department.

Mal Daugherty Plea Heard.

Cincinnati, O., May 20.—Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran, at the conclusion of arguments in federal District court here today on a writ of habeas corpus sought by M. S. Daugherty, Washington Courthouse, O., banker, took the case under advisement.

Daugherty seeks release from custody of a deputy sergeant at arms of the United States senate.

WIFE MAY BOB HAIR, AND HUBBY CAN'T STOP HER!

"A person capable of casting a vote must be presumed capable of choosing a haircut," ruled Judge Joseph Burke in the Maxwell street court yesterday when Mrs. Jacob Silverman, 1342 Hastings street, had her husband arraigned for striking her because she had her hair bobbed.

"I wouldn't mind a plain bob," Silverman said, "but she is 32 years old and ought to know better than to get one of those King Tuts."

SEEK MRS. THERRIAULT HERE.

A request was received by the police by telegraph yesterday from Miss Isabelle Therriault of Wenatchee, Wash., to search for her mother, who is believed to be visiting relatives here.

ANTI-FLAT ROW IN WILMETTE STILL RAGES

The fight of Wilmette's "Home party" to keep certain parts of the suburb restricted and to prevent the building of flat buildings in those sections failed last night when President Edward F. Zipf, Chicago coal dealer, and the three old trustees of the village outvoted a proposed amendment to the building ordinance placed before the board by Trustee John Clark Baker, one of the three recently elected men of the "Home party." Trustee Baker's amendment called for the complete fireproofing of all flat buildings in the restricted zones—a measure which, if passed, would have made the cost of building so prohibitive as to keep the flat buildings out.

Know Why May Is a Good Month to Put in Coal?

Two mighty good reasons

A FARMER doesn't usually go to a city man for advice when to put in his seed oats, or wheat, or corn. If experience hasn't already given him the knowledge, he'll surely go to an agricultural expert—or to some other farmer who knows.

When we recommend that you put in coal now—for next winter—we're giving expert advice based on good, sound experience. You might be surprised to know how many thousand Consumers Company customers act on that advice every spring.

And it's a fact that, once a man orders his next winter's coal in April or May, he'll do the same thing every spring. Because he finds it pays.

Prices Favorable

May prices on nearly all kinds of coal are favorable. Nine years in ten they're low—compared with the other eleven months.

That's because the big rush demand of winter has slacked off—and there is time to mine, ship, sell and deliver coal in an efficient, money-saving way. That nearly always means economy on price for you.

If you had heating trouble last winter, perhaps one of our heating experts could make some good suggestions. They'll be glad to talk it over with you, any time. This service is free—whether or not you're a Consumers Company customer.

Then there's another good reason for May coal-buying.

We can give you better service. In the winter it is impossible to get coal as clean—despite all efforts—as it is in spring and summer. For during cold weather dust and dirt are frozen to the coal—and cannot be completely removed even by careful re-screening and re-forking.

And besides all that, there's a lot of downright mental comfort in knowing you're all set for the cold weather—even if it is a whole summer away. Worth having.

More Than Just Coal

Thousands of coal buyers in Chicago are Consumers Company customers. In fact, we handle one-fifth of all the coal retailed here. These people bank on Consumers Company service as much as they do on the quality of Consumers Company coal. For one thing, they all know that every load of coal we deliver is full, honest weight. And every one of our employes knows it, too.

We try always to sell you more than just coal. We have had a lot of experience with coal heating problems. Doing business on a large scale we're able to have inspectors at the mines—seeing to it that you get the best coal mined. Whether you use much or little coal. And inspectors at each of our 45 fuel yards—who inspect the coal again as it comes in. No order is too large for us to handle—or too small for us to appreciate.

Then we maintain a staff of heating experts—who help you get the most out of your coal money. Help you select most efficient kinds for your particular furnace or stoves. Give you good, practical advice on how to operate your heating plant—large or small. This service is free—whether or not you're a Consumers Company customer.

And back of it all we put the fair, unqualified guarantee reproduced below. It really gives you coal insurance.

We want to suggest strongly that you at least find out about our May prices—today, or tonight after dinner. Because you can phone us—FRANKLIN 6400—any time up to 9:00 p. m. Remember—

Wealth Per Capita

Increase in Crop Values

One Automobile to Every Five Persons

Leads in Production of Beef Per Capita

250,000 Telephones (1 to every 5 persons) (More than England, Scotland and Wales.)

Leads in Agricultural Production Per Capita

In 1923 the second largest corn crop on state record increased Nebraska's buying power nearly $40,000,000. In the same year the value of live stock on Nebraska farms increased $55,000,000. A 21% increase in automobile ownership since 1921 indicates Nebraska's great buying power. And Nebraska is not dependent on one crop or one industry for its permanent income and prosperity. While Nebraska farm products average a value of $500,000,000 annually, its industrial production is valued at approximately $600,000,000 annually.

You Can Sell More Goods In Nebraska

Nebraska is rich agriculturally—yet every community is a direct participant in industry. Eighty of the ninety-three counties of the state each have from 3 to 600 manufacturing establishments in operation. In fact, 55 per cent of Nebraska's population lives in cities and towns.

The average value of a Nebraska farm is $33,771—nearly three times greater than the nation's average.

Nebraska leads all other states in the per capita production of all agricultural products. The per farm average value of all agricultural products and live stock in Nebraska in 1923 was approximately $4,000 as compared with a per farm average of $2,000 throughout the United States. That is why local bankers will tell you that today money is plentiful in Nebraska and borrowers scarce.

In addition to producing more beef per capita than any other state in the union, Nebraska can boast of the second largest live stock market in the country. Its packing and slaughtering industries employ approximately 15,000 people.

Nebraska's dairy cows have increased 17 per cent in number since 1921, as compared to a 5 per cent increase for the entire country. And the 51 large creameries in the state produce approximately $38,000,000 worth of butter annually.

Thousands of people are employed in Nebraska's large flour mills, sugar refineries, iron and brass foundries, metal works, railway construction shops, clothing, cap and glove factories, as well as in manufacturing brushes, agricultural implements, electric fixtures, starch, labels, jewelry, cosmetics and hundreds of other commodities.

There is an automobile for nearly every family in the state and a telephone for little less than every five people.

Rural Nebraska, with its 133,600 automobiles and 95,050 telephones, can shop as quickly and conveniently as the suburbanites in the larger cities. The 80,000 miles of roads and the 7,242 miles of main line railways furnish quick distributing facilities to and from the thousands of well-rated wholesale and retail establishments in the state.

Because Nebraska shares honors with one other state in the lowest per cent of illiteracy—because 87.1 per cent of its population is native white, Nebraskans are accustomed to buying from the printed page. That Nebraska prefers to read daily newspapers is shown in the book just issued by the Nebraska Daily Newspaper Association.

To Reach Prosperous Nebraska Effectively and Economically

How you can reach all of Nebraska, both rural and urban, at a low cost is fully explained in the book, "The Buying Power of Nebraska and How to Reach It."

This book gives a complete survey of the Nebraska market. It tells of its population, its resources, buying power and quick distributing facilities. It explains the uniform co-operation you will receive from the sixteen leading daily newspapers in Nebraska in making your advertising produce the most profitable results. It tells you how the publishers of these newspapers will help you get distribution. Send for this book now.

RICH in Farm Production IMPORTANT in Industry

MISSING LINKS, FULL OF BUMPS, MAR HIGHWAYS

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The city government of Chicago is discouraging motorists from coming to the city for trade and pleasure, in the opinion of two county commissioners.

They charge that the city has failed to build, or cause others to build, short lengths of pavement linking city streets with improved country roads.

The same obstacles are in the way of more than 265,000 auto owners in Chicago who want to get from the city to the smooth, hard surfaced roads of the country.

Started 10 Years Ago.

It was ten years ago that Cook county commissioners built their first three miles of pavement on Archer avenue. Within the county there are now twenty miles on Archer avenue, costing about $500,000. That road, under various names, continues through other counties southwest for 200 miles. Yet there is about a mile and a half on Archer avenue, within the city, between approximately 47th street and Cicero avenue, which has not been paved. Apparently it has taken ten years to get an ordinance in the city council, where it is now pending, to pave the street between Central Park and Kostner avenues.

After the council gets through with the ordinance court proceedings must follow, bids must be advertised for, and contracts let. It is possible that the job will be done this year, but improbable. That is one injury to the city.

Here's Another Example.

Halsted street and South Park avenue, projecting from the city into the county, has been paved by the latter for more than 14 miles at a cost approaching $450,000. That was done in 1914 and 1915.

The city, however, has not done anything to pave Halsted street, according to city records, for the three miles between Ninety-fifth and One Hundred and Nineteenth street. Not until the matter was brought to the attention of the city officials yesterday by THE TRIBUNE was a survey ordered. That is detriment No. 2.

State street and Michigan avenue projected beyond the southern limits of Chicago has been paved by the county commissioners for about nine miles south at a cost of about $250,000.

That work was done in 1919. In the intervening five years the city has not paved the short half mile between One Hundred Twenty-seventh and One Hundred and Thirtieth streets. That is a third sign of "Not Welcome" which the city has hung out, because no record could be found yesterday that anything had been done to improve this stretch.

Viewing Missing Link No. 4.

More than $200,000 has been spent in improving about eight miles of One Hundred and Eleventh street. That was in 1921, according to the county records. There is half a mile between Western and California avenues which remains unpaved within the city. That is missing link No. 4, but the city records show that on March 5 last an ordinance was passed for this improvement.

Then the county officials cite Torrence avenue, where they have built two miles of concrete roadway and are building a large bridge over the Calumet river. For the mile south of 130th street, within the city, county officials asserted yesterday that the city government has not even graded a street. In that mile the city must build a bridge over a branch of the Calumet river. For that the federal government has given a permit, and the city says that it will build a pontoon bridge. When the remainder of the missing link will be built is uncertain. The city records show that an order for an estimate was given April 14 last. That is No. 5.

Hurrying Roosevelt Road.

County commissioners also complained that it took more than six years to get the city to pave the north half of Roosevelt road between Austin and Cicero avenues. In 1915 and 1916 the county built five miles of Roosevelt road and also a bridge at an aggregate cost of $125,000.

DRUGGIST ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT.

A lone bandit entered the drug store of M. J. Morrison, 950 West 14th street, yesterday forced him into a rear room, and escaped with a $900 diamond ring, a $250 stickpin, and $250 in checks

SHORT LINES HIT BY RULING ON WAR RAILROADS

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Short line railroads that have contended they were taken over by the government under President Wilson's proclamation of Dec. 26, 1917, will be adversely affected by a decision of the Court of Claims of the United States in the case of the Marion and Rye Valley Railway company against the United States if the Supreme court of the United States upholds the decision.

A board of referees appointed by the interstate commerce commission ruled that the railroad was under federal control for six months, Jan. 1, 1918, to June 30, 1918, and was entitled to compensation from the government for the use of its property.

The director general of railroads refused to pay, and the railroad brought suit in the Court of Claims, which now holds that the line was not under federal control at all and is not entitled to compensation from the government. The suit was to recover $14,425, the amount of the award made by the referees.

Australia Gives Dark Hint of Revolution in Radio

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia, May 20.—Experiments with direct wireless communication between England and Australia with the new beam system of short waves is completely successful. The government will abandon the proposed large station and build a station adaptable to the new system, thereby saving four-fifths of the cost. The tests to secure secrecy, which is a feature of the new system, gave every satisfaction.

The Climb to the "Roof of the Earth"

—it disclosed a surprising fact about delicious confections

THE "roof of the earth" is near Thibet—where Mt. Everest stands unconquered, a constant challenge to exploring scientists. It remains unclimbed in spite of many bold attempts, because the human body can stand just so much punishment, and no more. But two years ago a scientific expedition worked its way almost to the summit. They almost conquered this 29,002 foot peak.

What food did they eat on the last hard pull?

Candy! On the final exhausting stages of the journey, candy gave them strength and kept them alive! Lemon drops, peppermint candies and chocolate!

"Eating candy was one of the ways of conserving energy," said George Leigh Mallory, one of the climbers. "At great elevations no one has any strength to waste on unnecessary processes of digestion. It is necessary to dispense with meat and foods of that type. You have to live on your reserves of food, together with sugar, which can be quickly digested and easily converted into muscular energy. It has also a much-needed stimulating effect."

Perhaps you have thought of your candies as something delicious to taste, not as highly-nourishing food. Yet exploring parties, scientists and the ablest medical authorities all endorse the food value of candy because it contains so much sugar.

So eat candy with an appreciation of its delightful taste, and add to that a realization that the greatest energy-giving food is not beef, or eggs, or milk, but simple, everyday, inexpensive, palatable sugar.

Lamborn is publishing this advertisement as a service for sugar, although we never sell sugar directly to the public. We do sell sugar to those who supply the public. Lamborn sells raw sugar to refiners for sugar growers. Lamborn sells refined sugar to manufacturers, to wholesalers, to chain stores, to exporters, to firms abroad. In this way sugar handled by Lamborn is part of the daily diet of millions of families in America and all over the world.

Another Mt. Everest Expedition is now approaching the summit

It is sponsored—as previous attempts have been—by the Royal Geographic Society, and nothing in equipment and planning has been omitted. It will surprise many people to learn that not the least important part of each climber's outfit is plain, pure candy.

Free Booklet

For individuals interested in commodity markets Lamborn & Co., Inc., have prepared a booklet, "Sugar Futures." It explains how manufacturers and jobbers minimize business risks by trading in futures, and how individuals can use the Sugar Exchange. It gives interesting data showing that the sugar market is broad and active.

All over the world the excellence of American confections is admitted and imitated. The candy manufacturers themselves—the National Confectioners' Association—are at this moment in convention in Chicago. They are a powerful group of manufacturers who feel that American candy must be made still better. That is their purpose in meeting—to raise standards, to institute new research activities, to compare methods of improvement, to plan in every possible way to give you sweets even more luscious.

Remember, everybody likes candy, and remember, too, that the craving for candy has a deeper significance—it is Nature's signal not to omit the great builder of bodily energy—Sugar.

WOMEN CHEER ADVICE OF PEACE, BUT WITH HONOR

State Federation Begins Annual Session.

BY KATE WEBBER.

Moline, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—It took the militant challenge of an experienced worker for woman's rights—Mrs. O. R. Lake of Minooka—to crystallize the sentiment of the delegates to the twenty-ninth convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, which opened here today, on the attitude toward war. Six hundred women who filled the hall sprang to their feet and greeted the speaker with cheers and handclapping as she declared herself for "peace with honor, peace free from the insidious propaganda now being spread in this country."

"I gave my first born son that peace might be gained," said Mrs. Lake. "If I had twenty more I'd give them all, and I know that as long as there are red blooded women in Illinois no country shall invade our shores or interfere with our problems or policies.

"State Needs Cleansing."

"You have enough material among you to sway the nation to right or wrong. Let your colors be seen. But first look to your own yards, your towns, cities, atnd counties, and above all your state. Your state needs cleansing, and it needs you to do it."

This young old woman, who is past 60, was besieged with requests to address Chicago clubs next season. They will profit by her vision.

Mrs. Edward S. Bailey of Chicago, former state president, gave her report as retiring director for Illinois of the general federation. At the close she presented the recommendations of the policy committee, which will be acted upon at the biennial of the general federation at Los Angeles next month.

Mrs. Bailey Reports.

Chief among these recommendations, which no doubt will relieve a technical difficulty of long standing, is one referring to the recent stand taken by the membership committee with regard to hte Jewish councils.

The old requirement, of which the federation has not been able to rid itself, grew out of the one time fear of a large Mormon membership being admitted.

A recommendation of Mrs. Bailey, which caused argument, and referred for further study, was one held over from last year, which has to do with Illinois taking its body of women into the general federation under a blanket membership.

The committee on rules and regulations, appointed today were Mrs. William H. Hart of Benton, former state president; Miss Jessie Spafford of Rockford, Mrs. Robert A. Chandler of Galesburg, and Mrs. Allen Elrod of Chicago.

Plans for Magazine.

Mrs. Walter W. Seymour and Mrs. Ada A. Fisher of Chicago presented a report on the state magazine, The Clubwoman's World, and the absconding of the business manager of the old publication, The Edict, and the consequent difficulty of regaining favor with the public and advertisers.

Mrs. Charles J. Trainor spoke briefly of the Americanization work, urging particularly that students be less international in their leanings and devote more time to the history of the United States. Mrs. F. J. McNish was applauded when she told of the good done by the Chicago Woman's club in its classes for the education of the adult foreigner.

NEW YORK AGAIN SEES THAW, BUT NOT OLD HAUNTS

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Harry K. Thaw, slayer in 1906 of Stanford White, returned today to New York to face in court the charges from which he fled seven and a half years ago. Freed earlier in the day in a Philadelphia court in which a month ago he was adjudged a sane man again, Thaw hastened to this city to plead not guilty to indictments found in January, 1917.

Judge George W. Olvany released him in $10,000 bail, furnished by the National Surety company, covering two indictments accusing him of kidnaping and assaultig young Frederick Gump Jr., of Kansas City. Gump had charged Thaw with flogging him in the Hotel McAlpin.

Half an hour after Thaw left the court building he was asked to reappear, owing to an error discovered in the bail papers, but Judge Olvany had gone and further proceedings may be necessary tomorrow.

"Have you noticed any changes in New York?" he was asked.

"I noticed there aren't so many saloons," he replied, smiling.

The Natural Fruit Flavor — Deliciously Different

If you've never tasted an Orange-Crush—icy cold, served in the famous Krinkly Bottle—you have no idea how supremely delicious a drink can be. The reason for such sheer delight is found in the fact that Nature's products—just as good and wholesome as they can be—are put together in a way that makes their flavor beyond compare. These are the ingredients of Orange-Crush. Study them:

First—The natural fruit oil of oranges—to give that distinctive and delightful aroma.

Third—Orange juice—which everybody likes.

Fifth—U. S. Certified food color—to make it as appealing to the eye as to the taste.

Sixth—Pure cane sugar.

For your own delight—be on the lookout for those Orange-Crush signs. Whenever you see them—stop—enter—call for the real Orange-Crush. Then—enjoy to the last drop the most delicious drink you ever tasted!

THE SEA WALL

By Eleanor Mercein Kelly

Blue Ribbon Fiction

SYNOPSIS.

On a neck of woodland sticking out into the Chesapeake and separated from the mainland by swamp and water lives a wreck of a man, known throughout the Tidewater community as the hermit. A lovely young daughter, Rhoda, lives with him. Father and daughter are thought to belong to the poor white colony known as "Ginney folk" by the gentry, but the Ginney people, with the exception of their leader, who is known as Chief Doane, know nothing about them. Doane supplies the hermit and his daughter with food and other necessities. He is their only visitor.

Rhoda, about thirteen, saves the life of young Will Shepard of the gentry side of Tidewater. He is caught in a storm; his boat being pounded to pieces on the rocks off the Point. Rhode and her father go to the rescue and bring the boy back to their shack. Will lives with his cousin, old Miss Folly Shepard, in the great house called Shepard's Lee. After Will's rescue by Rhoda Miss Folly interests herself in the child. A strong attachment develops between Will and Rhoda. Rhoda's father dies suddenly.

INSTALLMENT IX.

GOSSIP.

All this she told Doane as he made his boat fast, tugging at him to hurry, hurry! But when he came to the cabin, running in great strides, he saw that he was too late. That which the child feared had come at last. Her father in his sleep had forgotten to breathe; and Rhoda was not awake to remind him.

Chief Doane, as Miss Folly scrupulously admitted to herself, had an undoubted right to ask favors at her hand; but he was certainly not backward in doing so.

"Fancy," she sighed to Will, "a stranger among our own dead!"

"Well, if he don't know it and they don't know it, what's the difference?" replied the boy, with his western bluntness. Miss Folly told herself that young people were always heartless until they had tasted sorrow.

She suspected herself of not being heartless enough, of being a little weak and sentimental. When Doane came to her with the astonishing request that the hermit who had been found dead on the Point be buried in Shepard's Lee ground she should have dismissed him with firm hauteur. Instead, she had hesitated.

"Why, has he no place of his own to lie, no kinspeople to be buried with?"

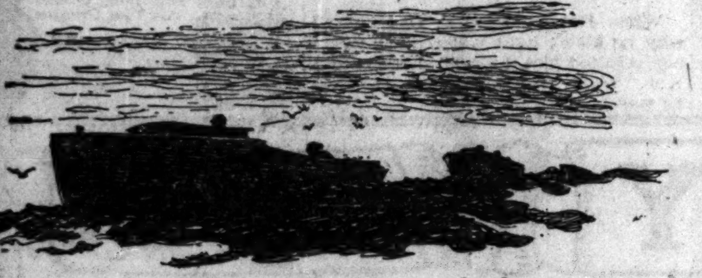
"No," said Doane simply. "If we had a public burying ground down Ginney way I wouldn't ask, but there's nothing but churchyards, and he wa'n't no church member. And I hate to just put him away like a dead dog. For Rhoda's sake, you see."

"Seems to me you take a great deal of interest in that child for a person who is no kin to her! Who was her father, Doane?"

The other hesitated a fraction of a second. Then he said, "The name was Charles, Louis Charles."

"O, Not a Ginney man, then? It sounds rather French. That might account for the girl's foreign look. The mother was a Ginney woman, I suppose?"

Doane did not answer



So next day a little funeral cortege came by the sea way.

Doane had a gift for allowing others to draw their own conclusions. His silence confirmed a suspicion that had been growing in Miss Folly's mind, an interesting, romantic suspicion. The mother, doubtless, was the reason for Doane's long bachelorhood, for his touching interest in the child. The girl he loved had gone to a foreigner—a sailor, perhaps, whose sickness had brought him to harbor on that coast. The Ginney women frequently married sailors. And for her sake Doane was now doing what he could for her family—Miss Folly read a good deal of sentimental fiction, so that her mind ran easily along these channels.

Doane, watching her expressive face, remarked at this point, "It would comfort the child to know her father was lying among the sort of people he was used to, instead of just us Ginney folks."

Miss Folly's eyebrows lifted. She readjusted her imaginings, recalling the books Will had reported. Common sailors are not apt to read Voltaire, nor yet the Odes of Horace in the original. A scholar—perhaps even a gentleman, a pitiable waif cast up by the sea of circumstances upon alien shores? And she, who had never in her life refused hospitality to man or beast, could she refuse it now to the helpless dead? There was room enough still in the Shepard's Lee graveyard—too much room, alas, now that so few Shepards were left to lie in it.

So the next day a little funeral cortége came by the sea way, Doane's motor boat carrying the coffin, followed by other motor boats containing longshoremen to carry it; and Rhoda as chief mourner. She was dressed, to Miss Folly's shocked surprise, in the brightest of her new dresses, and gazed about her with interest, apparently unmoved.

Miss Folly could not know that she was whispering to herself over and over, "No cowardice—be a man—mustn's say 'ain't,' either."

The lady herself, moved by the rector's beautiful old voice in the beautiful service of her church, shed what tears were shed for this lonely stranger who was to lie in the place that should have been her brother's. For the first time the coincidence of the name struck her, and she was glad she had been able to give his grave to another Charles who needed it.

The little ceremony sent her sad thoughts back to a day she did not often allow herself to remember: the day her brother had come down from the city unexpectedly, looking so worn, almost ill, from overwork. City life never agrees with Tidewater men very well. Like Antæus, they need the frequent contact with their mother earth. She had urged him to go right out on the water and forget the tiresome old office and all its works and take the healing sun and the salt air back into his blood. She remembered that he had hesitated, saying he was expecting business friends whom he must see at once.

"Well, if they come, I shall send them out to find you," she had promised.

So he went off to his fishing, looking happier and better at the thought of a day in the open. And then the visitors came, curt, impolite persons who seemed in a great hurry, so that she had engaged Chief Doane to take them out in his power boat to find her brother.

The rest was all a blur of horror—Doane's return alone, towing Charles' empty boat, his halting explanation of how they had been too late. "Only a black speck in the water that was gone when we got there," he had said. What overturned the boat was never known: perhaps a sudden squall or the wash from a passing steamer; perhaps he had upset it playing in a fish—Chesapeake fishing is never without its element of danger. The body was not recovered.

These things Miss Folly was remembering as they buried Rhoda's father in the grave that charity supplied him; and the tears fell fast.

So it was that Charles Shepard came at last to lie, like another visionary who had fought against odds too great for him, "in the place where he longed to be." And he, too, had laid him down with a will.

So many things happened to Rhoda after this that she had little time to miss her playmate; and when she did remember him she learned that he had gone back to school. "Without even telling me good-by!" she thought, rather crestfallen.

But it had not been entirely Will's fault that he departed so cavalierly.

In an isolated community that has few interests outside of its small circle neighborliness has every chance to show the defects of its qualities. Among Miss Folly's friends gossip flourished almost as freely as did loyalty and loving kindness. The ladies who had overheard Will's odd conversation with the Ginney child were not slow to repeat it elsewhere; and then it was learned that their own young people had long been aware of this unseemly intimacy.

"It seems they're together constantly, running wild all over the place; and the girl has no modesty whatever, swims, sails, and fishes, swears like a sailor, dresses—well, the less said about that the better! I always told Folly Shepard she was making a mistake to pin her faith on that boy, brought up as he has been, practically a stranger. Why, even the Ginney people have nothing to do with the girl—except poor Doane, who's infatuated with her. He has taken her to live with him. O, of course, she's only a child still; but she's quite old enough to know how to behave."

So the scandal spread and grew apace, until it reached the ears of Miss Folly, who laughed at it, incredulously. She questioned Will, however, who never lied. Accustomed to western independence, he resented his cousin's watchfulness and answered her rather shortly. Certainly he had been playing around all summer with Doane's Rhoda! She was a good sport, a nice kid, better company by far than the namby-pampy, lady-like girls Miss Folly had provided for his amusement or than most of their brothers, for that matter.

"I daresay she is!" murmured the lady with some irony, recalling the child's budding beauty, her vivid personality, her grave, queer little charm. She made no mistake about Rhoda. She had seen enough of adolescence to be able to separate the grain from the chaff of this gossip. But she had her hard earned wisdom, too. So Will found himself recalled quite suddenly to his mother's side for the rest of his holiday.

Miss Folly sent for Doane to come and be talked to.

"You mustn't misunderstand," she finished what she had to say, laying a kind little hand on his arm (for his face was painfully flushed, and she did not like to hurt people). "I don't! Rhoda is a dear little girl, and most lovable. That's the trouble. Believe me, I'm thinking of your girl quite as much as of my boy. Nobody blames you at all. How were you to know? But now that you do know, you must see that this companionship won't do."

He opened his lips as if to make some protest, but thought better of it. "If you think so, ma'am," he acquiesced. "But you mustn't get the idea I didn't know what was going on. Ain't much happening 'round here I don't know about," he said. "Only I didn't see no harm myself in letting 'em enjoy themselves. Will's a decent acting lad."

It was the lady's turn to flush. "Let us hope so!" she said, haughtily.

"I made sure of that before I let 'em alone," explained the man, quietly. "But you needn't have sent him away, ma'am. Rhoda's going away herself. I've about made up my mind to send her to boarding school for a few years. That shack of mine ain't no place for a girl to grow up."

"It is quite as good as anything she is used to, isn't it?" questioned the lady, with asperity.

He annoyed her still further by answering, "Yes, ma'am; but in America people don't have to stay at the level of things they are used to—not if they're trying."

Some Cheers for S. Wood, Director

"BLUFF"

Produced by Paramount.
Directed by Sam Wood.
Presented at McVickers' theater.

THE CAST.

Betty Hallowell	Agnes Ayres
Robert Fitzmaurice	Antonio Moreno
Norton Conroy	E. H. Calvert
Waldo Blakely	Clarence Burton
Mr. Kitchell	Fred Butler
Dr. Curtiss	Jack Gardner
Fifine	Pauline Paquette
Jack Hallowell	Roscoe Garns
Algy O'Brian	Edgar Norton

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

It is the prayer of one who can rarely see anything worth while in the acting of Agnes Ayres that she be handcuffed in the future to one Sam Wood, director! In "Bluff" he has seen to it that she is beautiful and a good actress. He has made a fine program picture with Agnes Ayres as the leading woman!

Maybe Mr. Wood has directed the lady before. If he has—he's learned about Agnes from her! One can almost hear his stentorian roar of "Camera!" at a psychological moment. Or a gentle diplomatic voice explaining: "I don't think we'll use 'closeups' in this picture, Miss Ayres. They really aren't being done any more."

Or—perhaps—he kindly permitted the camera to grind on and on in places, making wary mental notes of the places in order that his star might get what was in, out; he knowing that after the film had emerged from the cutting room all would be well.

"Bluff," it seems from this film, is the great game of the Big City. Folks there apparently understand it and nothing else BUT. They cheerfully bluff whomever they can and acquiesce with a fairly amiable readiness when the tables are turned.

We find, then, Betty Hallowell as a poor but beautiful designer of gowns. Because she hasn't a "front" she is turned down by the proprietors of shop after shop. Pretty hard on Betty, for her brother is all crippled up from an automobile accident, "Boss" Kitchell driving. (Tough guy, Boss!)

Mr. Kitchell tries to bluff the young people into admitting that the boy was drunk at the time and to settle for a small amount. They, backed by a hospital staff and a doctor who loves Miss Betty, stand up for their rights. (Twenty thousand and not a cent less, it seems, will put Jack Hallowell on his feet again.)

Stories about a rich and missing Miss Loring, who looks much like the poor and exceedingly much there Miss Hallowell, set the latter's brain fermenting. Brother and sister consult. They arrive at the decision that they'll do some bluffing, too. That starts the ball rolling.

As it whizzes along it carries various interesting personages with it. Interesting because Mr. Wood MAKES them so (who says I'm not out with a horn for him this Wednesday morning?), though of course any lady perfect or otherwise KNOWS that Antonio Moreno couldn't be uninteresting to save his life. (On the screen. Doesn't she?)

Yes, "Bluff" is what I think the average fan would call a good program picture. Certainly he'd never dream of asking for his money back! The plot holds your interest and the picture's nicely condensed into just enough footage.

See you tomorrow!

CLOSEUPS

This week Mae Murray starts production on "Circe," written for her by Vicente Blasco Ibenez. Miss Murray hints that the picture may be finished in Europe.

New York is luring the Hollywood film players to such an extent that a press agent writes frantically it's "almost impossible to cast a production in California any more."

When producers of so-called comedies are so hard put for material that they have to use panic stricken babies for the "punch" it seems to me it's time for them to call it a day! Yesterday I saw two terrified little toddlers turned upside down, pushed about, and otherwise terribly put upon. For nothing at all. SUCH things should NOT be permitted in the movies!

BEG YOUR PARDON!

In the Picture section of the SUNDAY TRIBUNE of May 11 apepared a picture of Maj. James Edward Monroe of Jacksonville, Fla., who claims he is the youngest son of President James Monroe who died in 1831. Inquiry reveals that he also claims he was born on the day his father died. Records show that Mrs. Monroe died in 1830 and that the former President at his death was survived by two daughters and no sons. Neighbors of the hermit say he appears to be something over 80 and well preserved. The picture and statement concerning Maj. Monroe were supplied by the Wide World photo service.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Henry L. Wells, 5623 Drexel avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you think the passage of the bonus bill tended to destroy or cheapen patriotism?

Where Asked.

Washington square.

The Answers.

Albert Clevenger, 153 Institute place, student—Well, there's one thing sure, they deserve all they will get, especially those who served overseas. Bonuses in cash or insurance may seem to some persons to cheapen patriotism to some extent, but the soldiers certainly earned them.

Mrs. Ruth Douglas, 812 North La Salle street, housewife—I don't believe so. I don't believe people have yet forgotten their debt. If another war should come immediately we coudn't ask the soldiers again to do their bit unless we had shown this consideration for them.

J. S. Jeanes, 905 Townsend street, cook—Can't see that it should. Think it will help. They may want to call on them again. If the former soldiers are treated right now they will feel more like going. I was in five drives in France and know what war means.

Miss Idamai Sharpe, 830 North La Salle street, student—If that lessens patriotism there's something wrong with our patriotism. We should be willing to do as much for them as they did for us. The bonus is our best way to show our appreciation.

Harold Sutton, 67 West Delaware place, steamfitter—I know it made a lot of the boys sore because they didn't get what was promised them anyhow, particularly in Canada. In Canada the boys got a lot of promises but few returns. They are doing better for the boys here, fortunately.

Players Who'll Be in "The Werewolf": News of the Stage

A revised roster of "The Werewolf," to be shown June 1 in the Adelphi, omits the name of Miss Charlotte Walker, who was bulletined as taking over one of the principal parts from Miss Laura Hope Crews. Others besides Miss Marion Coakley and Leslie Howard, mentioned here yesterday, are Miss Gaby Fleury, Miss Ruth Mitchell, Miss Mary Robson, Warburton Gamble, Sydney Paxton, Lennox Pawle, and Miss Bela Lugosi. . . . Miss Fleury was recently in Chicago with Leo Ditrichstein in "The Business Widow"; Miss Robson was with Miss Florence Reed in "The Lullaby"; and Mr. Pawle was with Mrs. Fiske in "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary."

Last night's bulletin from New-York on the warring managers has it that the two associations are still glaring at each other, and that the die-hards are vocal in accusing the secessionists of conspiring to make the actors' union a Shubert organization. . . . And the die-hards, having expressed their willingness to live with the union, now say they'll do their dying in preference to a realliance with the Shuberts. . . . But, as one sad actor in Chicago said yesterday, "all hope of a strike is gone!"

"Blossom-Time," the operetta based on Schubert's music, is again an offering in New-York.

The magnates of the burlesque-shows are said to be eager to acquire the Great Northern. . . . They used the Olympic this season, after disposing of the Adelphi (which they operated for years as the Columbia) to A. H. Woods. . . . The Great Northern, opened in 1896, has been utilized for most of the other forms of entertainment, including treadmill variety.

Miss Ina Claire and Bruce McRae have expressed a desire to take part in some special afternoon performances of Mrs. Melanie Koll's play, "The Lady of the Streets," which has been mentioned for production by Lester Bryant. . . . Miss Mary Newcomb also is said to have an eye for the title-rôle of Mrs. Koll's play. . . . Another of her pieces, a comedy called "The Sunday Husband," is in Mr. Bryant's possession.

Mr. Kettering, whose "Easy Street" is on view, says he is at work on an opus called "Scorners."

Joseph Schildkraut, who's been performing in "The Highwayman" since its American première last Christmas in Chicago, expects to get a New-York hearing in it week-after-next.

Bow to British Royalty Made by Americans

Gorgeous Scene at Opening Court.

BY ELIZABETH CRAIG.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 20.—Yankee femininity in the persons of a number of American debutantes and wives of American diplomats made the privileged bow to British royalty when they were presented to King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham palace tonight. The presentations will continue tomorrow night.

The scene was gorgeous. Colors there were of every description and gowns ranged in stately lines from the medieval to the modern day.

Senora Alfonso Merry Del Val, wife of the Spanish ambassador, the dean of the diplomatic corps here, presented Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, wife of the American ambassador, to King George and Queen Mary, who followed with the presentation of American girls and matrons. Ten more will be presented tomorrow night. Twenty are being presented altogether.

Miss Natalie Hammond made her debut in pale apricot souple satin cut on seventeenth century lines with a tiny bodice and skirt rather wide at the hem. Her gown was garlanded from top to bottom, and likewise her cloth of silver train, with a tiny pastel of flowers flecked with crystals.

Mrs. Howard Donovan chose an all white creation for her first appearance at court. It was of white crêpe de chine, cut svelte, and beaded all over in a lovely design with crystal tassels, which rippled and sparkled when she moved. Her court train was beaded in the same glittering way.

Mrs. William Dana Orcutt wore a gown of drap d'argent, embossed with poppies and wheat ears, trimmed with diamante. Her court train of silver lace was lined with the same priceless cloth.

Mrs. Frank Braham, nee Rockman of California, made her choice a lovely white satin gown lined with pink. Her court train was of silver lace, lined with blush pink chiffon and with a large full bloom rose tucked to the left side of the waist.

Miss Constance Deighton Simpson of Los Angeles wore white satin, sprinkled in fairylike fashion with diamante on the corsage. The skirt showed a filmy veiling of white tulle and her white satin jupon had an edging of silver lace.

Miss Elizabeth Wallace made her début in white satin lined with pale pink and cut on rather clinging lines. Her court train to match was suspended from the shoulders with straps of pearls.

Among the other smart Americans attending the court tonight was Lady Leigh, who had chosen ivory satin and beaute souple entirely embroidered with crystals and pearls. Her manteao de cour was hand woven satin broche faconne with long diamond ornaments fastened on the shoulders.

Mrs. Newton Booth Knox went to court with Lady Arthur Browne and made a lovely picture in her court gown of silver lame and pale pink changeant.

Miss Carol Glorney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Glorney and granddaughter of Isaac Guggenheim, was presented by Viscountess Falkland She wore a pale pink gown trimmed with filmy feather banding of pink shaded ostrich feathers

Safe All the Time.

Not long ago I was on a street car with a young man and was trying to act very grownup. I thought I was succeeding in making the desired good impression.

This particular car line goes four blocks past my stop and waits there fifteen minutes before returning.

Upon getting off the car I discovered that my brand new long black kid gloves were missing, and as the car had by that time a pretty good start we began to run after it, and had to go the whole four blocks. Arriving breathless, we searched around in the car with the help of an obliging motorman and conductor.

Then, in raising my hands carelessly in an attitude of despair, there were the gloves, large as life, rolled back and tucked in neatly on my wrists.

Minus a Sale.

I am a student, clerking part time downtown in a millinery store. The other day the store was crowded and I had a young girl for a customer, and with her a woman who seemed many years older.

I placed a becoming hat on the girl's head and then said, "Show it to your mother."

The woman's eyes snapped and she indignantly said:

"Mother, indeed! I'm not even married!"

She, with my late customer, stalked out of the store, and I, embarrassed to tears, stood, hat in hand, staring after them.

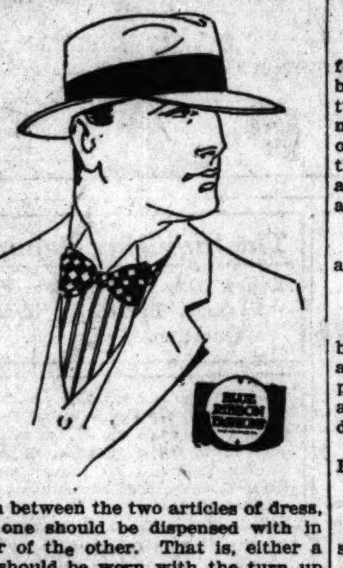
MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

What's Wrong Here?



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The handsome young man who generally decorates one corner of these articles has been forced by our artist today to appear in a costume that he would never consent to wear if he did not come out of a bottle of ink.

For purposes of illustration, our artist has depicted Apollo, as we have named him, wearing a wing collar and a turn down hat. Now, as a matter of fact, the young man would never be incarcerated for appearing in public thus, but it is not quite good style.

As we have said many times, the wing collar is a more formal article of wear, and lends that formal note to practically every costume with which it is worn.

On the other hand, the hat with the turn down brim is informal in every way, is worn on informal occasions with sport clothes or for city wear when the attire is informal, and generally sounds the keynote of lounge clothes.

Thus it may be seen that there is a clash between the two articles of dress, and one should be dispensed with in favor of the other. That is, either a hat should be worn with the turn up brim or the wing collar should be dispensed with.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Should Sleep Out of Doors.

"Can you help me to secure a tent for my husband to live in? He has been sick and unable to work for over two years. I think he would improve more rapidly if I could get him to live out of doors as much as possible while the weather permits. I thank you in advance, because I know you will do all within your power to help me.

"MRS. M. W."

I do hope this plea will be heard and answered.

Would Appreciate Go-Cart.

"Being in need of a go-cart for my baby boy of 16 months, I thought of asking if some kind reader can supply same. I am in poor circumstances and the mother of three small children.

MRS. S. R."

It there a discarded cart for Mrs. R.'s baby?

Offers Telegraph Set.

"I have a small practice telegraph set which I would like to pass along.

"M. R."

May I ask the person interested to make application soon?

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pressed Curds.

One of the native born women of Charleston, S. C., told me most enthusiastically about pressed curds and cream. She maintained that these curds were nothing but clabber of whole milk with the moisture or whey pressed out of it, in a curd press, and that I could easily enough buy the press for making this delightful summer dish. So the last thing I did in that city was to go where she directed, and buy a little perforated tin cup with a little ringed disk to put over the clabbered milk to be put in it.

I also found these curd presses in a fine hardware store in Washington, and I presume they are easier to find anywhere than we who had never happened to know about them would guess. But I did not find them in the shapes of hearts, as she said I might, or as there used to be.

Sour or clabbered milk, she maintained, so treated was much finer than cottage cheese. You will find it more acid and, therefore, perhaps more palatable than most of the cottage cheese made and it is excellent with cream, with sugar in addition, if you wish.

These curd presses have little knobs on the bottom to raise them high enough for the whey to run off. It is best to set them on a board while it is doing so, and not in a pan to save the whey, for if the whey is left around the curd it will be spongy.

I have not been able to find in any cook book a description of a curd pressed thus, but only of one made with rennet to hasten the setting or jellying of the milk, and the cheese to be of half cream. One of these recipes has finally this: "These are Arcadian dishes; delicious, cheap, and easily prepared."

Reception by Deaf League.

The president and directors of the Chicago League for the Hard of Hearing will give a reception at 8 o'clock this evening at Community house for Miss Susan Murphy, recently appointed executive secretary of the organization. Mrs. A. L. Drum is president of the league.

Apollo Musical Club Raising Fund for Deficit

The Apollo Musical club, Chicago's oldest musical organization, is making an effort to clear away a small deficit accumulated through the last few years. A campaign to raise a fund for this purpose is under the direction of William A. Wallace, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Maude N. Rea, treasurer of the club. The organization's offices are in the Lyon & Healy building.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Sheldon's mother was at the shoe store with him, buying shoes for herself. In order to keep him out of mischief, she promised to get him a pair also. In a moment, he had taken both his shoes off.

"What did you take them off for?" asked his mother.

"So he can weigh my feet to know the size I take," was the prompt answer.

Johnny was at the barber shop getting his hair trimmed. He told the barber about a newly arrived sister, of whom he was proud.

"Bring her down and have her hair bobbed," the barber suggested.

"Nothing doing," Johnny answered. "She came with her hair bobbed."

M. S. P.

Mary had the habit of asking our neighbor, "What have you got for me this morning?"

Her mother reprimanded her for doing it. The following morning our neighbor called.

Mary was quiet for quite awhile, then said, "And what have you got for yourself this morning?"

A. A.

When Russell, aged 6, was asked why he didn't fight when the strange boy insulted him, he replied indignantly: "Well! I didn't know how old he was."

Miss Frances Taft Becomes Bride of Woolsey Pollock

In a bridal costume befitting the background of the largest of churches Miss Frances Taft was married yesterday to Woolsey McAlpine Pollock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Pollock of Lake Forest, in the apartment of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oren B. Taft of 220 East Walton place, before fewer than twenty witnesses. Miss Taft's gown was of white satin, square necked and with chiffon sleeves and a long court train. Her veil was of voluminous folds of tulle shaped to fit her head with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal flowers were a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Philip F. W. Peck, the bride's sister and only attendant, wore a gown of gray blue chiffon of simple lines, a picture hat of brown tulle, and carried a bouquet of yellow and blue spring flowers. The ceremony was performed before the fireplace banked in greens with tall vases of Easter lilies and altar candles on each side. A dinner followed the ceremony. Mrs. A. A. Stewart of New York, Mrs. Taft's mother, and Mrs. Atterbury, sister of the bridegroom, were among those who had come from out of town for the wedding.

Tragedies of Broken Young Lives Due to Home Mismanagement

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I WONDER if there is one girl in the world who could compete with me," writes Cinderella. "I am the unhappiest girl in the world, and my mother is the cause of all my unhappiness.

"I am 19 years of age, old enough to take care of myself. I work hard all day long. When I get home I have to go through the same routine of washing the dishes and doing the rest of the housework. Mother and my two sisters would not think of helping me a little. I give my mother all my pay, out of which I receive $1 for spending money. They wonder what I do with the dollar. Can you imagine that, Miss Blake? I get a dress when I am so shabby I have to have one. I love pretty things. I should not mind it if we were poor, but we are not. We have a beautiful home and my dad makes enough money to support the whole family.

"Mother and dad are too old fashioned. They are too strict. They want me to be that way. How can I be, with my different ideas? I am not allowed to stay out nights after 10 o'clock. If mother ever knew I went out with fellows on the sly, I hate to tell you what she would do to me. I have to leave a dance at 9:30 in order to get home on time. My sisters would not help me. They consider me a baby. I have no standing with them whatever, being the youngest. I have to take all and say nothing. One would think I committed a horrible crime just wanting to do the things girls of my age do.

"I have tried to take mother into my confidence. Other people have, too. But it does no good. I've explained everything to her. But it is no use. She will never change.

"To give you an idea of what happens if I stay out later than 10: A short time ago I went to a dance, although I told mother it was to a show. I left at 10. I was delayed waiting for a street car.

"I arrived home exactly at 11. I can hardly tell you what I went through then. I was almost in hysterics from fright at what would happen. When I got in my father and mother were waiting for me. Before I could explain my delay they both started to beat me. This is the absolute truth, although I can hardly believe it myself. They treat me worse than Cinderella. I cry. But it does no good. How can I pack my troubles in my old kit bag when I have nothing to smile about?

"I have about made up my mind to run away from it all. I want to go out and have a good and decent time. Just the thought of having nobody to nag me and quarrel with me seems too wonderful to be true. Home here is prison. And that would be like a bird out of a cage. CINDERELLA."

Here we have again the old story so familiar to the bureau of missing persons, to the Morals courts, to the Travelers' Aid, and all the other organizations dealing with the runaway girl. In easily 75 per cent of missing and runaway girls it is the home environment that is to blame. I wish the mothers who are so intolerant of the crying need of the young worker for wholesome, youthful pleasures could sit in court for one single morning. Just one morning session would open their eyes to the pitfalls into which they drive the young women. There are a few girls who escape the home without blame attached to the parents. But there are so many, many tragedies of broken young lives due to parental and home mismanagement, just such as Cinderella relates, that I think the parent the one to put on trial when the girl falls into the clutches of the law.

How New Powder Whitens Skin at Night

An entirely new and different face powder has been discovered especially for evening wear. This powder absorbs the yellow rays of artificial light which make the ordinary white powder appear yellow and muddy. This new powder is a fashionable French mauve lavender—a color which has the power of neutralizing yellow rays. On the skin, under artificial light, the lavender completely vanishes leaving the skin a pure, clear, milky white! Try this new powder right away. Ask your druggist for Golden Peacock Pretti-by-Nite Powder. If not delighted, your money will be gladly refunded. Test it today.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Time You Knew.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going out with a girl for about two years. I have asked her to go to the show with me a number of times and she accepted. Every time I see her when we are not close enough to talk she smiles. I like her very much. Would you please tell me how to find out if she really likes me. Yours truly,

"A. B. C."

The best and surest way to find out, A. B. C., would be to ask her, but it seems to me if she has been going out with you for about two years you ought to know the answer without asking—you should be able to tell by her manner toward you, don't you think?

Keep Her Busy.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am an ambitious young man and have been going out with a pretty girl for about eight months. I love her and am thinking of getting engaged to her. But lately she has acted indifferently and I suspect she is going out with another fellow, although she says she is not. Please advise me what to do.

"HOPEFUL SHEIK."

Better be on the job and keep the young lady so busy and so interested that she won't have time to think about other boys if you feel that way about it. But you must not criticize her for accepting the attentions of others when you have not popped the question.

LEAVING SPOON IN CUP.

A silver spoon was sticking up;
Somebody left it in the cup.
Somebody made a motion—
Splash!
The tea was spilled, the cup went crash!
Somebody was a Goop, I say,
To leave his spoon that vulgar way.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes were guests at dinner tonight of the Third Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. J. Butler Wright.

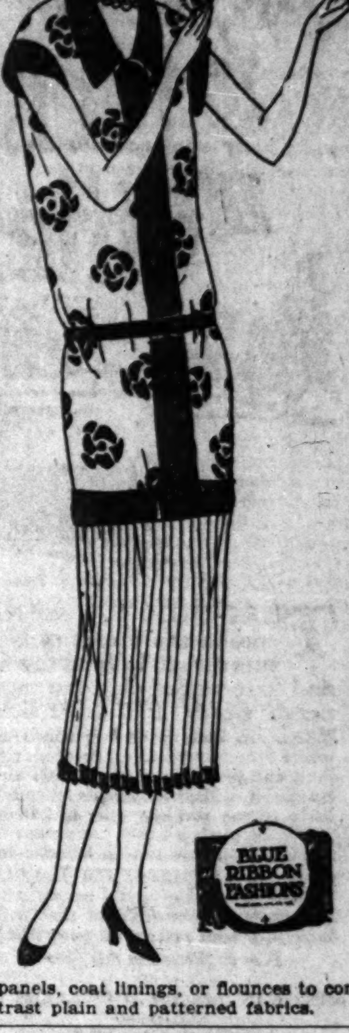
Mrs. Allen F. Moore, wife of Representative Moore of Illinois, had about twenty guests at luncheon today at the Chevy Chase club. Representative and Mrs. Moore expect to leave Washington on May 27 to spend the summer season at their home at Monticello, Ill.

Mrs. Charles Sabin of New York, arrived in Washington today to attend the tea which Mrs. Harry Wardman is giving tomorrow for the Republican women of Washington.

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt has returned to Washington for a brief visit.

Printed Foulard Tunic Tops Plain Foulard Skirt

by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—What to put on in a hurry? Even the calmest and most methodical woman gets into a jam sometimes, and she, like the rest of us more fretted creatures, must have one dress ready to slip on quickly. For this purpose nothing could be more adaptable than the model we show today.

A tunic blouse and plaited skirt may be adjusted almost in a twinkling. So, when an unexpected caller comes to disturb your afternoon nap or a belated laundress retards your start to morning bridge or informal luncheon with your best friend, such a costume will prove a life saver. Moreover, you are bound to appear unruffled in this calm color scheme of navy blue and gray. The entire frock is of foulard silk. Blue on gray ground makes the blouse pattern, gray is used for the pleated skirt, and the edging bands are of navy.

Almost tailored is the effect of this simplicity. If more elaboration is desired printed chiffon will be found more suitable. One graceful model which depended solely on plaits for its ornamentation was executed in chiffon patterned in black and gray and accompanied by a cape finished with a clipped ostrich collar.

However, for the three-quarter tunic—which, by the way, has lost nothing of its prestige with the season's advance—printed silk is the most desirable fabric. Indeed, one never fails to remark the wide variety of application of crêpes and silks in printed patterns. If anything more were needed to stimulate interest in these materials, the French fashion exposition has provided a basis. Not only were prints combined with velvets and satins in ensembles of great richness, but smart little jackets of patterned silk or crêpe to be worn with plain crêpe suggested another outlet for these gifted fabrics.

The message of these displays declared the most effective way of using prints is to set them off with harmonizing plain colors. We show today one way of this combination. But, especially in the three piece costume, there are many methods of arranging panels, coat linings, or flounces to contrast plain and patterned fabrics.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MATRON. I DON'T THINK IT A good idea to abandon a corset suddenly at your age. Where one has accustomed herself to this support for years, it is dangerous to remove it suddenly. However, this may be a day of preparation for a few months hence, say. Begin to strengthen the abdominal walls with some daily exercise, perhaps five minutes morning and night for a week or so, then gradually increase until you can do twelve to fifteen minutes without fatigue. In other words, build yourself a muscle corset to replace the steel and cloth one. If you send me s. a. e., I will supply you the right kind of exercise for this.

CLARABELLE: UNDILUTED PEROXIDE of hydrogen is recommended for bleaching the elbows, or if you think that is too strong dilute it with water. Apply with a sponge, and leave on to dry. Massaging them at night with cold cream will keep the skin from wrinkling and will bleach by removing the grime.

The Call to Men in Cities

THROUGH Wisconsin speaks the Heart of Nature to men in dusty towns and four-walled cities; to men nerve weary and heart sick. Wisconsin calls with her roads of white concrete winding through upland and lowland of greenfields and timbered hillsides. Roads through little towns and big — by lakes and rivers through all that panorama of the Out-of-Doors that is Wisconsin. Come to Wisconsin, the Land O' Lakes—fish and golf and tramp 'mid the natural surroundings that will heal your soul and mend your body.

The Feudal Halls of ENGLAND

A TOUR through England would be incomplete without visiting a selection of her "Stately Homes." Three of the most famous are in beautiful Derbyshire—Hardwick Hall, "more glass than wall," regal Chatsworth, and old-world Haddon Hall with its pretty story of Dorothy Vernon's elopement. Derby, the County Town is an excellent base from which to visit these wonderful old places; also Nottingham, Southwell, etc., the heart of the "Merrie England" of the time of Robin Hood.

Others include Alton Towers, Staffordshire; Burghley, Drayton, Castle Ashby, and Holdenby (Holmby) House, Northamptonshire; Eden Hall and Levens near the Lake District—all of which may be visited in easy sequence by arranging your tour by LONDON MIDLAND AND SCOTTISH RAILWAY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

For a few minutes yesterday the humble Phillies had Vic Keen thinking he wasn't much of a hurler. They plowed into him for three runs in the first three innings, but from then on Vic was something else as a slabber and he simply breezed through the remaining chapters while his Cub mates were harpooning a couple of Quaker pitchers for a 7 to 4 triumph and second place in the percentage column.

Keen's performance was slightly peculiar in that he allowed only five hits, all of which were for extra sacks and totaled seventeen bases. Two of these healthy taps, one a homer, occurred in the first, and the third frame brought two more, including another homer. After that, however, the Phils fared poorly and only one of them reached first base in the six concluding rounds.

Cubs Cut Loose.

The two early assaults on Keen put the Cubs at a disadvantage, but they refused to stay put very long. They tied it in the opener after the Phils had scored one in their half, and following the visitors' two run sortie in the third the Bruins tore loose in earnest, scoring three runs in their half. That put them in the van by a lone tally, and they subsisted on that until the seventh and eighth, when three more were added.

In their anxiety to put over a win the Cubs were forced to push Whitey Glazner right off the scene. They tore into him for five hits in the third and Betts was ordered to the rescue. He put a sudden stop to the rally and then went along stylishly until the seventh and eighth, when the Cubs notched four hits, one of them a home run by Ray Grimes. That was the only four sack smash uncorked by the Cubs, but they went fairly strong on two baggers.

Sand Hits Homer.

Sand, the only gent who uncorked more than a lone hit off Keen, gave the fans something to think about in the first inning by riding the ball into the left field bleacher. Vic then disposed of Walker and Mokan but Williams worried him a bit, so a pass resulted. It was Vic's only ticket of the day. Ford followed with a double and the bull pen occupants began to bestir themselves, but Keen pulled through by nailing Holke.

The Cubs' first stand didn't promise anything until after two were out. Then Grantham poled a double to left center and Grimes walked. Friberg tore off a single that scored Grantham and Grigsby drew a pass but there were no more runs.

When the third opened Sand was up again and he slammed the ball down the left field line. The pill rolled into the drain gutter in front of the stand and Grigsby couldn't locate it until Sand had reached third. Next came Walker with a smack into the right field seats, putting the Phils ahead by 3 to 1.

Cubs Go Into Lead.

The thing that started the Cubs on their way in the third was a double by Hollocher. Grantham drove him home with a single and went to second on the throw in. Grimes fanned, but Friberg, Grigsby, and Heathcote followed with singles that scored two more, put Glazner to rout and gave the Cubs a lead that they never relinquished.

After Grimes had notched his homer into the left field seats in the seventh the Cubs came back in the eighth with a couple more hits, that with the only error of the game, gave them two tallies. Grigsby singled, Heathcote sacrificed and Hartnett walked. A double steal was started and when Henline threw wild to third, Grigsby continued homeward. A moment later Statz doubled Hartnett across. That completed the day's doings except for a homer that Mokan lifted into the left field bleacher in the ninth.

Waste Paper Burns After Cubs Victory

CHILLY RAIN KEEPS SOX BY FIRESIDES

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—[Special.]—A drizzling rain with a February chill on it made today a day for the White Sox ball players to sit by the fireside instead of performing on the ball field, and Manager Collins sat with them in a secluded room in the hotel for one hour after lunch, during which time a discussion was held on various ways to win ball games while Johnny Evers is confined to the hospital.

Eddie didn't give us a copy of the speech he made, but the boys declared it was impressive and strong. Eddie referred to it as just an ordinary talk at the ordinary kind of meeting.

The chances are that an effort was made to get together on hit and run signs and on a defense for the hidden ball trick. Seems as if on one or two occasions a switch in signs was made without letting all the boys in on it, and disaster was the natural result.

It is quite apparent that Collins is right at home as a manager, though this is really the first time he has been in complete charge of a team.

Charley Robertson, one of the crippled athletes, is back with us. The clever pitcher arrived from Chicago this morning and announced that the trouble in his elbow has disappeared and that he feels ready to work.

Maurice Archdeacon was back with the club today after giving an exhibition of circling the bases in Washington yesterday at a benefit show for the Olympic fund. He was the only one to compete and did his stunt in :13 4-5, record time.

SQUARES AND CANTON DIVIDE A DOUBLE BILL

Canton, O., May 20.—[Special.]—Chicago Logan Squares and Canton divided a Midwest league double header here today, Canton winning the first, 5 to 0, and losing the second, 4 to 1. Vaughn was seldom in trouble in the first game, while Canton hit hard and bunched half of its blows in the third inning. Hersche had one bad inning in the second game, three hits and a walk giving the Squares three runs.

In Motordom

by J. L. JENKINS

As humidity is to heat so is reckless driving to speed, according to scores of automobile drivers who have written to THE TRIBUNE commenting on the "slow down" campaign now in full swing on the boulevards.

A few of the readers commend the twenty-mile-an-hour policy as a practical means of reducing automobile accidents, but the majority point to reckless driving, cutting in and out of traffic, pulling from the curb without signal, failing to stop before entering boulevards and through streets, and running through automatic stop signals as the principal cause of wrecks.

Traffic students agree that the "unwritten law" limit of thirty miles an hour on most Chicago boulevards, particularly where they are wide and not seriously congested, is a safe limit while the car running twenty miles an hour forms a driving problem. These drivers want a definite speed limit set and carried out to the letter. Not one car in ten, they declare, observes the present twenty miles an hour speed and a law thus uniformly broken leads to all of the driving excesses.

Ald. Frank J. Tomczak, chairman of the Chicago safety commission, is pushing another measure for the general benefit of Chicago motorists. His contention is that parking, other than that required by persons actually visiting business houses, should be prohibited on all street car streets in the city.

The measure strikes at business men who drive their cars to work and leave them parked at the entrances of their own stores, banks and office buildings for hours at a time while customers must park at a distance.

N. U. NINE PUTS U. C. IN BIG TEN CELLAR, 7 TO 4

University of Chicago cinched the cellar title in the Big Ten baseball race yesterday when Northwestern defeated the Midway gents at Stagg field, 7 to 4. The Maroons failed to solve Ralph Bengsten's offerings. It was the second time that the Evanstonians have downed Chicago this year.

Chicago opened auspiciously by scoring three runs in the initial frame but Northwestern wiped out the lead in the succeeding stanza by bunching its hits to score four tallies, having counted once in the first inning. The Maroons brought the count to 5-4 in the fifth but three hits in the seventh gave the Purple two runs and the victory.

After that inning Joey Gubbins who took John Howell's place on the mound in the fifth inning set the batsmen down in good shape, but neither did Bengsten's consistent hurling relax. Dempsey, Northwestern's right fielder, streaked across the pasture in the sixth to nab what seemed a homer from Hughes' bat and Kearville, Bengsten and Gohn all brightened up the game a bit by providing three two baggers.

PARELLI FLOPS MEYERS TO KEEP HIS MAT TITLE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Whether the making of 158 pounds at 6 o'clock last evening had anything to do with taking away Meyers' strength and endurance is not known, but the Italian showed to much better advantage in the last two falls. Johnny won the first fall in 9:40 with his famous stopper hold, which was clamped on when least expected.

The men had been on the mat for 44:05 in the second fall when Parelli secured a step over toe lock and the challenger conceded the fall. The third and deciding fall came after 8:15 with a flying mare followed by a cross body lock. The flying mare was secured after Joe had clamped on eight head locks in succession. These left Meyers practically helpless and Joe threw him heavily to the mat with the flying hold.

Parelli the Stronger.

Time after time both matched strength with vicious locks and invariably Parelli proved the stronger. Johnny secured head scissors and wrist locks and body scissors and wrist locks, but the champion broke them with apparent ease. These locks spelled defeat for many challengers while Meyers was the title holder.

Even in the third and deciding fall, Meyers showed no resistance or defense for the head lock. Shortly after they locked holds in this fall it was apparent the Italian was bent on pinning his man with the head hold. Still Johnny was able to protect himself only feebly. It was then that strength and endurance counted and Joe tossed the former champion around the ring in comparatively easy fashion.

Parelli proved himself a real champion and many believe he will retain the honors for sometime. He is young and strong, willing to learn and will give all challengers a chance at the title providing they make the middleweight poundage of 158 pounds either at the ringside or four hours before the contests.

Furnass Beats Evans.

In the opening bout of one fall, Dr. Carl Furnass, formerly of the University of Illinois, defeated his old instructor, Capt. Walter Evans, in 20:25 with a body scissors and wrist lock. Jack Sacks of the Chicago Hebrew institute was victor over August Sepp of Kansas City in the second bout. The local grappler took the one fall contest with a head lock in 20:20, while Lou Talaber of Chicago defeated Sammy Sandow of Long Beach, Cal., in 21:30. The Californian conceded the fall after Talaber secured a combination double wrist and hammerlock.

The attendance was estimated at 6,000 and the receipts about $10,000.

ZBYSZKO POSTS COIN

In all probability Stanislaus Zbyszko, the veteran Pole and former holder of the world's title, will meet Champion Ed Lewis in the main event of John "Doc" Krone's wrestling show at the Coliseum on May 28. At any rate, the promoters and Zbyszko are willing to meet the champion's demand of $10,000 to meet the challenger.

If the match is closed it will be the third time the champion and the Pole have met since the first of the year. Lewis beat the Pole in Dexter Park pavilion before capacity houses.

Three bouts will feature the wrestling show at the Lincoln Gardens, 31st street and Rhodes avenue, tomorrow night, proceeds of which will go to the St. Monica's church fund. Marty Cutler and Andre Anderson will clash in the feature, while the other bouts will bring together Joe Wallace and Jack Stanley and Jack McCarthy and Joe Zickman.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

WASHING DIRTY EGG BREAKS SEAL, LOWERS QUALITY.

NO breakfast food manufacturer has been able to compete with the barnyard egg factory in preparing a sealed pack breakfast food. G. W. McIlroy of the University of Illinois says the egg is the original sealed pack breakfast food, but when it is washed with a damp cloth the bloom is removed and the seal broken.

He explains that when an egg is laid the shell is sealed with a protective coat known as the bloom, which may be compared to a coat of fine cement put over rough concrete in that it fills up the space between the coarse particles. It prevents evaporation from the egg, the development of molds, and keeps out destructive bacteria.

Many poultrymen still follow the practice of washing eggs. Keeping the eggs clean from the time they are laid, instead of letting them get dirty and then washing them, is the only satisfactory solution of the problem, and guarantees a better quality of eggs, says the expert.

The hens' muddy feet, caused by muddy yards with poor drainage, cause more dirty eggs than all other factors combined, according to his observation."

BLUE GRASS COLT 1ST CHICAGO DERBY ENTRY

BY FRENCH LANE.

The Kentucky colt Energy, owned by J. B. Respass, whose horses are now quartered at Churchill Downs, in Louisville, is the first 3 year old to be nominated for the Chicago Derby, which is to be revived at Hawthorne on July 12.

The entry was received by General Manager Joseph A. Murphy of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association yesterday. Entry blanks for the Chicago Derby and other stake events to be run during the summer at Hawthorne were sent out a few days ago.

Expect Black Golf.

It was also announced by Mr. Murphy that he had received a letter from S. C. Nuckols, now serving as steward at Churchill Downs and who will act in a similar capacity at Hawthorne, that Black Gold, the winner of last Saturday's Kentucky Derby, and nearly every other western horse that started in the Golden Jubilee race will be named for the Chicago Derby.

Owner Respass, aside from entering Energy in the Derby, registered the following horses for shipment here:

Visits Other Tracks.

Mr. Murphy will remain in Chicago until Thursday, when he will leave on a trip that will take him to Canada, New York, and Latonia, where he will have a chance to urge owners who contemplate sending horses to Chicago to bring only those that are in racing condition, because the applications for stable room have far exceeded the capacity at the Hawthorne track.

BLACK GOLD WILL RUN IN DERBY AT MAPLE HEIGHTS

Louisville, May 20.—[United News.]—Like his mother, who campaigned on the quarter mile tracks of the sporting backwoods, Black Gold, the winner of last Saturday's Kentucky Derby, will shake a hoof on the Maple Heights track at Maple Heights, O., in the $5,000 Ohio Derby next Saturday.

Mrs. Rosa M. Hoots, the widow from Oklahoma, whose husband owned Useeit, the mother of Black Gold, agreed today to the terms offered by John T. Ireland on behalf of the Maple Heights stewards. Black Gold will be shipped tomorrow.

Auto Row Handball Experts Open 30 Day Tournament

Auto row's handball experts got a workout yesterday, when their tourney started at Carsey's Health club on South Wabash avenue. The sets will continue for the next thirty days. Leading matches yesterday were:

Heffron [21—20—21] defeated Bosco [14—21—16].
Lauder [21—17—21] defeated Trignano [19—21—18].

HOLLYWOOD SCENTS A ROMANCE BETWEEN DEMPSEY AND ESTELLE

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 20.—[United News.]—Estelle Taylor, the movie actress, is the latest little girl to have her name coupled with that of Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion.

Maybe the rumor means something and maybe it doesn't, but the movie colony felt it was strengthened when Jack gave Estelle a birthday party Monday night. Both admit great fondness for each other.

CARP USES INDIANA SAND TO TEST PUNCH

Michigan City, Ind., May 20.—[United News.]—Georges Carpentier is using ordinary Indiana sand to develop a punch which will annihilate Tom Gibbons when the two meet here May 31. The sand is inside a bag. Georges collected it himself with his little spade and bucket and he showed those watching him Tuesday how hard and fast he could hit.

Ledoux joined the Carpentier camp Tuesday, but he did not do any boxing. Carpentier sparred with two big fellows, two rounds with Soldier King, Grand Rapids light heavyweight, and two with Jack Taylor, the colored light heavy.

Gibbons shut himself away from his admirers part of the day. He said he was developing a short punch that he believed would puzzle Carpentier. He boxed two rounds with Herman and two with Anderson, his sparring partners. Sammy Mandell was delayed on the way here and Gibbons said he would arrive Wednesday.

LEGION SPONSORS BOUT

Laporte, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Branch today instructed John Dilworth, Laporte county prosecutor, to enforce the Indiana prize fight law at the Carpentier-Gibbons fight scheduled for Michigan City May 31. The governor reiterated that he is favorable to the contest so long as it does not become a prize fight. Dilworth and Earl Rowley, former prosecutor, conferred with the governor for some time. J. M. Ranck, Sr., commander of the Michigan City post of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the fight, has written to Gov. Branch pledging observance of the law in conduct of the fight.

LAYTON DOWNS BOB CANNEFAX

Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—John Layton of St. Louis cut down the lead of Robert Cannefax of Detroit in the playoff for the world's three cushion billiard championship tonight by administering to Cannefax his second defeat of the playoff series. Layton won, 60 to 40, in fifty-five innings. Cannefax had a high run of 6; Layton, 5.

DUNDEE-MANDELL BOUT FEATURE OF CLUB'S 1ST SHOW

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

At Atlanta, Ga.—Young Stribling beat Dan O'Dowd [10].
At New York—Eddie Burnbrook beat Paul Doyle [12].

With World's Featherweight Champion Johnny Dundee and Sammy Mandell of Rockford the principals in the main event of the opening show, the newly organized East Chicago A. C. will stage its first series of bouts on June 9.

The new club, of which George Oswego is president and Howard Carr, known in boxing circles as "Kid" Howard, is matchmaker, will conduct all shows in the open air. A lease has been secured on the baseball park, where shows have been held in the past. The park will be partially rebuilt and an arena of the bowl shape type will be ready for the Mandell-Dundee fracas.

It is the intention of the newly organized club to stage shows every week and to secure the best talent available. The arena will be properly lighted and a system installed whereby all lights except those over the ring will be turned out while the boxers are in action. During the one minute intermissions the lights will be turned on, while electrical numbers will be displayed to denote the rounds.

The remainder of the card will be announced in a few days, and Mandell will start training at the Arcade next week. Dundee will be here two weeks in advance of the bout. All fighters must post forfeits for weight and appearance.

After four slashing rounds, one more than the regulation time, John De Pirro was awarded the decision over Jack Zolo in the feature bout of the Arcade gym amateur show last night. Following are the results of the other bouts:

Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., and Connie Curry of Sioux City, Ia., who meet in the windup of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora tomorrow night, finished the strenuous part of training yesterday by boxing with their sparring partners at the local gymnasiums. In fact, the same was true of the boxers in the other six contests, and with warmer weather predicted Mullen expects to stage one of his best shows of the season.

* *

Anthony Downey of Columbus, O., who meets Joe O'Hara of the west side in another ten rounder, made a decided impression at the Arcade, where he boxed six rounds, while the local fans expect Willie Ames of Akron, O., to take the measure of Frankie Garcia in the eight round match. Ed Garvey, the former Notre Dame football player, who makes his professional debut, finished work at the Mullen-McGoorty gym, as did Frankie Schaeffer and Billy McCann.

* *

It is Mullen's plan to match the winners of tomorrow night's show with some of the best boxers in the country. The promoter intends to show new faces throughout the summer, and asserted the best in the various divisions will be pitted against worthy opponents.

Nerve Shocks Cause Gas

Any form of excitement that shocks the delicate nerves of the stomach will disturb the function of that organ and produce gas. Anger, fright, grief and worry, all have an evil effect upon the digestive system; hence, for want of a better term, doctors call this condition "nervous dyspepsia."

Baalmann's Gas-Tablets are made especially for the relief of gas and stomach distress. They act in a safe, natural way upon the weak stomach nerves and glands, gradually helping to restore their normal strength and activity. When this is done you will no longer suffer from gas pains around the heart, palpitation, smothering spells, rumbling noises, bloating, burning, sour taste or drowsiness after eating.

In Chicago get Baalmann's Gas-Tablets from Buck & Rayner Drug Stores or any good druggist, or J. Baalmann, Chemist, San Francisco. Price $1.00 [illegible]

NATIONAL OPEN GOLF PAIRINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

Pairings for the eastern and western qualifying rounds of the National Open golf tourney were announced yesterday by officials of the United States Golf association.

There will be 322 golfers in the field, and 299 of them will be professionals. There were 360 entrants in last year's meet at Inwood, Long Island.

Jim Barnes, former title holder was one of 20 whose entry was rejected because it was received after the closing date, May 14. Jess Sweetser and Francis Ouimet are the only other notables who will be among the missing.

17 Western Amateurs

Of the 25 amateurs, 17 are from the west. Chicagoans in this list include Chick Evans, Ira Couch and S. Davison Herron. The 38 hole qualifying test will be played, next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Oak Park country club, for westerners, and at Worcester, Mass., for the eastern players.

Thirty-nine of the western players will emerge as qualifiers, while 41 from the east will get into the 72 hole championship round at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich., on June 5 and 6.

Lindsay Shoots First.

The first westerners to get under way will be James Lindsay of Oak Park, and Al Espinoza of Chicago, who will tee off at 9 a. m. on Tuesday.

Prominent in the list of western pairings are:

Alex Cunningham, Toledo, and Emmett French, Youngstown; Eddie Loos, Chicago, and George Kerrigan, Los Angeles; Jock Hutchison, Chicago, and Wilfried Peid, Detroit; MacDonald Smith, San Francisco, and Harry Hampton, Canton, O.; Capt. E. F. Carter, Chicago, and Alex Campbell, Cincinnati; Frank Sprogell, Memphis, and John Burke, St. Paul; Tom Lally, San Antonio, and Frank Adams, Chicago; Bill Mehlhorn, Normandy, Mo., and John Black, Wichita, Kas.; George Sargent, Columbus, and Dave Robertson, Redford, Mich.; Bob MacDonald, Chicago, and Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich.; William Hunter, Lake Forest, Ill., and Laurie Ayton, Chicago; J. E. Rogers, Dayton, O., and Abe Espinosa, San Francisco; Chick Evans and S. Davison Herron, Chicago; William McEwan, San Francisco, and Ira Couch, Chicago; Richard Linares, Long Beach, Cal., and Bob White, Chicago.

Bobby Jones of Atlanta, the open champion, is exempt from the qualifying test and is not included in the number of qualifiers provided for.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—William T. Tilden left for Chicago on the Broadway Limited today to appear before the executive committee of the Western Lawn Tennis association tomorrow night, when the player-writer interpretation of the amateur rule will be discussed by protagonists on both sides. The outcome of the conference probably will determine the way the Western association will throw its votes at the anticipated special meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association.

MEETING TONIGHT.

George W. Wightman, president of the U. S. L. T. A., and two other officials of the organization arrived in Chicago yesterday to attend the meeting called by J. C. Stewart, president of the Western association. At the meeting, which will be held tonight in the Hamilton club, the matter of the much talked of player-writer rule will be gone into fully, William T. Tilden, against whom the rule is said to have been aimed, being on hand to state his side of the question.

MISS WILLS, U. S. HOPE IN FRANCE, LANDS IN BRITAIN

LONDON, May 20.—[United News.]—Helen Wills of California, America's woman tennis champion, arrived in London today, accompanied by her mother, and made arrangements at once to begin practicing on the championship courts at Wimbledon.

Miss Wills said she hoped Suzanne Lenglen, the French woman, recognized as the champion of the world among women, would be able to play in the Wimbledon tournament so that there might be an opportunity for a match between them. However, Mlle. Lenglen has announced that she will save herself for the French Olympic team and probably will pass up the Wimbledon competitions.

Austin Seniors Down Crane in Track Meet; Juniors Lose

Continuing a track meet which was started last week, Austin seniors sped away from Crane, 65 1-3 to 38 2-3, at Douglas park yesterday afternoon. The Austin juniors were vanquished, 47 to 39. Capt. Walter Anderson of the winning senior team was high point man, taking first in the 100 yard run and the 220 low hurdles and second in the 220 yard dash and the broad jump, in addition to running on the winning relay quartet.

SENIOR GOLFERS OFF FOR TOURNEY TODAY

BY JOE DAVIS.

Between seventy-five and a hundred members of the Illinois Senior Golf association will leave over the Rock Island road at 10:15 daylight saving time this morning for Peoria, where tomorrow they will compete in the spring tournament.

They will arrive about 2 o'clock this afternoon in time for a little practice over the fine course of the Peoria Country club and at night will be the guests of the club at a dinner. Among the speakers will be President Alex H. Revell, Kenesaw M. Landis, Judge Thomas Taylor, Arthur S. Hook, president of the Oak Park Country club, and A. C. Allen, secretary of the Illinois Seniors' association.

Several more visiting professionals who will compete in the western qualifying rounds for the national open championship at the Oak Park Country club next Tuesday and Wednesday arrived yesterday, among them being Bill Mehlhorn of St. Louis and William C. Gordon of Rockford. The course was in better condition for scoring than on Monday and MacDonald Smith reported with a 73, one over par.

A professional four ball match that will be well worth seeing has been arranged by the Wilmette Golf club for Sunday afternoon. MacDonald Smith, who was third in the British open championship last year, will pair with Eddie Loos of Lake Shore against Jock Hutchison and Laurie Ayton of Evanston for the Olympic fund. Play will start at 2:30 and admission will be $1. Tickets are on sale at Spalding's, The Hub, and Thomas E. Wilson & Co. The Wilmette club is on Lake avenue, two miles west of Wilmette.

Clark Cavenee, chairman of the caddie committee of the Chicago District Golf association, has called a meeting of the chairmen of the member clubs for June 2 at the Union League club at 6:30 p. m.

Bob Gardner, president of the Chicago District Golf association, who recently underwent an operation for hernia, is back at his office. He has made a good recovery, but does not intend to compete in the qualifying round for the national open championship.

E. Hoover Bankard Jr., one of the regulars at the annual Midlothian derby, has been scratched from the classic which will start on Saturday. In playing out of trap his club struck a hard substance and he fractured a small bone in his right wrist.

BILL WISE, TRIB GOLFER, TAKES PRESS CLUB MEET

William Wise of THE TRIBUNE yesterday had low net score of 78 in the Press Golf club tournament at Ridge Country club, and was second gross with 88, two strokes behind John Connell of the Herald and Examiner, who chalked up an 86 despite the heavy going. Summaries:

Second net, G. Weagant, Herald and Examiner, 82; third net, H. F. Munzell, 85; Pete Llanuza and W. Bulow, both of the Herald and Examiner, tied for fourth at 86.

William Sahud of the Post took home the bacon for the low score by an afternoon paper, while Basil G. Wyrick of the Associated Press was handed a ham for scoring a birdie 5 on the longest hole in the world, the eleventh at Ridge, measuring 620 yards.

Don Chamberlain also made a birdie when he knocked a woodpecker out of a tree. Other scores:

C. V. Slattery, H. & E., 87; George Scharschug, Tribune, 87; R. W. Calkins, H. & E., 89; B. G. Wyrick, A. P., 91; Don Chamberlain, Tribune, 92; Jack Palmer, H. & E., 93; William Taylor, H. & E., 93; Charles E. Honce, A. P., 93; Sidney Sutherland, Tribune, 95; Frank W. Carson, H. & E., 97; James Hart, H. & E., 99; Dan Sullivan, Tribune, 101; William Sahud, Post, 102; Frank Cipriani, Post, 104, and H. F. Ross, H. & E., 107.

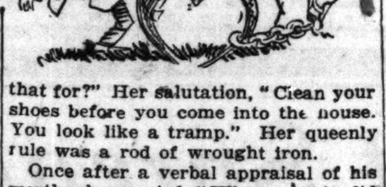
In the Wake of the News

A LOVE IDYL.

DEAR WAKE: Once there lived in my home town of Galesburg a man who was a bachelor and happy. He was never questioned, at any time, concerning late hours, the company he kept, or the use of tobacco.

One day, however, this bachelor stepped into Cupid's bear-trap and was fitted in the matrimonial strait jacket. His home became as comfortable as an auto accessory shop. Once a hunter shot at his wife, thinking she was a blue heron.

The wife's principal comment on his acts was, "What did you GO and DO that for?" Her salutation, "Clean your shoes before you come into the house. You look like a tramp." Her queenly rule was a rod of wrought iron.



Once after a verbal appraisal of his worth, she queried, "Why on earth did a numbskull like you ever marry?"

Meekly he answered, "I am so happy, but I guess I must be selfish."

As parting instructions were being given, the fresh young salesman picked up his bag and started on his initial trip. "Good luck to you," said his chief. "Wire us important news."

As we walked past one of the busiest corners of Louisville on the night before the Derby, there was one of our "loop" newsboys, or rather news men, well remembered for his eccentricities, selling his papers with the same pathetic drawl and air of dejection which attracts so many costumers here. Yesterday we saw him back at his accustomed loop corner.

THE QUESTION BOX.

DIXON, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—Please let me have the following information: In fishing with hook and line, is it lawful to keep any bass other than a black bass? (2) Is a big mouth or slough bass considered a black bass?

GEORGE F. READ.

Answer—There is nothing to prevent you from keeping rock bass or other bass if legally taken on hook and line. (2) Yes, a big mouthed bass is considered a black bass.

Plainfield, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—Could you give me information about night herons or tell me where I can find information about them?

HAROLD PATTERSON.

The black crowned night heron builds its nest in the top of a tall tree, especially cypresses, swamp oaks, and maples, at the edge of a swamp. When hundreds get together, forming quite a colony, they're a noisy lot, and one can hear their quawking for some distance. They are quite nocturnal in their habits, choosing to do their fishing and hunting for frogs, fishes, and other animals after dusk.

PARK OFFICIALS AID TRIB IN BIKE RACES

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Officials of the west parks of Chicago will coöperate with THE TRIBUNE in the running of the third annual bicycle Derbies which will be held next Sunday morning starting at 9 o'clock in Humboldt park. Full permission has been obtained for the staging of the races.

John Dill Robertson, former health commissioner and now president of the west park commission, is a great believer in outdoor sports. In fact, he is one of the strongest advocates of outdoor activities in the country and is highly pleased to support the bicycle sport as an aid to the youth of Chicago.

Police to Be on Hand.

William Stocker, chief of the west park police, will be on hand with a large detail of officers for the protection of the riders and spectators. With a turnout of fans such as appeared last year—there were more than 20,000 at the 1923 races—it is necessary to have a large detail of police on hand. The officers will keep the course clear to allow the racers every chance. Assisting Chief Stocker will be Sergts. Hannah, Shanahan, Burke, and Jay.

William Barclay, superintendent of parks, and his helpers will play no little part in making plans for the races. Superintendent Barclay will see that the course over which the riders will compete is ready and that a stand for the acting officials is erected at the finish line, which will be opposite Kosciuszko monument at the North avenue entrance.

Entries Printed Sunday.

With the entry list returned by the handicapping committee of the Amateur Bicycle League of America, with time allowances for each rider in the twenty-five mile race indicated, the complete list of nominations for each of the seven races will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. This will allow each rider to pick out his number before he arrives at the course and will aid the clerks in handing out the number plates at the track, avoiding delays.

CHICAGO BOXERS WIN BOUTS IN OLYMPIC TRIALS

Boston, Mass., May 20.—[Special.]—Two Chicago boxers tonight won bouts in the national amateur championships which are being conducted to select members of the American Olympic team. In the second trial of the 118 pound class Matteo Curaso beat Floyd Deacons of the U. S. army and in the 135 pound class Jack Rubin won a decision over Walter F. Daly of Boston.

POWELL HIGH IN PIN MEET

Eddie Powell's 652 score in the singles event was yesterday's high mark in the Illinois state bowling tourney, which ends its six weeks' run at Petersen's 35th street alleys tonight. Smith and Stoden had the day's high doubles score, a 1,227.

18 TEAMS IN HI-Y MEET.

Eighteen teams from nine departments of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. will compete in the annual outdoor Hi-Y track and field meet today at 4 p. m. at the Sears-Roebuck Y. M. C. A.

THE HOW AND WHY OF OLYMPIC GAMES

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Article III.

IN the selection of the American track and field team to compete in the Olympic games in France in July, the committee has hit upon a plan which should result in the best athletes of the nation being chosen to represent the nation in the world's competition.

As stated in a previous article, winners of the various sectional intercollegiates will be eligible for the final tests in Boston on June 13 and 14. These will be held in the Harvard stadium. The eastern intercollegiate will be held at Cambridge on May 30 and 31, while the annual games of the Missouri valley conference will be held in the Memorial stadium of the University of Nebraska on the same days.

The western conference track and field meet will be staged on Stagg field June 6 and 7. The Big Ten games bid fair to eclipse any held in recent years, as there are numerous contenders for places on the American Olympic team, and the struggles for first places in the individual events will bring about some sparkling performances.

The American Olympic committee has also designated the time and place for the holding of trials for noncollege athletes. As in the college competition, winners of the individual events will automatically qualify for the finals in Boston in June. Following are the date and places of the sectional trials for the noncollege athletes:

New York City—June 7 for the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, District of Columbia, and Porto Rico.

Atlanta, Ga.—June 7 for North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Tennessee.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—May 31 for Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Iowa City, Ia.—May 31 for North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, and Iowa.

Lawrence, Kas.—May 31 for Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Colorado.

New Orleans—May 30 and 31 for Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Canal Zone.

Portland, Ore.—May 31 for Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and Alaska.

Trials for athletes of the states of Utah, Nevada, Northern California, Hawaii, and Philippines were held last Saturday at Palo Alto

Parker H. S. Girls Win Net Tilt with Lindblom

Parker High school's girl tennis team swept through Lindblom's girl team yesterday afternoon, 3 to 0, on the Hamilton park clay. Summaries:

SINGLES—Holbrook, Parker, defeated Kuglis, Lindblom, 6—0, 6—1; Randall, Parker, defeated E. Nickman, Lindblom, 6—2, 6—7.

DOUBLES—Taylor and Clark, Parker, defeated F. Nickman and Zinaciah, Lindblom, 6—3, 6—2.

HUGHES TO SHOOT ON U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM

Frank Hughes of Mobridge, S. D., one of the best amateur shots in the country, who had been denied recognition for selection on the American Olympic team without apparent reason, will be a member of the trap shooting squad which will compete in the world's games in Paris, France, starting on June 21 and continuing through June 29.

While it had been learned from various sources that the American Olympic officials refused to consider Hughes on the ground of professionalism, it is known that the shooter carried his case to Col. Robert M. Thompson, president of the American Olympic committee. Hughes had letters and affidavits to prove that he is a simon pure amateur and has won his case, according to authentic information obtained yesterday.

Although Hughes has been barred from consideration as a member of the American team, chiefly on the ground of professionalism, it is also known the South Dakotan was being legislated against for other reasons. The fact that he chewed tobacco and was consequently not fit to appear before dukes and lords was one of the points raised against his selection, according to the east, which wanted the entire representation on the team.

Last year Hughes was the second highest amateur in the country and for several seasons has been rated among the leading amateurs both at single and double targets. He is a competitor of the highest rank and should be a valuable asset to the American team.

TEN LOCAL H. S. TEAMS TO ENTER STAGG GAMES

Entry of ten local high schools in the national interscholastic track and field meet, which will be held at University of Chicago May 30 and 31, is assured, according to Bruce MacFarlane, student manager of the classic which is expected to draw 2,000 entries from coast to coast.

Lane, Austin, Calumet, Schurz, Lake View, Fenger, Tilden, Hyde Park, Deerfield, and University High are sure contenders for the crown, and Senn and several other local schools have signified their intention of entering representatives. Among these schools Lane and Hyde Park offer athletes who insure their institutions of representation in the finals.

SENN BESTS LOYOLA ACADEMY.

Senn High school track team took a dual meet from Loyola academy on the parochial school's field yesterday, 73 to 22, winning firsts in nine out of eleven events. Loyola won the pole vault and high jump, while Senn scored all points in the low hurdles, 440 and 880.

Today's standard

TEN or fifteen years ago typewriters were less common. Buyers were less well informed. Many were purchasing their first typewriter. Today they know better. They have learned to buy more shrewdly. They have learned to "Compare the Work".

Yes; compare the work! That is the standard of today and the slogan of the Royal. In the eyes of the business world this straightforward, above-board challenge of the Royal is winning new friends every week. Royal users know it. Royal sales prove it. Can you afford to deny the Royal its day in court? Compare the work. Telephone for an immediate demonstration.

ENGINEER SCHOOL GRADUATES FIND BUSINESS SLUMP

BY SCRUTATOR.

The situation confronting graduates of engineering schools at their approaching commencements affords an interesting insight on the general state of business.

It conforms to the other facts and figures. It shows how the dead hand of an unscientific tax system is slowing down the growth of the country's industrial plants.

It demonstrates the difference, noted before in this column, between highly regulated industries financed by new methods, such as public utilities, and those industries which are under a more primitive capitalistic régime, in which the inidividuality of the entrepeneur is ralatively a more important factor.

That our system of taxation and the later phases of our adventures in governmental control bear heavier on the new industry than the established concern is also shown.

A large per cent of them go into the service of public utilities, usually big corporations financed by bond issues or by sale of stock to small investors, who are not penalized by surtaxes.

These corporations have attained a stability that makes them less sensitive to the ups and downs of the business cycle than concerns which employ relatively more labor and less capital and have a more rapid turnover.

While all business is interlocked, and, to quote the I. W. W. maxim, "an injury to one is the concern of all," it is a fact that several differentials exist in the responsiveness of the various industries to the general trend.

In the boom period after the war, with rising prices of labor and materials, many public utilities were hard hit, especially those having to do with transportation. They could not raise their rates to conform with the price movement. Today, with prices manifesting a sag, they are relatively better off. In fact, the utilities generally have seldom been in better shape.

They are able to maintain the cadet engineering staffs and pursue their research work.

The curve of employment for mechanical engineers follows the price and business cycle closer than the curve of employment for electrical engineers. It is more of a short swing affair. This is because so much of mechanical engineering is concerned with new construction, new installations, and extension of plant.

It looks as if Secretary Mellon is being vindicated. There is no doubt that the effect of high surtaxes, for a time, stimulated industrial development in some lines by inducing corporations to retain their profits and reinvest them, rather than pay them out in dividends subject to the heavy personal levies.

Such a policy was notable in the copper industry and led to overdevelopment. It may be that we are nearing the end of these "internal expansions." It is unnecessary to repeat the demonstrations showing how the high surtaxes kept money out of new ventures and forced it into tax exempts.

Civil engineers are in even less demand than mechanical engineers. This is to be expected. It is even more a pioneering section of the profession. Contractors figure largely as employers of civil engineers. They are rapid turnover entrepreneurs. The civil engineer is the advance man of new enterprise and civilization.

Only in the socialized business of highway construction, itself profoundly stimulated by the demand for tax exempt bonds, is there now a great call for civil engineering graduates.

Some corporations are reported to be curtailing their experimental work. This seems rather strange. It would seem that when stuff is harder to sell the incentive to improve quality and lower cost would operate more powerfully than on a rising market, when it is easy to sell anything.

Three Metal Refining Companies to Merge

New York, May 20.—Formation of the Federated Metals corporation which will absorb the business of the Great Western Smelting and Refining company of Chicago and San Francisco, the Duquesne Reduction company of Pittsburgh, and B. Lissberger & Co. of New York, was announced today. The three companies are refiners and sellers of secondary metals, the Lissberger interests including the Union Smelting and Refining company, Trenton Smelting and Refining company, and the Eagle Smelting and Refining works.

Charles M. Schwab will be a director of the new corporation, which will have 245,761 shares of no par value stock and $4,000,000 fifteen year 7 per cent convertible bonds which will be offered at par.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS ELECTED.

A. A. Noonan and E. Vail Stebbins of New York, and F. H. Ely of Chicago were elected to membership on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

Don't Spread the Butter On Too Thin!

You can't taste the butter if you put too little of it on your bread. Advertisers who attempt to cover the whole United States with two or three magazines are spreading their butter on too thin. This is particularly true in the South where magazine circulations are small. For instance, the total circulation of a large weekly in ten Southern states with a population of over 20,000,000 people is only 178,000. It is impossible to reach the great Southern market with such a small circulation.

To Cover the South It Is Necessary To Advertise in Southern Newspapers

Newspapers are more of a social institution in the South. Furthermore, Southern newspapers reach into every nook and cranny of the Southland and advertisers who put their messages in Southern newspapers get their story over definitely to great groups of people of the same traditions, same ideas, same social customs and the same buying habits.

Advertisers can reach the Southern market at a low advertising cost. The rate per line per thousand population is much lower in the South than in the Northern states.

A comparison between the five large states of New York, New Jersey, Minnesota, Iowa and Connecticut (with a total population of about 20,000,000) and ten Southern states with the same population shows that it costs 66c per line per thousand to reach, with an advertising message, the people in the Northern states mentioned, whereas it costs only 14c per line to reach the people in ten Southern states.

It costs only about one-fifth as much to advertise in the South, to accomplish the same results, as it does in the East and North.

The South Is a Rich and Prosperous Market —Can Be Reached at Low Cost

With 30c cotton, little unemployment and diversified farming and manufacturing, the South is no longer the poor country it used to be before the Great War. It now has good roads, good schools, cheap water power and a new spirit. Its banks are running over with money.

With the largest group of native-born Americans in the United States, it can, thru mass psychology, be easily influenced by the advertiser; and it offers one of the greatest markets for advertised products in the United States.

Plan an intensified campaign in the South for this Fall. Write to Mr. Walter Johnson, Secretary of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, Chattanooga, Tenn., or to any of the following papers:

BONUS ENACTED, BUSINESS FINDS IT NOT SO BAD

BY O. A. MATHER.

Passage of the soldiers' bonus bill was accepted with something akin to equanimity by business and finance yesterday. True, that part of Wall street which centers in the stock market tried to whip itself into a rage, but this failed of any real result.

Disgruntled professional speculators started the day by selling stocks heavily. But this show of disgust and alarm evaporated when low prices invited buying. Alternate rallies and declines again gave evidence that Wall street doesn't indulge its anger or disappointment at the expense of its purse. Taking the stock market as a whole, the net result of the day was a decline o fabout a point, which is not more than has occurred on other occasions of late. The bond market, including the Liberty issues, gave no sign of unsettlement.

Opinions Seem to Change.

In fact, it was noticeable later in the day that the same interests that all along have inveighed most strongly against the bonus and have predicted the most dire results, now are minimizing any untoward effects of the measure. First, there was a somewhat grudging admission that this country is rich and powerful enough to carry the bonus burden, although accompanied with fears that reduction in taxation will be hampered.

Then came Secretary Mellon's statement that the bonus should have little effect on business conditions and would not prevent a reduction in income taxes this year. Next was a statement attributed to Senator Smoot to the effect the tax bill will be put into such shape in conference as to win the President's approval.

No Drain on Treasury.

Finally, the discovery was made that the bonus will impose no heavy and immediate drain on the treasury. It was pointed out that the first year's cash expenditure will be small, that payments received from Great Britain on its war debt will be $160,000,000 annually for the next ten years, or considerably more than the estimated $114,000,000 a year required for the bonus, and that the Dawes reparations plan may be adopted by Europe and bring a revival in trade even before the bonus payments become operative.

Altogether, with the contest over the bonus definitely ended, both Wall and La Salle streets were able at the end of the day to dismiss thoughts of disaster and to grow almost cheerfu again.

A. T. & T. Offers Stock.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company is close to being a "billion dollar" stock corporation. It announced yesterday that stockholders may subscribe for about $150,000,000 additional stock, which is a portion of a $250,000,000 increase authorized last year, when total capital was increased to $1,000,000,000. The new stock will be sold at par to stockholders of record June 10 in the ratio of one new share for each five shares held.

This financing will permit the company to carry on its expansion program, with no further financing for a considerable future period. President H. B. Thayer stated that 3,200,000 telephones have been added to the nation-wide Bell system in the last five years, that the increase in 1923 was the largest in the company's history, and that the demand for service continues unabated. The new stock may be paid for in installments covering eight months.

L. H. Gilmer.

M. C. H.—The L. H. Gilmer company has been in business for over twenty years. It manufactures belting, conveyors, tapes, straps, webbing, transmission lining, and heavy textiles for other mechanical purposes, as well as heavy cloth for men's semi-soft collars. It is issuing $600,000 first mortgage ten year 7 per cent bonds secured by a closed first mortgage on all land, buildings, and manufacturing equipment, appraised at a sound depreciated value of $1,250,697, or over twice the amount of this bond issue. These bonds constitute the company's only funded debt. Net tangible assets are equal to $3,399 for each $1,000 bond. Net earnings for the last six calendar years, before depreciation, have averaged $133,989, or about 3.19 times the maximum annual interest requirements for these bonds. For the last two years these earnings averaged $181,196, or over 4.3 times such interest requirements. A sinking fund is provided which is capable of retiring over 50 per cent of this issue prior to maturity. These bonds are issued to reduce current liabilities and to provide additional working capital. These bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

Wabash Railway.

J. L. B., Fond du Lac, Wis.—Wabash Railway company common stock is $100 par value. It never has paid a dividend. There is $64,202,325 outstanding. It is preceded by $66,837,600 preferred A and $7,453,042 preferred B stocks. Five quarterly payments of 1 per cent each were paid on the preferred A from Jan. 1917, through April 1918. None since and none on preferred B. In 1915 the common sold as high as 17½, but has not since reached that figure, the highest being 17⅜ on March 20, 1924. The low for that period was 3⅛ in 1916. This stock appears to be about a hopeless speculation.

The New York Times.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—In line with prevalent financial expectation of the preceding afternoon, the stock exchange responded to the senate's vote on the soldiers' bonus by an abrupt decline of prices. The movement of prices was, however, in some ways peculiar.

For the industrial shares, which have been active in the recent speculative fluctuations, opening prices marked in numerous instances an overnight decline of two points; but in most of them this initial loss represented the whole decline of the day. There was a quick inrush of buying orders at these low figures, with the result that several of the weakest shares recovered 1 to 2 points.

Conflicting speculative influences were at work today in foreign exchange as in the other markets; but the franc was apparently left without support. Its decline from 5.47½c to 5.24¼c brought it to a price only slightly above the exact middle ground between the 3.42c figure of March 8 and the 6.85 of April 23.

Year ago..............................82,000 Previous year.......................7,293,162

Chicago stocks were again weak yesterday and generally professional in tone. Stewart Warner made a new low for the year of 53½ at the opening but with inside support climbed to 55 at the close, a net loss of 2 points for the day. Armour Leather preferred dropped 5⅞ to 54½. Yellow Manufacturing, selling ex-dividend 41 2-3, was ⅞ lower. Both the Yellow companies declared dividends in advance for the next three months yesterday. Union Carbide lost a point and Boone Woolen Mills was off ⅝. On small sales, Crane common was 5 points lower and Chicago Nipple A declined 2½. Motor Coach preferred gained 1½ and Pines Winterfront, American Shipbuilding, and American Public Service preferred advanced a point each.

Are You This Man?

This thrifty and successful man wants to make a really effective provision for his wife and children in event of premature death. But he does not know how to go about it.

He has property and life insurance. But that will not take the place of himself and his own watchful care for the family. Only another mind can do that; a mind trained in finance, at the same time sensible and sympathetic, absolutely trustworthy.

He is invited to bring these problems to our Trust Department.

Our trust officers have had experience with a wide range of family situations, can suggest testamentary provisions which not only safeguard the property but also provide wise and helpful guidance for the family.

We do not give legal advice or write wills; these are functions of a lawyer. But we have a wealth of experience which is freely offered and without obligation.

DAY'S GRAIN NEWS IS FAVORABLE TO WHEAT HOLDERS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

News affecting wheat values from home and from Europe were more in favor of holders. There was free buying of May and July at Winnipeg by exporters who were removing hedges against overnight sales abroad, and that market gained persistently on Chicago, the May spread at the last being only ½c, while the July was only 1⅝c under. Net gains here at the close were ¼c, while Winnipeg was up ⅝@1c.

May corn acted tight early and sold up to 78⅝c, or 2c over the July, only to break 1⅜c from the high when confirmation was obtained on charters for three boats which will bring corn from Duluth for delivery on contracts here. The finish was unchanged to ⅜c lower. Oats were unchanged to ⅜c lower. Oats were unchanged to ⅜c lower and rye unchanged to ¼c higher.

Expect Smaller World's Crop.

Broomhall estimates the world's wheat crop will be much smaller this season than in 1923. This confirms the views recently expressed by a leading Chicago house. In addition estimates are now being made that Canada has only about 60,000,000 bu wheat left for export, and No. 1 northern at Winnipeg sold at 1c over May during the day, compared with ½c over on Monday with a good demand. It was estimated that sales of Manitobas for export in all positions for the day were around 1,000,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d higher. Crop reports from the southwest were generally favorable, but from the states east of the Mississippi river were decidedly spotted. May finished here at $1.04¾, July at $1.06⅜@1.06½, and September at $1.07½.

Commission houses had July for sale at $1.07 and September at $1.08, which checked the advance. There was buying of July here against sales at Winnipeg, and some selling of September here against purchases of October in the northwest.

Duluth Corn to Chicago.

Around 1,000,000 bu cash corn which is held at Duluth and hedged by sales of futures here will be brought down for delivery on future contracts. This includes the grain reported chartered late Monday. Shorts and cash houses bought May early and put it up to 2c over the July, but the market broke sharply toward the last with the finish at 77½c. July was 76½c, and September 75⅜c at the last. December sold at 68@68½c, and closed at 68c.

Basis on spot corn here was slightly easier with receipts 32 cars. Sales of 75,000 bu were made to go to store. The eastern demand remains slow and local handlers bought back 40,000 bu during the day at equal to 2@3c under the May.

Oats Close at Bottom.

Trade in oats was not large and the market in the main followed corn, and closed at the bottom with May at 47c. May was bought and July sold early at 2¾c difference. Chicago cash interests bought May at Minneapolis. Shipping demand remains slow, with receipts 41 cars. Basis on spot was ¼@½c lower.

Rye was dull but slightly firmer with wheat and on talk of a poor crop outlook in Russia. Export demand is limited.

Provisions were dull and easier after being slightly firmer early. Lard closed unchanged to 5c lower and bellies unchanged to 2½c lower, while ribs were unchanged to 2½c higher. Deliveries on May contracts were 200,000 lbs lard. Prices follow:

NEWS OF THE CROPS

Foreign crop reports show some improvement. Broomhall's summary said crops in western Europe are growing well with warm weather. An official Hungarian report suggests an average yield of wheat. In Roumania the wheat crop is estimated at 116,000,000 bu, suggesting 16,000,000 bu for export. New Spanish crop is progressing favorably. Ukraine crops estimated to provide an exportable surplus of 4,606,000 tons, compared with 3,500,000 tons last year. Rains are reported in Australia, which are favorable.

Broomhall, in his international wheat review, said: "Present indications from crop reports collected throughout Europe are for a much smaller world's wheat crop this year."

Fred S. Lewis of Chicago, who was in Winnipeg yesterday, wired that the highest estimate on the 1924 Canadian crop so far was 350,000,000 bu, or about 50,000,000 bu less than last year's harvest. As seeding is not completed in the northwest, the estimate was regarded as somewhat premature.

"Nearly all wheat seen today is in promising condition," wired George M. Le Count to Stein, Alstrin & Co., from Topeka, Kas. "Some thin fields, but in general crop is good stand and color. Earliest fields jointing. Oats coming fine. Earliest corn being cultivated."

Persistent rumors are current in Europe of a partial rye crop failure in Russia. The London Grain, Seed and Oil Reporter says they seem to be partially confirmed by the marked falling off in exports from that country.

Wheat seeding in the province of Saskatchewan is 87 per cent completed, according to an official report. Thirty-five per cent of the crop is showing above the ground, and although the season is backward, good weather has been experienced for seeding operations.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 750,000 to 1,000,000 bu wheat were estimated made in all positions, largely Manitobas, but included 40,000 bu hard winter via the gulf. Early reports suggested that 70,000 to 80,000 bu winters had been sold.

Chicago handlers sold 20,000 bu wheat, 20,000 bu corn, 45,000 bu oats and 1,000 bu barley to the domestic trade, with 75,000 bu in corn and 100,000 bu oats to go to store. Deliveries on May contracts were 93,000 bu wheat, 60,000 bu corn, 102,000 bu oats and 1,000 bu rye.

An easier undertone prevailed for hard winters in the local sample market, with No. 2 hard quoted at 1@7c over May at the last. No. 2 red was nominally 2@3c over. Receipts, 15 cars. Outside markets were unchanged to 1c higher, with Kansas City showing the most advance.

Offerings of cash corn in all markets were small. Basis here was steady to ½c lower, with No. 2 mixed 1½c and yellow and white 2½c over May, with No. 2 mixed ½c under, yellow and white 1½c under to 1c over. Receipts, 32 cars. Outside markets were unchanged to 2c higher, with St. Louis reporting a good demand and leading the advance.

Cash oats prices were unchanged to ½c lower, with the basis ½c lower at 1¾c over May for No. 2 white, and ½@1c over for No. 3 white. Receipts, 41 cars.

LONDON WOOL AUCTION.

LONDON, May 20.—The wool auction series closed today, with trading quiet and prices in favor of the buyers. Offerings numbered 8,260 bales, and while the tone generally was steady there were frequent withdrawals due to the high limits asked. Compared with the rates of the March auction the prices of merinos and medium crossbreds in the series just closed were 5@10 per cent lower. Fine and coarse crossbreds and Cape of Good Hope and Natal were par to 5 per cent below and Punta Arenas were 5 per cent under. The home trade during the series bought 44,000 bales, the continent 27,000 bales, and 34,000 bales were held over.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

There is an impression in the trade that wheat prices should work higher, especially at Winnipeg, where net gains of ⅝c to 1c were made during the day. At the same time Minneapolis closed ½c lower. Regular influences count for nothing under present conditions. Those who are long take profits on all hard spots. The buying at the last was not as good as of late. A narrow market is expected.

The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was taken up in the house at Washington at 4:15 p. m. yesterday. Debate on the bill is to be limited to fifteen hours. This will take the greater part of the week before the bill can be brought to a vote.

Duluth shipped 433,000 bu corn Monday and is expected to load a boat or two today. One of the boats under charter to load corn there for Chicago is expected to carry 444,000 bu and another more than 300,000 bu. In all 1,250,000 bu or more corn is expected to come to Chicago to fill May sales. The corn was hedged here and it is easier to ship the corn here for delivery than buy in the May.

Illinois shippers are offering more corn to arrive at prices slightly above the market. In a few days a larger run of corn is expected.

An export broker estimates that Canada has only about 60,000,000 bu wheat left to sell from the old crop. In view of this the belief was expressed that with well over 100,000,000 bu yet to be obtained by Europe to take care of its requirements, the carryover at the end of the season might not be anywhere near as large as many in the trade have expected.

Hereafter the Canadian crop year on wheat will date from Aug. 1 instead of Sept. 1, as has been the practice for a number of years. Government statistics will be compiled on this basis.

"Canadian wheat crop for 1923 was 75,000,000 bu in excess of that of 1922," said Bartlett-Frazier company. "So far this season inspections have been 99,000,000 bu in excess of those of the previous year, or 24,000,000 bu in excess of the difference in the crop. This shows that farm stocks are at least approximately that much smaller than a year ago, while visible stocks are 12,000,000 bu smaller. The big surplus of production has disappeared and Canadian primary markets have less wheat to handle and hedge the balance of the season than they had to take care of last year after this time."

Supplies of hay here were small, with only 15 cars timothy received, most of which was common, but it sold well. Prairie was in better request owing to scarcity of timothy, but only 1 car arrived. No straw offered. It would sell well. Prices follow:

Greenebaum Bonds-100% Safe Since 1855

Three Generations

For over two-thirds of a century the name "Greenebaum" has represented the very highest degree of safety for investors in First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds.

The present high standing of Greenebaum Bonds is directly due to the conservative policies established in 1855 by Elias Greenebaum, the Founder. The second and third generations of the House of Greenebaum are today adhering strictly to the time-tested policies laid down by its Founder more than 69 years ago.

Greenebaum conservatism and experience assure complete protection for your invested funds.

Gold Debentures

6½% Series of 1924

Dated May 1, 1924 Due May 1, 1974

Interest payable May 1st and November 1st. The Company will pay the normal Federal Income Tax, deductible at the source, up to 2%, and will refund upon application within sixty days, the Pennsylvania Personal Property Tax to the extent of the present rate of four mills, and the Massachusetts Income Tax, not exceeding 6% per annum on income derived from the Debentures.

THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

From the letter of Mr. Frank T. Hulswit, President of the Company, we summarize as follows:

Business and Territory The Company controls and operates properties furnishing a diversified public utility service in ninety-seven prosperous and growing communities located in the heart of the Middle West. These are situated principally in Iowa and Illinois, two of the wealthiest states in the Union from an agricultural and industrial standpoint. The combined population of the territory served has grown from 340,000 in 1900 to over 600,000 at present.

Earnings Consolidated Net Earnings for the twelve months ended March 31, 1924, exceeded two times the annual interest charges on the entire funded indebtedness of the Company, including this issue of Debentures, and all annual prior charges. After deducting all annual charges prior to interest on these Debentures, the balance available was over ten times the annual interest requirements.

Equity These Debentures will be followed by 198,998 shares of Preferred Stocks, and 230,625 shares of Common Stocks. The Preferred Stocks have paid dividends regularly since issuance. The Common Stocks are paying dividends at the rate of $1.60 per annum and extra dividends. At present market quotations these securities represent an equity of over $20,000,000.

All legal matters in connection with the issue of these Debentures will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop & Stimson of New York, and for the Company by Messrs. Humes, Buck & Smith of New York.

These Debentures are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of proceedings by counsel at 95 and accrued interest, to yield about 6.90%

Territory

In considering investment values of Joint Stock Land Banks, next in importance to able management, is territory.

DALLAS JOINT STOCK LAND BANK operates in the heart of the famous "black waxy" belt; in its loaning field is situated about one-twelfth of the total farm wealth of the United States.

We are closely in touch with the management and operations of this bank, and believe the territory served one of the best in the country. Its 5% Bonds, due 1963, are selling at 100 and interest to yield 5%. We recommend them as an excellent "tax free" investment. We shall be glad to send you a descriptive circular or talk them over with you personally.

Exempt from Federal, State and local taxes and yields 5%.

SHEEP — Western range lambs, yesterday	14.25@15.75
One month ago	13.50@14.90
One year ago	13.25@15.25

After a steady to strong start yesterday's hog market closed weak to 10c below best time of the morning, being the first decline in practically a week. Best sold at $7.75, against $7.40 the previous Tuesday. General average dropped 5c to $7.55, against $7.25 a week ago and $7.30 a year ago. Receipts at 23,000 were comparatively small, but eastern shippers purchased only 1,500, against 6,580 a week ago. The letup in outside orders had a weakening effect. Packers purchased indifferently late in the day. Quality graded poorer, with pigs and underweights plentiful. Pigs closed 15@25c lower.

Several thousand fewer cattle arrived yesterday than were expected, but Monday's receipts totaled second largest of the year at 24,885. Few of the 9,000 received yesterday were of choice quality, nothing selling above $11.25. Prices ruled strong to 15c higher, with butcher stock selling well. Calves advanced mostly 50c, some choice vealers reaching $12.00 on shipping account, with few to packers above $11.00. Native beef steers sold at $9.00@10.50 for a good many fair to choice. Cows and heifers went largely at $6.75@8.50. Feeding steers in good request at strong prices.

Aged Sheep Slump.

In spite of the smallest sheep receipts of the year, buyers discriminated against aged stock, which slumped fully 15@25c, while lambs sold slowly at steady prices. Extreme heavy mutton ewes were neglected at the full decline. Supplies of bovine stock were hardly sufficient to test prices, less than 4,000 remaining on sale after directs were subtracted. Receipts the first two days this week at 17,000 were smallest since last summer for Monday and Tuesday combined, and 11,000 smaller than a week ago.

Wool lambs were absent, while shorn, due to quality, sold downwards from $15.55, with bulk at $14.75@15.25, packers refusing to pay above the latter price. Shorn ewes sold at $8.25 for handy weights, while the 200 pounders brought $6.00.

Seven western markets received 43,000 cattle, 32,000 hogs, and 26,000 sheep, against 38,000 cattle, 90,000 hogs, and 32,000 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 46,000 cattle, 120,000 hogs, and 44,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 11,000 cattle, 21,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, against 13,013 cattle, 25,049 hogs, and 9,876 sheep the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1924: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—The gray goods market was again apathetic, although there was some business reported in most of the standard numbers. The most of the trading was for spots. The 60x64, 5.35 yards to the pound, was generally quoted at 8⅝ cents, although second hands were reported to have sold some at ⅝. For 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, 10 cents, and ⅛ higher were heard, with 10¼ cents being asked for contracts. The 72x76, 4.25 yards to the pound, 11½ was the price and the 80 squares, 4.00 yards to the pound, were 13½ cents for spots and 13¼ cents for contracts.

NEW YORK.—Inquiry for burlap was somewhat higher in the local market, and this, together with slightly easier cables from Calcutta, gave a soft tone to all quotations except spot heavyweights, which advanced from 7.75c to 7.80c and 7.85c. Spot 8s softened 5 points to 5.70c. June arrivals were quoted 5.75c and 7.75c for the light and heavy weights, while July and September shipments were available at 5.70c for lights and 7.60c for heavies.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter prices here were unchanged to ½c higher while New York and Philadelphia moved up ½c. Boston was unchanged. Offerings were not large and demand slightly better, although the undertone taken as a whole was somewhat unsettled. Cheese prices at New York were reduced ¼@½c, and some shading was noted at Chicago. Demand was generally reported as slow.

Fresh eggs prices advanced ¼c with a good demand, and fancy northern stock is said to have brought a premium. Receipts 43,609 cases. Sales of 80 cars refrigerator standards for December delivery were made at 29¾@29⅝c.

POLLY TEA ROOM FOR NORTH PART OF WRIGLEY BLDG.

BY AL CHASE.

Another tearoom for the near north side. Approximately 8,000 square feet of space in the lower level of the north section of the Wrigley building has been leased for ten years by the Polly Tearoom company, through Winston & Co. A restaurant seating 500 is planned, which will make it one of the largest of its kind in the city. This will be Chicago's fifth "Polly," the others being in the loop. A. Friedman is president and Mrs. Susan C. Palmer is secretary and treasurer of the company.

About twelve years ago Gust Koclanes bought a block of north frontage on Madison, between Austin and Mason, for about $18,000. He sold seventy-five feet of it in the center of the block four or five years ago for $15,000. Yesterday he sold the southwest corner of Madison and Mason, 147x176, to the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee for an undisclosed buyer, for $85,000. Tutules & Dignan were brokers.

Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick Buys.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick bought the old house just west of her Lake Shore drive residence, on the south side of Bellevue place, 18½x108, from Katherine S. Cramer, for $40,000. According to Krenn & Dato the purchase was merely to even up her holdings, as her Oak street frontage was slightly more than on Bellevue.

The eighteen apartments at the northeast corner of Oakwood and Vincennes were sold by George Schindler to Margaret Stevens for a reported $100,000, subject to $78,000. Joseph Jay Miller & Co. represented both parties.

The Depositors' State bank, now in its new quarters at 47th and Ashland, has sold its old property at Ashland and Gross to Helen Schymanski, manufacturer of patent medicines, for an indicated $130,000.

Buys South Shore Residence.

Mortimer B. Flynn, coal dealer, has bought the residence at 6726 South Shore drive from Francis L. Schreiner for an indicated $75,000, subject to $30,000, and will live there. J. E. Clark of J. L. Hess & Co. was broker.

Here are five $80,000 flat sales, all by different brokers: Eighteen apartments at the northwest corner of Addison and Racine, Dr. C. E. Boynton to Michael Nolan, brokers T. J. O'Donnell & Co.; twelve at the southwest corner of Wilson and Sacramento, Charles Holt to Franz Schmidt, through Martens & Stenberg; twelve, southeast corner 52d and Harper, Robert Rogers to Mrs. C. S. Richards, Carroll, Schendorf & Boenicke; twelve, northeast corner Calumet and 80th, Maslov & Feldman to Esther Goldberg, S. E. Davidson, attorney; Charles A. Gutsell & Co., brokers; twenty, 4549 Michigan, Eureka Talking Machine company to Jacob Bass, through E. B. Woolf & Co.

The nineteen flats at 5118 Calumet were sold by Nathan Schiff to Louis and William Weinstein for a reported $81,000, subject to $54,000, through Isador Ferguson & Co.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Thirty-two stocks declined yesterday to new low prices for the year, including such favorites as United States Steel common at 95, Baldwin at 104⅝, Studebaker at 30½, General Motors at 12⅝, Stewart-Warner at 54, Anaconda at 28⅝, Dupont at 112, United States Industrial Alcohol at 61¼, and United Drug at 73, several of these closing a point or so above their bottom figures of the day. In addition, a number of stocks duplicated their previous minimum prices, including American Telephone, which dropped more than 2 points.

On the initial burst of selling Dupont and United States Cast Iron Pipe broke 6 points each, while Baldwin, American Can, General Electric, and several others dropped 3 points or more. When bear traders discovered, however, that they had failed to dislodge much "long" stock, a brisk covering movement set in which wiped out about half the losses. Inability or unwillingness of operators on the long side to follow through on the rally, encouraged another wave of selling by shorts in the early afternoon, during which Steel, Baldwin, and a few others touched their low prices.

Outstanding was the movement of the shares of the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Nickel Plate. For the day the net gain of the Chesapeake and Ohio was 1¾ points, while that of the Nickel Plate was 1¼. As the result of the strength of those shares there were rumors purporting to explain the cause of the rises. Up until a week ago Chesapeake and Ohio had been advancing on the report that there would be an increase in the dividend rate, but the meeting of the directors dispelled any such illusion, because they voted another semi-annual dividend at the 4 per cent annual rate. The new advance was attributed to reports of a consolidation of the Nickel Plate and the Chesapeake and Ohio. According to this story, the shares were to be exchanged share for share, and a part of the plan would be the increase of the dividend on the Nickel Plate shares to 7 per cent. It has been generally known for some time that the Van Sweringens have under contemplation a consolidation of their two properties, but they have done their best to keep the terms of such a consolidation and its date a secret.

New Orleans, Texas and Mexico advanced 3 points to 121½, also a new high for the year, in reflection of the declaration of a special cash dividend of 18½ per cent in connection with the acquisition of the control of that road by the Missouri Pacific, but it forfeited 2 points of its gain on profit taking.

Curb securities yielded, the oils showing heavier declines than the industrials, which moved within a narrow range. The decline in the Standard Oil group was featured by a five point drop in Prairie Oil and Gas, but most of which was recovered. Standard of Nebraska lost 4 points on the day, while Penn Mex Fuel, Illinois Pipe Line and other issues were 1 to 3¾ points off at the close. The heaviest trading was in Standard Oil of Indiana which closed fractionally lower at 56½, on transactions exceeding 14,000 shares.

Bankers disposed of $15,000,000 Great Northern 5s due in 1973, at a price of 92½ to yield 5.45 per cent, without recourse to a public offering. Proceeds will be used to reimburse the road's treasury. Preparations have been completed for offering of the New York Central equipment issue, which awaits only the authorization of the road's officials.

A new issue of $1,000,000 United Light and Power company 6½% gold debentures, series of 1924, dated May 1, 1924 and due May 1, 1974, will be offered at 95 and accrued interest, to yield about 6.90 per cent by Conbright & Co.

An issue of $1,200,000 5 per cent farm loan bonds of the San Antonio Joint Stock Land bank (Texas and Oklahoma) will be offered today at 100 and accrued interest to yield 5 per cent. The bonds are due in 1953 and are not redeemable before May 1, 1933.

Crack Trains Show Perfect Time Record

A 100 per cent on time record was maintained by the Chicago and North western railway on all important passenger trains during the entire month of April, it was announced yesterday. Among trains listed as not having been late during the month were the Overland Limited, Los Angeles Limited, Omaha-Sioux City and Chicago Special, and trains 15 and 16 between Chicago and Des Moines. All Chicago-Twin City trains and Chicago-Milwaukee trains were also included in the list.

COTTON MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 20.—COTTON—Uncertainty as to the effects of bonus legislation on general business reflected by the weakness of stocks was held largely responsible for nervous and irregular fluctuations today. After selling off to 28.60c at the start, July rallied to 29.25c, but eased again, closing at 29.00c. The final tone of the market was steady at net advances of 1 to 15 points. Prices follow:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.	Last year.
May	31.55	30.95	31.47	31.30	28.45

Spot, quiet and unchanged; sales on the spot, 171 bales; to arrive, 101; receipts, 3,646; stock, 113,315; low middling, 28.70c; middling, 30.95c; good middling, 32.07c.

Opportunity

One of the most, or most, prominent manufacturers of Motor Trucks in the country, is seeking a distributor for the Chicago territory.

We may say, safely, that this franchise, under proper direction, has and will continue as the recognized LARGEST PRODUCER OF VOLUME BUSINESS IN CHICAGO, WITH THE CONSEQUENT LARGEST PROFITS to the distributor.

Over 3,000 of this make truck are now operating in Chicago territory—volume of replacement parts is consequently large and exceedingly profitable. The Service department has also always shown an excellent profit.

We are conservative in stating that for the man or men who can furnish the necessary amount of capital required, this opportunity is one that is seldom equaled in value.

Our representative will be in Chicago for the purpose of meeting all interested parties. Address G F 358, Tribune.

Are You Watching the TREND of PRICES?

ARE YOU buying materials now that might be purchased to better advantage a little later on? Perhaps there are others that should be accumulated at once for protection against a rising price trend.

A broad swing of the commodity markets may spell appreciation on one hand or heavy inventory loss on the other. It may easily double the profits for the year—or wipe them out entirely!

It is the business of Babson's Reports to supply the facts on the broad trend of the commodity market together with unbiased information of individual commodities which may for one reason or another be selling out of line.

Can you afford to guess about so important a matter when reliable information may be had at very small cost?

How do you pay your bills abroad?

a question for exporters and importers

The Equitable offers you the opportunity of carrying a checking account with an American bank abroad.

Our London and Paris Offices are complete banks in themselves. You may open an interest-bearing checking account with either or both and pay your foreign bills directly by check.

This will save a considerable sum in interest each year, eliminate the speculation involved in meeting obligations at a future date, establish a strong European credit reference, better advertise your name among overseas business men and banks and insure special facilities and conveniences when you or your representatives are in London or Paris.

The officers of our London and Paris Offices will gladly be your foreign trade advisers and will supply you with trade, credit and other information.

A Better and Bigger Opportunity for Salesmen.

We have just opened two new subdivisions, located on and adjoining the Main-st. station.

Experienced subdivision salesmen can make a very profitable and valuable connection with us at this time.

We will teach a few men of ability, not experienced in real estate salesmanship, the proper method of subdivision selling, by which you can make more money than any similar sales work.

LOVELY SUITES FOR SUMMER AT MARKED REDUCTIONS.

It's mighty nice to be near the lake in summer time; nice for you; nice for your family.

We have a few 2 and 3 room suites that we are offering at comparatively low prices to desirable guests who appreciate a home atmosphere.

They are very large, roomy, light, and furnished in perfect taste. Each suite includes sun parlor and breakfast room. And, of course, maid service, ice, gas, heat, and light are free.

Come in by all means and inspect them. Other smaller apartments as low as $115.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

SALES AGENT.
Exceptional Opportunity.

A well established New York company seeks a responsible individual or organization capable of directing a force of salesmen to market a high grade specialty to the grocery and delicatessen trade as well as to hotels, restaurants, institutions, etc.

This specialty is the only one of its kind on the market. Its sale is noncompetitive. It produces an absolutely pure food product consumed in the United States to the extent of over two hundred millions of dollars. It is a provable constant money maker for the buyer, increasing his immediate profits to 300 per cent. It is the best business builder from every angle ever offered to this trade.

This is a splendid opportunity for a sales agent to earn in excess of $25,000 a year on an exclusive territorial contract. The amount of capital required is commensurate with the extent of territory desired and is for the purpose of financing office and demonstrators necessary to properly conduct the business. You do not carry stock nor finance accounts. Commissions are advanced on orders. We help you start your organization and work with you until you are on the road to success. Address a detailed application [including telephone number] to A F 48, Tribune.
